Single Women Alone Together:

Alone Together Robert B. Edgerton, 2023-11-15 In Alone Together Social Order on an Urban Beach the focus is on the social dynamics and unwritten rules governing interactions at Southland Beach a popular urban Southern California beach With millions of visitors each year Southland Beach draws a diverse crowd including locals tourists and people from various socio economic backgrounds all converging in close quarters Despite the potential for conflict due to its dense and varied population the beach generally remains a peaceful and enjoyable place The study explores how beachgoers navigate personal space behavior expectations and the presence of authority figures like lifeguards and police often creating an unspoken order among themselves Southland Beach has evolved from a space primarily frequented by beach people locals with a deep connection to the beach to an urban attraction visited by millions The research examines how strangers from different backgrounds manage to coexist in a shared space where typical urban concerns like distrust and social fragmentation could easily lead to conflict The study explores whether the beach can maintain its reputation as a haven for relaxation and leisure given its transformation into a microcosm of city life with all its potential challenges Factors like limited clothing proximity and occasional substance use could introduce tension yet a unique often implicit social structure keeps interactions largely harmonious The book aims to analyze this balance between enjoyment and potential disorder questioning how a community of strangers can coexist so closely without formalized rules The study applies insights from sociology and anthropology to understand the beachgoers shared practices revealing how informal norms and individual expectations of behavior contribute to a functional if fragile social order Through observation and interviews the research delves into the varying roles of lifeguards police and beachgoers themselves in shaping and maintaining this social environment illuminating the intricate yet resilient order that defines life on Southland Beach This title is part of UC Press's Voices Revived program which commemorates University of California Press's mission to seek out and cultivate the brightest minds and give them voice reach and impact Drawing on a backlist dating to 1893 Voices Revived makes high quality peer reviewed scholarship accessible once again using print on demand technology This title was originally published in 1979 Single Women

Maids and Mistresses, Cousins and Queens Susan Frye, Karen Robertson, 1999 This new collection of sixteen essays considers evidence for the varied forms of women s alliances in early modern England It shows how women prohibited from direct participation in the institutional structures that shaped the lives of men constructed informal connections with other females for purposes of survival advancement and creativity The essays presented here consider a variety of communities formed among groups as diverse as serving women vagrants aristocrats and authors in order to study the historical traces of women s connections Alliance as understood by the essayists in this volume does not preclude competition or antagonism since the bonds among women were frequently determined by an opposition to other women As shown here the theorizing of women s connections and the recovery of the historical evidence for these connections can only add to our understanding of women s activities in early modern English society Maids and Mistresses Cousins and Queens is divided into four sections The first two Alliances in the City and Alliances in the Household examine the circumstances of women s communities in two primary sites for women of this place and time The second two Materializing Communities and Emerging Alliances fully study the aspirations that guided and transformed the courses of women s lives All of these interdisciplinary essays deftly combining literary and historical methods and materials are informed by feminism queer theory and studies of class and race in the early modern period Birthing the Nation Lisa Forman Cody, 2005-02-03 Birthing the Nation analyses two intertwined narratives that shaped eighteenth century British life the development of the modern British state and the emergence of the man midwife as the pre eminent authority over sex and childbirth By exploring peculiar episodes in the history of the reproductive body and the body politic from stories of pregnant men to rumours that a midwife had foisted a suppositious child on the nation as the Prince of Wales this original and provocative work proposes how national religious ethnic and gendered identities were experienced through and symbolized by birth and midwifery Women's Lives Claire A. Ettaugh, Judith S. Bridges, 2015-07-14 Women's Lives: A Psychological Exploration 3rd Edition draws on a wealth of the literature to present a rich range of experiences and issues of relevance to girls and women This text offers the unique combination of a chronological approach to gender that is embedded within topical chapters Cutting edge and comprehensive each chapter integrates current material on women differing in age ethnicity social class nationality sexual orientation and ableness The third edition reflects substantial changes in the field while maintaining its empirical focus through engaging writing student activities and critical thinking exercises With over 2 100 new references emphasizing the latest research and theories the authors continue to pique interests in psychology of women Sotah Naomi Ragen, 2009-09-15 Beautiful fragile Dina Reich a young woman in Jerusalem's ultra Orthodox haredi enclave stands accused of the community's most unforgivable sin adultery Raised with her sisters to be an obedient daughter and a dutiful wife Dina secretly yearned for the knowledge romance and excitement that she knew her circumscribed life would never satisfy When her first romance is tragically thwarted she willingly enters into an arranged marriage with a loving but painfully quiet man Dina's deeply repressed passions become impossible to ignore finding a dangerous outlet in a sudden and intense obsession with a married man with terrible consequences Exiled to New York City Dina meets Joan a modern secular woman who challenges all she knows of the world and herself Set against the exotic backdrop of Jerusalem's glistening white stones and ancient rituals Sotah is a contemporary story of the struggle to reconcile tradition with freedom and faith with love Uncle Sam's Star Route Betsey Ross, 1913 Christian's Mistake Dinah Maria Mulock Craik, 1865 The Womanist Reader Layli Phillips, 2006 Comprehensive in its coverage The Womanist Reader is the first volume to anthologize the major works of womanist scholarship Charting the course of womanist theory from its genesis as Alice Walker's African American feminism through Chikwenye Okonjo Ogunyemi's African womanism and Clenora Hudson Weems' African womanism to its present day expression as a global anti oppressionist perspective rooted in the praxis of everyday women of color this interdisciplinary reader traces the rich and diverse history of a quarter century of womanist thought Featuring selections from over a dozen disciplines by top womanist scholars from around the world plus several critiques of womanism an extensive bibliography of womanist sources and the first ever systematic treatment of womanist thought on its own terms Layli Phillips has assembled a unique and groundbreaking compilation Tourism, Globalisation and Cultural Change Donald V. L. Macleod, 2004-05-14 In what ways does tourism change the host community This book offers original insights into the broad and deep influences of tourism and places them within the historical context of globalisation Intensive fieldwork spanning many years on a Canary Island has produced a rich portrayal of the community examining the changes experienced in areas including their working lives families identities local culture values attitudes political structure and economic base The tourists predominantly independent are also examined and their unique impact analysed The research emphasises the indigenous experience and makes cross cultural comparisons especially with island communities It employs the methods of sociocultural anthropology and includes the multidisciplinary findings of tourism studies in doing so it is innovative and challenges standard understandings of the influence of specific types of tourism on small communities

Hardship & Health Womens Lives Hilary Graham,2014-01-21 First published in 1993 There are around 16 million women in Britain aged 16 to 59 A total of 6 400 000 live in households with children under 16 representing 40 per cent of all women under retirement age Employment Gazette 1990 The vast majority of women living in households with children are mothers looking after their own offspring Hardship and Health in Women s Lives explores the lives of these 6 million women It is particularly concerned with their domestic lives and with the responsibilities and routines that structure what they do at home

Endangered Relations Chris Lyttleton,2000-01-10 HIV and AIDS are having a profound impact on contemporary life in Thailand generating complex issues with far reaching implications for both the Thai people and on a global level AIDS has become an increasingly prominent symbol of modernity in Thailand yet ways of dealing with AIDS and HIV draw on time honoured understandings of fate and misfortune disease and contagion gender and pollution Endangered Relations provides a crucial analysis of how public health has attempted to control the threat of HIV infection and how this has combined with local understandings of identity and sexuality it sets in place a broad range of personal and social responses to the ongoing epidemic An illuminating study of the way in which Thai social relations and in particular Thai sexualities shape the history of HIV and AIDS in Thailand Endangered Relations offers a unique perspective on the complicated ways that disease is negotiated in cultural political and human terms
