Forget Them Not Joanne M. Hemenway, 2010-07-09 To witness effectively and powerfully to Christian testimonies of care and compassion of justice and mercy of healing and wholeness it is necessary to foster awareness of the realities of the present system of retributive justice if there is to be any hope of transformation to a system of justice which is restorative Forget Them Not provides a history of the prison system as a means of punishment contrasting it with the relatively recent but growing practice of restorative justice Joanne Hemenway explores the concept of disconnection as radical evil as a separation from God who is the source of our being and shows how our present approach to punishment fosters this evil The present system with its motif of retributive justice generates shame rejection and loneliness which stokes the fires of anger and rage This breeds deep disconnection which only serves to fuel further cycles of violence Hemenway presents three vignettes designed to help explore forgiveness in the context of both retributive and restorative justice To promote healing and connection Forget Them Not introduces compassionate witnessing in prison ministry as a way to develop awareness and empowerment

Livingston, Violence forgiveness and healing Domestic violence is a widespread though largely invisible problem often exacerbated by the pastoral urge to keep the family together at all costs Yet if that is not a solution how should the church relate to batterers I believe that the Christian community if it is to be genuinely a community of healing and hope must attend to both the victims and the perpetrators of domestic violence says David Livingston Addressing the complex phenomenon of intimate violence against wives lovers and children Livingston profiles batterers and battering and traces it to larger cultural pathologies He explores the ambiguous role of religion and then offers practical advice of pastoral and programmatic efforts to embrace simultaneously the twin Christian imperatives of forgiveness and responsibility Dimensions Of Forgiveness Everett L. Worthington, 2009-06-14 The scientific study of forgiveness is a new approach to an age old problem For thousands of years people have practiced forgiveness within religious systems Now the new field of scholarly research of forgiveness reveals the beneficial aspects of the process This volume draws from papers presented by research scientists and theologians at a conference on forgiveness sponsored by the John Templeton Foundation Contributors include Elliot Dorff and Martin Marty discussing religious interpretations followed by social implications explained by Kenneth Pargament and Mark Rye Roy Baumeister Julie Exline and Kristin Sommer present the victim s point of view Other contributors focusing on the forgiveness research are Everett Worthington Robert Enright Catherine Coyle Carl Thoresen Frederic Luskin and Alex Harris An annotated bibliography by Michael McCullough Julie Exline and Roy Baumeister covers the empirical literature on the subject Lewis Smedes concludes with the four steps necessary for forgiveness moving from estrangement to forgiveness to reconciliation to hope The flames of violence engulfing the world have prompted social scientists to look for fresh solutions one of which is forgiveness Although theologians and philosophers have written much on the subject social scientists subjected it to benign neglect until 1985 when some empirical research began This is a collection of papers from a symposium convened to define the field and lay the foundation for future research The authors are major contributors in the field and they have succeeded admirably in their mandate Library Journal

Authentic Forgiveness
John C. W. Tran, 2020-01-31 No one can avoid conflict sin and evil or the hurt and brokenness they cause The best way to transform conflict and hurt from being life destructive to being life constructive is to forgive and to be forgiven Authentic biblically based forgiveness is a gift that God offers to humanity so that hurt can be healed the cycle of retaliation broken a painful past soothed and estranged relationships reconciled and restored Dr John Tran explains how forgiveness in both Western and Chinese cultures differs from the practice outlined in God's word Authentic Forgiveness calls us to examine our own cultural traditions and points us towards the search for true reconciliation where people risk to communicate extend trust and work through anger and pain Combining biblical and theological understanding with practical strategies for local church ministry Tran offers an inspiring paradigm of action for Christians in urban Asian contexts and beyond

Restorative Justice and Street Group Violence Theo Gavrielides, 2021-04-16 The socio economic impacts of the global COVID19 pandemic the Black Lives Matter movement the abuse of police power and persistent inequalities have taken communities to the streets The implications of riots and street group violence for governments across the world spark a new debate on the appropriateness of restorative approaches in relieving the overstretched and costly criminal justice system Despite the impressive literature on restorative justice the potential and indeed viability of its paradigm with street group violence such as riots remain largely unexplored This timely ebook uses the case study method to investigate four examples in India Greece Canada and England where restorative justice is considered within the context of street group violence Key issues are identified and recommendations are posited as new policies practices and research are being proposed in this grey area of restorative justice The book is backed up with a lecture and original evidences collected by the author in four countries To watch the lecture that was held in Vancouver as part of the Simon Fraser University Bruce and Lis Welch Community Dialogue https://www.sfu.ca/dialogue/programs/welch_dialogue/riots_restorative_justice.html Gavrielides research also appeared in The Guardian <https://www.theguardian.com/public-leaders-network/blog/2011/aug/12/listen-young-people-break-cycle> It is a great honour for the Centre for Restorative Justice at Simon Fraser University in Vancouver Canada to be partnering with Theo Gavrielides to better understand and respond to street group violence as characterized through riots Both Vancouver and England experienced the devastating impact of riots in the summer of 2011 Other cities and countries have also felt the heavy impact of riots while police and the justice system brace themselves for more The time is ripe to be asking different questions building new partnerships and exploring innovative solutions This book represents a first step in that direction and opens the door for further partnership and collaboration Professor Brenda Morrison Director of the Centre for Restorative Justice Simon Fraser University To cite this e book Gavrielides T 2021 Restorative Justice and Street Group Violence London RJ4All Publications ISBN 978 1 911634 39 3 DOI 10 13140 RG 2 2 30094 33608 Victim Organisations and the Politics of Reparation Heidy Rombouts, 2004 Reparation for victims of gross and systematic human rights violations is a contemporary issue gaining increased attention in both national and international politics Post conflict societies have to face the legacies of the dark past and dealing with a large group of victims is one of them Transitional justice mechanisms trying to cope with the past should not overlook the issue of reparation This research demonstrates how reparation for victims of gross and systematic human rights violations differs from reparation for isolated violations The Rwandan case study unveils the role of victim organisations in and the competition and politicisation of the reparation debate Although reparation for victims is a crucial element in transitional justice it becomes clear that the way in which the reparation debate unfolds does not necessarily contribute to the peaceful future of a post conflict society This study argues that remedying the process and debate of the search for reparation will lead to an improved and more constructive reparation policy Heidy Rombouts is a legal and social scientist 1997 Master of Laws 1999 Master in Social and Political Sciences Catholic University of Leuven In 2004 she obtained a PhD degree in Social and Political Sciences at the University of Antwerp for her research on victim organisations and the politics of reparation For several years she has been conducting research on transitional justice human rights and post conflict situations including extensive field research in South Africa and Rwanda

Restorative Justice and Civil Society Heather Strang, John Braithwaite, 2001-05-02 Advocates of restorative justice question the state's ability to deliver satisfactory justice to the community both in criminal and other cases This collaborative 2001 volume looks at the burgeoning restorative justice movement and considers the relationship between restorative justice and civil society examining debates and exploring ideas about who should control restorative justice the state or civil society A diverse range of chapters written by leaders in the field engage with different aspects of restorative justice Genuinely international the book addresses aspects of civil society including schools families churches and private workplaces the women's movement victims of crime and indigenous groups It also considers broader issues such as democracy human rights access and equity A dynamic and provocative volume this book attempts to bring the ideals of restorative justice to life so that victims offenders their families and communities have more of a say in the justice process Repentance Osilama Osime, 2022-04-26 This book reflects on man's unworthiness before God and why we must repent of our sins to enjoy salvation The author explains why repentance is such a significant pillar of salvation the basis for the coming of Christ and the theme of His message He observes The word forgive is used twice in the Lord's Prayer but the process implied by forgive us differs from as we forgive The two sides of the narrow gate of salvation are believing in the Son of God and repentance from sin Seeking God's forgiveness through repenting of our sins is a crucial ingredient to salvation and reconciliation with God in the hereafter and afterlife With the Gospel of Christ there is the offer of an opportunity to repent and obtain forgiveness for all violations When He sent His disciples out in pairs they went and preached repentance When He was ready to ascend He restated the same instructions Join the author as he examines repentance as a clear manifestation of God's grace

Interdisciplinary Feminist Perspectives on Crimes of Clerical Child Sexual Abuse Kate Gleeson, Timothy Willem Jones, 2020-04-28 In recent years the sexual abuse of children in religious institutions has gripped the Western world as churches governments and civil society attempt to come to terms with the magnitude of widespread historical abuses Questions continue to be asked about why it is that perpetrators were able to offend repeatedly and with impunity what is it about institutions that facilitate or foster abuse and why have survivors of abuse often been treated inadequately by diverse national and international justice and political systems throughout the last century This volume makes a significant contribution to international understandings of the vexed and sensitive wicked problem of child sexual abuse in religious institutions The chapters in this volume are written from a range of feminist disciplinary responses including law criminology anthropology and history Together they provide important historical context for the current social and political interest in clerical sex crimes They examine political and legal avenues for redress for survivors of these crimes and critically examine the ways in which church cultures position clergy and clergy offenders in relation to victims The chapters originally published in a special issue of the Australian Feminist Law Journal
