Faith and Politics Reinhold Niebuhr, 1968      Religion and the Realist Tradition Jodok Troy, 2013-09-11 This volume picks up a rather uninvested field of international relations theory the influence of religion on Realism as well as the power of Realism to address religious issues in world politics Although classical scholars of Realism rarely mention religion explicitly in their well known work this volume suggests that Realism offers serious ground for taking religion and faith into account as well as evaluating the impact of religion on its theoretical framework how religion and religious worldviews influence and affect the theoretical framework of Realism and how Realism approach religious issues in international relations as a relatively new field of international studies Although international relations scholars now widely deal with issues of religion large portions of the theoretical underpinning are missing In addressing this lack the volume illustrates the possibility of reform and change in Realism Furthermore the chapters reach out to normative statements The contributors offer a theoretical view on religion in international relations in the context of Realism but always connect this with actual real world related political problems The volume takes into account not only classical thinkers and approaches of Realism but also present day authors dealing with ethical and normative questions of international relations in the aftermath of 9 11 Offering a fresh perspective on the influence of religion on international relations theory this work will be of great interest to scholars of religion and international relations international relations theory and political philosophy

Social Ethics in the Making Gary Dorrien, 2011-04-06 In the early 1880s proponents of what came to be called the social gospel founded what is now known as social ethics This ambitious and magisterial book describes the tradition of social ethics one that began with the distinctly modern idea that Christianity has a social ethical mission to transform the structures of society in the direction of social justice Charts the story of social ethics the idea that Christianity has a social ethical mission to transform society from its roots in the nineteenth century through to the present day Discusses and analyzes how different traditions of social ethics evolved in the realms of the academy church and general public Looks at the wide variety of individuals who have been prominent exponents of social ethics from academics and self styled public intellectuals through to pastors and activists Set to become the definitive reference guide to the history and development of social ethics Recipient of a CHOICE Outstanding Academic Title for 2009 award      Political Realism in American Thought John W. Coffey, 1977 Combines a historical and philosophical perspective to examine in detail the concept of political realism as it is developed by Protestant theologian Reinhold Niebuhr diplomat historian George Kennan and political theorist Hans Morgenthau presenting suggestions for lines along which sound political principles may lie      The Annual Review of Women in World Religions Arvind Sharma, Katherine K. Young, 2001-11-01 The Annual Review of Women in World Religions is polymethodic interdisciplinary and multitrade in its approach to the study of women and religion It not only allows the comparative dimension to appear in bolder relief but also helps to establish a dialogue between the two solitudes of humanistic and social scientific studies in the field The book encourages women and men of all beliefs to participate in the on going dialogue that it represents and promotes Volume VI includes the following contributions Reinhold Niebuhr Sin and Contextuality A Re evaluation of the Feminist Critique by Jennifer S Baichwal Silent Resistance A Hindu Child Widow s Lived Experience by Shampa Mazumdar and Sanjoy Mazumdar Gender and Ritual in South East China by Samantha Anderson The Rise of the Mapuche Moon Priestess in Southern Chile by Ana Mariella Bacigalupo and Feminist Historiography Patriarchal Ideology and the Future of Sisterhood A Review Essay of Sisters in Arms Catholic Nuns Through Two Millennia by Jo Ann Kay McNamara by Julie B Miller      The Poetics of Grace: Christian Ethics as Theodicy Jeph Holloway, 2013-04-09 What is God doing about a world marked by conflict and division What about a world in which our technologies promise great good but also threaten our existence What is God doing in a world where the demands for accumulation and acquisition create division and despair Can Christians hope to be of positive influence in a world that does not always support reflect or even understand Christian commitments Christian ethics often raises such questions as these and the possible answers vary widely Paul s Letter to the Ephesians is a tremendous resource for exploring a faithful response to perhaps the toughest question of all what is God doing about evil The role of Christian ethics is to take seriously the challenge that whatever God is doing God calls us to participate in a distinctive task that embraces our own commitments and labors within the divine purpose Ephesians says that God has taken the initiative to pursue that purpose and remarkably offers that we ourselves are part of the answer to the question what is God doing about evil      Christian Realism and the Revival of Public Theology Charles McDaniel, 2025-09-26 Christian Realism and the Revival of Public Theology analyzes Reinhold Niebuhr s The Children of Light and the Children of Darkness 80 years after publication and argues that it provides pertinent lessons for the contemporary era This book considers how Niebuhr s book as well as his other work remains relevant and retains insights for an America which seems increasingly to be losing its moral bearings and political courage The author examines the roots of political polarization in Niebuhr's categories of the children of light and the children of darkness finding it a more useful binary than liberalism vs conservatism for understanding America's culture wars and the growing sense that its political institutions are in terminal decay This book seeks to show how public theology offers resources to foster democratic and moral renewal It concludes by calling for a reinvigorated civil religion to promote unity rather than division This book will appeal to scholars of American politics Christian ethics Christian Realism public theology and American religious history as well as historians of American Christianity

The Political Crisis and Christian Ethics Ronald H. Stone, 2023-09-26
The Political Crisis and Christian Ethics addresses themes in political philosophy in the context of a crisis in democracy after the denial of the 2020 election by the Republican candidate for president The refusal to accept the results of the election divided the electorate and drove the president's followers to fail in their attempted coup attempt in January of 2020 Democracy is defended in Reinhold Niebuhr's writing on politics and in Barack Obama's use of the theologian's thought It is developed further in the political theory of Paul Tillich The themes of just peacemaking are reviewed in Paul Tillich's critique of John Foster Dulles work and in the author's critique of just peacemaking in the work of Glen Stassen Domestically the issues of race inequality ecology and healthcare are addressed from the perspective of prophetic realism The book concludes in terms of Alfred North Whitehead's philosophy of education and religion and a vision of the good president In summary The Political Crisis and Christian Ethics is a volume of American Christian political theory in a period of overcoming the trauma of 2016 with Christian ethics and political philosophy

Religion and Politics in the Contemporary United States R. Marie Griffith, Melani McAlister, 2008-06-09
This collection of essays from a special issue of American Quarterly explores the complex and sometimes contradictory ways that religion matters in contemporary public life Religion and Politics in the Contemporary United States offers a groundbreaking cross disciplinary conversation between scholars in American studies and religious studies The contributors explore numerous modes through which religious faith has mobilized political action They utilize a variety of definitions of politics ranging from lobbying by religious leaders to the political impact of popular culture Their work includes the political activities of a very diverse group of religious believers Christians Jews Muslims Hindus Buddhists and others In addition the book explores the meanings of religion for people who might contest the term those who are spiritual but not religious for example as well as activists who engage symbols of faith and community but who may not necessarily consider themselves members of a specific religion Several essays also examine the meanings of secular identity humanist politics and the complex evocations of civil religion in American life No other book on religion and politics includes anything like the diversity of religions ethnicities and topics that this one does from Mormon political mobilization to attempts at Americanizing Muslims in the post 9/11 United States from Cesar Chavez to James Dobson from interreligious cooperation and conflict over Darfur to the global politics surrounding the category of Hindus and South Asians in the United States

Liberalism forms the dominant political ideology of the modern world but despite its pervasive influence this is the first book length treatment of liberal political thought from a Christian theological perspective Song discusses the different aspects and interpretations of liberalism with reference to the critiques of three twentieth century theologians the American Protestant Reinhold Niebuhr on the liberal progressivist philosophy of history the lesser known Canadian George Grant on the threat of technology to fundamental liberal values as articulated in the recent work of John Rawls and the French Thomist Jacques Maritain on the defence of political pluralism Further to this Song explores the implications of this political theology for the issues in fundamental constitutional theory raised by a bill of rights and judicial review of legislation and concludes with an account of the critical but supportive stance of liberalism Christian theology should take

Christian Ethics and Political Economy in North America Travis Kroeker, 1995-01-17 Kroeker argues that in trying to make their theological ethics relevant to economic policy Christian social ethicists have accepted assumptions that are incompatible with theological beliefs Starting with the Social Gospel movement he discusses the positions of theologian Walter Rauschenbusch and Canadian politician James Shaver Woodsworth He then turns to Christian Realism and compares the views of Reinhold Niebuhr with those of Gregory Vlastos the central figure in the Canadian Fellowship for a Christian Social Order He also examines recent pastoral letters on the economy by the Canadian and US conferences of Roman Catholic bishops In conclusion Kroeker suggests an alternative theological approach based on the classical Christian realism of Augustine that might better address the moral malaise of liberal political economy

Religion and the Liberal State in Niebuhr's Christian Realism Christoph Rohde, 2021-09-02 This book intends to analyze Reinhold Niebuhr's understanding of the state in his Christian Realism Although his overall notion was thoroughly analyzed in different disciplines and respects this specific focus can be diagnosed as a lacuna The task of this book is to develop a hypothesis in terms of under what political social organizational or intellectual context Niebuhr made use of what definition of the state When did he support the extension of state power e.g. in war times during economic crisis and when did he criticize tendencies toward autocratic structures inside Western style democracies

Christianity, Politics, and the Predicament of Evil Bradley B. Burroughs, 2019-06-04 Christianity Politics and the Predicament of Evil overcomes a defining divide in contemporary Protestant political ethics created by two contrasting conceptions of politics The first exemplified in the work of Reinhold Niebuhr construes politics as a matter of statecraft that utilizes the power of government to secure the greatest possible order and justice for society as a whole The second most prominently articulated by Stanley Hauerwas maintains that politics concerns itself with the cultivation of virtue consequently it finds not the well ordered state but the church to be the exemplar of politics Not only illuminating the divide between politics as statecraft and politics as soulcraft but also redeveloping the conceptual space between them this book reconceives politics within a theological framework in which the eschatological City of God rather than the well ordered state or the faithful church functions as the paradigm of political life At the same time it simultaneously recognizes that the existence of evil which corrupts individual wills and social structures inhibits human beings from building the City of God in this world Analyzing criticizing and drawing resources from Niebuhr and Hauerwas as well as looking beyond to Augustine Martin Luther King Jr and others this book specifies the respective roles of soulcraft and statecraft in a political ethic capable of guiding Christians as they witness to God's eschatological intention to establish the City of God in a world currently mired in the predicament of evil Blessed Are the Peacemakers Lisa Sowle Cahill, 2019-03-02 This book is a contribution to the Christian ethics of war and peace It advances peacebuilding as a needed challenge to and expansion of the traditional framework of just war theory and pacifism It builds on a critical reading of historical landmarks from the Bible through Augustine Aquinas the Reformers Christian peace movements and key modern figures like Dietrich Bonhoeffer Reinhold Niebuhr and recent popes Similar to just war theory peacebuilding is committed to social change and social justice but includes some theorists and practitioners who accept the use of force in extreme cases of self defense or humanitarian intervention Unlike just war theorists they do not see the justification of war as part of the Christian mission Unlike traditional pacifists they do see social change as necessary and possible and as such requiring Christian participation in public efforts Cahill argues that transformative Christian social participation is demanded by the gospel and the example of Jesus and can produce the avoidance resolution or reduction of conflicts And yet obstacles are significant and expectations must be realistic Decisions to use armed force against injustice even when they meet the criteria of just war will be ambiguous and tragic from a Christian perspective Regarding war and peace the focus of Christian theology ethics and practice should not be on justifying war but on practical and hopeful interreligious peacebuilding
