Religion And Fertility Arab Christian Muslim Differentials:

Religion and Fertility Joseph Chamie, 1981-04-30 This work is a critical investigation into the relationship between religious affiliation on the one hand and fertility family size preferences and family planning behaviour on the other Dr Chamie works from a set of unique data the 1971 Fertility and Family Planning Survey in Lebanon This survey is not only a national study of Lebanese fertility but also a large scale survey 2 800 people offering the opportunity to study Arab Christian Muslim differentials Lebanon s demographic situation has far greater scientific and practical importance than might be supposed from its relatively small population From observing the important religious communities at different stages of social and economic development Dr Chamie has thus been able to analyse the interacting effects of religion and socio economic development on reproductive behaviour

Birth, Death, and Religious Faith in an English Dissenting Community Albion M. Urdank, 2015-12-17 This study lies at the intersection of three principal areas of social history demography religion and quantitative methods It is a microanalysis of an English population at the level of the Anglican parish during the era of the evangelical revival which includes unusually Protestant dissenters from the Established church in this case Particular Baptists who were moderate Calvinists It goes a step beyond previous studies by giving Anglicans and Dissenters co equal status in a comparative demographic analysis and by demonstrating how religious values informed procreative activity It does so through a combination of advanced statistical methodologies and an innovative treatment of data collection forms as readable texts The study concludes that the likelihood of another birth increased following a religious conversion experience especially among both Anglican and Baptist wives following marriage Mortality too had a less constraining effect on procreative activity which in conformity with the English experience was driven largely by fertility

Ascendancy Through Aggression Gideon M. Kressel, 1996

Discouraging Terrorism National Research Council, Division of Behavioral and Social Sciences and Education, Center for Social and Economic Studies, Panel on Understanding Terrorists in Order to Deter Terrorism, 2002-10-24 This report addresses the question of what terrorists hold in value This question is posed in order to assess some means and strategies for deterring deflecting or preventing terrorist activities The report approaches the question on several levels moving from the use of short term deterrent strategies to the modification of the broader contexts and conditions conducive to terrorist activities in the long run The report focuses on contemporary Islamic extremist terrorism but deals with generic dimensions in many instances The Future Can't Wait Steven Gale, Sarah Jackson, 2013 New Horizons in Medical Anthropology Margaret Lock, Mark Nichter, 2003-09-02 New Horizons in Medical Anthropology is a festschrift in honor of Charles Leslie whose influential career helped shape this subfield of anthropology This collection of cutting edge essays explores medical innovation and medical pluralism at the turn of the 21st century The book accomplishes two things it reflects recent research by medical anthropologists working in Asia who have been inspired by Charles Leslie s writing on such topics as medical pluralism and the early emergence of what has become a globalized biomedicine the social relations of therapy management and the relationship between the politics of the state and discourse about the health of populations illness and medicine The book also takes up lesser known aspects of Leslie s work his contribution as an editor and the role he played in carrying the field forward his ethics as a medical anthropologist committed to humanism and sensitive to racism and eugenics and the passion he inspired in his co workers and students Charles Leslie is a remarkable and influential social scientist New Horizons in Medical Anthropology is a fitting tribute to a sensitive scholar whose theories and codes of practice provide an essential guide to future generations of medical anthropologists From Provinces into Nations Susan Cotts Watkins, 2014-07-14 Between 1870 and 1960 national boundaries became more evident on the demographic map of Western Europe In most of the fifteen countries examined here differences in marital fertility illegitimacy and marriage from one province counties cantons arrondissements to another diminished considerably From Provinces into Nations describes this shift to greater national demographic homogeneity and places it in the context of a parallel decline in linguistic diversity as well as in the context of increases in national market integration the expansion of state activities and nation building The book interprets the shift as evidence of the influence of communities on demographic behavior and as an indication of the growing predominance of national over local communities The author uses demographic data too often the property of specialists to examine themes of interest to historians sociologists economists and political scientists interested in the integration of modern societies Originally published in 1990 The Princeton Legacy Library uses the latest print on demand technology to again make available previously out of print books from the distinguished backlist of Princeton University Press These editions preserve the original texts of these important books while presenting them in durable paperback and hardcover editions The goal of the Princeton Legacy Library is to vastly increase access to the rich scholarly heritage found in the thousands of books published by Princeton University Press since its founding in 1905 Descent Through Males Gideon M. Kressel, 1992 Coup in Damascus Carl Rihan, 2025-06-17 Coup in Damascus examines the military takeover of Syria in 1949 an event which precipitated the rise of authoritarianism across the region Connecting economics politics and history it challenges traditional interpretations grounded in international relations by shifting the focus away from geopolitics and postcolonial studies affirming instead the primacy of cost calculating utility driven political action By bringing neoclassical and Austrian economics into contact with Middle East history Coup in Damascus demonstrates how unsound monetary practices the disruption of trade routes and excessive interventionism upset social and institutional equilibriums thereby leading to authoritarianism Coup in Damascus also highlights how lingering tensions or spillover costs normally resolved through economic and political exchange congested political systems thereby triggering violence and recurrence

The World's Religions Peter B. Clarke, Peter Beyer, 2009-05-07 This comprehensive volume focuses on the world's religions and the changes they have undergone as they become more global and diverse in form It explores the religions of the world not only in the regions with which they have been historically associated but also looks at the new cultural and religious contexts in which they are developing It considers the role of migration in the spread of religions by examining the issues raised for modern societies by the increasing interaction of different religions The volume also addresses such central questions as the dynamics of religious innovation which is evidenced in the rise and impact of new religious and new spirituality movements in every continent

Will You Be Mother? Jane Bartlett, 1995-03 Women are taught from the earliest moments of life that motherhood along with marriage to a man is a natural state to which they should aspire From dollplay as a child to nagging questions of when am I going to become a grandparent as one gets older the societal pressure to procreate is constant and intense What then of women who choose not to have children or are unable to have children How do they respond to a society and to families that view them as selfish incomplete and less than women In Will You Be Mother Jane Bartlett interviews fifty women who for various reasons have not had children We hear from women who have chosen to be sterilized in their twenties others who can never say never but postpone childbearing because of acute ambivalence women in their sixties who have chosen to never have children and are happy with that choice and infertile women who have had no choice They speak of how their own childhoods shaped their decision and while expressing their frustration at the pressures placed upon them also exhibit an unequivocal sense of freedom Will You Be Mother is a diverse exploration of the personal and public implications of the pressure society puts on women to have children and a challenging critique of the prevalent belief that motherhood is a natural state for women

Inventing Home Akram Fouad Khater, 2001-10-30 A social history of Lebanon during a critical period the long peace between the uprising of 1860 and the beginning of the French Mandate in 1920 This is one of the few books on modern Middle Eastern history to take up issues of gender migration and economic change

The Internationalization of Communal Strife (Routledge Revivals) Manus I. Midlarsky, 2014-06-03 First published in 1992 this edited collection argues that conflicts have a growing tendency both to intensify and to lengthen thus increasing the likelihood of external actors being drawn into the on going violence Here leading experts in comparative and international politics examine this tendency of communal conflicts to spill over into the international arena They also look at the conditions under which these processes do not occur and are mediated successfully The authors combine theoretical perspectives with case studies covering examples from the origins of the First World War to state building in Iraq and whether it was a precursor of the Iran Iraq War and the Gulf Crisis They present both a global overview and a focus on the state as the single most important intermediary in the internationalization process A comprehensive and relevant reissue this volume will appeal to students and scholars of International Relations Comparative Politics and Strategic Studies

Bring Down the Walls C. Dagher, 2002-01-04 Lebanon is more than a country it is a message these words of Pope John Paul II illustrate Lebanon's post war endeavor to preserve its age old Christian Muslim coexistence and power sharing formula and to invalidate Samuel Huntington's assumption of a Clash of Civilizations Lebanon's current challenge is also the challenge of a whole region the Middle East where the fate of minorities including Eastern Christians reveals the prospects of democracy pluralism and political participation Carole H Dagher a journalist for Lebanese media as well as an academic presents an insightful account on how Christian and Muslim communities emerged from the sixteen year old Lebanese war what their points of friction and their common grounds are and what the prospects of Lebanon's communal representation system and pluralistic society are She describes the central role played by the Holy See and John Paul II in bridging the gap between Christians and Muslims in Lebanon and analyzes the impact other countries such as Syria Iran and Saudi Arabia have had on the power game and conversely the impact of Christian Muslim interaction on the future of the Arab Israeli peace process Bring Down the Walls draws crucial lessons from the recent history of Christian Muslim relations in Lebanon

Mobilizing Human Resources in the Arab World (RLE Economy of Middle East) R. Paul Shaw, 2015-05-15 R Paul Shaw has travelled widely in the Arab world obtaining data and gathering impressions first hand from national and local planners In this book he identifies population and manpower problems that are likely to become more serious and more difficult to solve if they are neglected at this early stage of Arab development He focuses on five broad areas which are directly or indirectly related to mobilizing human resources and his book will be of special interest to all those who are concerned with such issues as population migration employment inequality the emancipation of women construction and agriculture Dr Shaw proposes policy directives which are sensitive to the problems as they are seen by the Arab governments themselves and sets out practical guidelines which can be used by Arab planners and policy makers An important feature of the book with respect to current literature on Arab development is that it moves away from a preoccupation with growth related investments to a concentration on development related population manpower and employment issues By bringing together such comprehensive empirical and bibliographic information it will also be invaluable as a reference source for some twenty Arab countries First published in 1983

Demography: Analysis and Synthesis, Four Volume Set Graziella Caselli, Jacques Vallin, Guillaume Wunsch, 2006-01-03 This four volume collection of over 140 original chapters covers virtually everything of interest to demographers sociologists and others Over 100 authors present population subjects in ways that provoke thinking and lead to the creation of new perspectives not just facts and equations to be memorized The articles follow a theory methods applications approach and so offer a kind of one stop shop that is well suited for students and professors who need non technical summaries such as political scientists public affairs specialists and others Unlike shorter handbooks Demography Analysis and Synthesis offers a long overdue thorough treatment of the field Choosing the analytical method that fits the data and the situation requires insights that the authors and editors of Demography Analysis and Synthesis have explored and developed This extended examination of demographic tools not only seeks to explain the analytical tools themselves but also the relationships between general population dynamics and their natural economic social political and cultural environments Limiting themselves to human populations only the authors and editors cover subjects that range from the core building blocks of population change fertility mortality and migration to the consequences of demographic changes in the biological and health fields population theories and doctrines observation systems and the teaching of demography The international perspectives brought to these subjects is vital for those who want an unbiased rounded overview of these complex multifaceted subjects Topics to be covered Population Dynamics and the Relationship Between Population Growth and Structure The Determinants of Fertility The Determinants of Mortality The Determinants of Migration Historical and Geographical Determinants of Population The Effects of Population on Health Economics Culture and the Environment Population Policies Data Collection Methods and Teaching about Population Studies All chapters share a common format Each chapter features several cross references to other chapters Tables charts and other non text features are widespread Each chapter contains at least 30 bibliographic citations

Historical Dictionary of the Druzes Samy S. Swayd, 2006 The Druzes are one of the smallest least studied and most esoteric religious communities in the Middle East because of the teachings inaccessibility to both outsiders and uninitiated members within the Druze community Furthermore proselytizing has been prohibited since the establishment of the sect in the 11th century In order to resist assimilation by the various empires and colonial powers that sought to dominate them the Byzantines Arab dynasties the Mamluks and Ottomans the British and French in addition to the nations that govern them the Druzes disguise and conceal their beliefs Historical Dictionary of the Druzes contains nearly 1 000 concise and informative entries on religious political and cultural themes as well as major families and individuals artists writers diplomats and leaders who have contributed to Druze communities Also provided are a chronology introductory essay bibliography and several maps plates and genealogical tables
