Under a Black Star Amari Johnson, 2025-06-24 Uncovering the spirit of freedom and self determination in New Orleans In Under a Black Star Amari Johnson explores what he defines as the maroon impulse among the BlackStar Community in the Algiers neighborhood of New Orleans This community sought autonomy for Black people facing systemic marginalization through denied employment insufficient education and a housing crisis following Hurricane Katrina establishing initiatives such as Kamali Academy a homeschool collective and BlackStar Books and Caff a bookstore and gathering place Instead of appealing to the city they built the community they desired by employing legacies of marronage disengagement flight and reengagement An active participant in the physical and ideological development of these autonomous spaces Johnson provides nuanced insights into the community's work toward liberation and self determination Demonstrating that marronage is a cultural tradition throughout the African Diaspora he focuses on the transtemporal maroon process to show how it is central to the pursuit of autonomy community and freedom From the swamps of southeastern Louisiana across urban obstacles and into BlackStar's creative spaces Johnson's path leads him to ask How did the New Orleans community mobilize the tradition of marronage to create autonomous spaces amid gentrification What forms might the maroon impulse take in the twenty first century This dynamic ethnographic memoir ultimately illuminates marronage as a potent form of liberatory potential offering strategies for similar communities across the country and around the world

The Dial Francis Fisher Browne, 1889 Lives of Mississippi Authors, 1817-1967 James B. Lloyd, 1981 Faithful Vision James W. Coleman, 2006 Faithful Vision examines African American novels written during the last half of the twentieth century demonstrating that religious vision not only informs black literature but also serves as a foundation for black culture in general Reviewing novels written James Baldwin Toni Morrison John Edgar Wideman Gloria Naylor Erna Brodber Ishmael Reed and others the author explores how black authors have addressed the relevance of faith especially as it relates to an oppressive Christian tradition and shows that ultimately their novels never reject the vision of faith Faithful Vision contributes a bold critical dimension to African American literary studies
