Paizis, 1998-09-07 The popularity of romance fiction is such that it constitutes nearly one quarter of new paperback fiction printed in the world Its success depends on its ability to reflect and articulate the reader's aspirations for a better life and stands at the same time as a testament to her alienation This fresh look at the romantic fiction seeks to discover the reason for its appeal by combining analysis of the poetics of the genre with a study of the real reader's intervention The Gospel of Marriage Earl Ronneberg, 2014-05-14 The Gospel of Marriage is a novel that examines love marriage their associated issues and the conflicts of values that arise both before and after marriage Those value conflicts occur in the novel through the lives of the principal male and female characters Edward and Kate who are in a relationship at the start of the story That relationship is framed by a mystery that serves to focus the reader s interest through how the mystery is viewed by the two other characters Gregory and Phyllis for through the action of the novel they both become involved in the lives of Edward and Kate and by that association with the mystery The ideas about love and marriage and all of the related issues come out through the reader s examination of the lives of Edward and Kate both past and present for Kate and through the present life of Edward But there are numerous texts which are brought into play that extend well beyond Kate and Edward s lives Examples of how this works are many and various The title of the novel The Gospel of Marriage refers to Kate s performance she is an actress a Julliard acting school graduate in a play by the same name The entire text of that play including stage directions is included as part of the plot of the novel it establishes its authority through the notion of a Gospel which is interpreted as any guiding principle for action in this case the arena is that of social philosophy The play is a body of analysis that argues for a view of marriage love fulfillment and many other notions the concepts in the play stand in sharp contrast to much of what is happening in marriages in the United States today There are seven acts in The Gospel of Marriage play which amounts to a one woman monologue given in the context of experimental theater Each act consists of several sections and taken altogether those sections form a plethora of analysis ranging from various philosophers other plays books and the conclusions of sociologists each of these sources add to the collective story that the novel is telling Other sources that focus the reader s attention are love letters between Kate and Edward from Kate s past the reader is exposed to a transcript of a radio interview which explores how feminism rose after WW II and the story of how the modern gothic novel became the best selling genre for over a decade in the United States Kate explains how in the interview the analysis of the modern gothic novel prompted her to choose her acting career Through the life story and poems of Elizabeth Barrett Browning further themes with respect to marriage et al are introduced Barrett Browning s life and poems also serve as a catalyst for Edward to use his own poetry which is spoken aloud in a conversation between Edward and Kate There are then an extraordinary number of viewpoints they range from modern research on marriage to complete plays as well as portions of plays short sequences or plot summaries as well as poetry novels and the fictional and actual life experiences of women poets Together with philosophical excerpts from major French Russian Swiss English and even Scandinavian writers and philosophers all of whom inform the plot of the entire action of The Gospel of Marriage the novel presents a timely and thought provoking journey for any man or woman already married or anticipating marriage

The Coupling Convention : Sex, Text, and Tradition in Black Women's Fiction Ann duCille Associate Professor of English and African American Studies Wesleyan University, 1993-10-19 What does the tradition of marriage mean for people who have historically been deprived of its legal status Generally thought of as a convention of the white middle class the marriage plot has received little attention from critics of African American literature In this study Ann duCille uses texts such as Nella Larsen s Quicksand 1928 and Zora Neale Hurston s Their Eyes Were Watching God 1937 to demonstrate that the African American novel like its European and Anglo American counterparts has developed around the marriage plot what she calls the coupling convention Exploring the relationship between racial ideology and literary and social conventions duCille uses the coupling convention to trace the historical development of the African American women s novel She demonstrates the ways in which black women appropriated this novelistic device as a means of expressing and reclaiming their own identity More than just a study of the marriage tradition in black women s fiction however The Coupling Convention takes up and takes on many different meanings of tradition It challenges the notion of a single black literary tradition or of a single black feminist literary canon grounded in specifically black female language and experience as it explores the ways in which white and black male and female mainstream and marginalized traditions and canons have influenced and cross fertilized each other Much more than a period study The Coupling Convention spans the period from 1853 to 1948 addressing the vital questions of gender subjectivity race and the canon that inform literary study today In this original work duCille offers a new paradigm for reading black women s fiction

After Intimacy Karl Leydecker, Nicholas White, 2007 Divorce is a conspicuous character trait of modernity commonly portrayed in texts and on screen with its moral and social rationalisation firmly rooted in Enlightenment and Romantic thought The aim of this volume is to bring into focus this contemporary cultural fascination by assembling the variety of academic responses it has started to create Bringing together the reflections of scholars from the UK and North America who have worked in this domain this study offers for the first time a genuinely wide ranging account of the depiction of divorce across the northern hemisphere in a number of media fiction journalism film and television It reaches historically from the intellectual and legal aftermath of the Enlightenment right up to the present day As such the collection shows both the roots of this apparently contemporary phenomenon in nineteenth century literary practice and the very particular ways in which divorce characterises the different narrative media of modernity
