 and New Approaches to Language Revitalisation Research Tonya Stebbins,Kris Eira,Vicki Couzens,2017-09-20 This book advocates for a new model of describing the practices of language revitalization and decolonizing the research methods used to study them The volume provides a comprehensive treatment of the theoretical and methodological foundations of working with communities revitalizing their languages It lays out the conceptual framework at the heart of the project and moves into a description of the model based on a seven year research process working with Aboriginal communities in eastern Australia Six case studies show the model s application in language revival practice The book critically engages with the notion of revival languages as emergent and ever transforming and develops a holistic approach to their description that reflects Aboriginal language practitioners understandings of the nature of language It seeks to demonstrate how the conceptual tools developed from this approach can support efforts to develop deeply collaborative research highlight the diversity of language revitalisation practice and map between the realms of old and new local and global and the social cultural and textual dimensions of language making this an ideal resource for researchers and scholars in sociolinguistics
