Constructing a Theology of Prayer Matthew C. Bryant, 2021-01-14 Constructing a Theology of Prayer Andrew Fuller s 1754 1815 Belief and Practice of Prayer fills a lacuna in Fuller studies Bryant s work is the first full treatment of Fuller s theology of prayer demonstrating the vitality of prayer for Fuller s ministry and theological reflection Bryant constructs Fuller s theology of prayer through a systematic analysis of six major doctrines the doctrine of God the Son the Spirit Humanity the Church and Last Things Each chapter explores both how Fuller s doctrine influences his belief and practice of prayer and how belief and practice of prayer influence doctrine The study convincingly demonstrates how each major doctrine finds prayer as its corollary As Fuller states Holy practice has a necessary dependence on sacred principle

The Art of Healing Prayer Charles R. Ringma, Mary Dickau, 2015-12-10 The Art of Healing Prayer aims to help both clergy and laity to develop a greater understanding of those who come seeking healing and to become skilled in praying for such people biblically imaginatively and sensitively The authors recognize that this is a costly ministry requiring counsellors to find time in their own often busy lives to guide others and necessitating that they continue to be open to the gifts of God s grace However it is a ministry that often results in joy and transformation as those healed from long standing inner woundedness become sources of goodness and healing for others

Understanding Matthew - Using Semitic Bible Study Methods Michael Harvey Koplitz, This commentary was researched and written using Semitic Bible Study Methods Aramaic the language Yeshua spoke and the culture of Yeshua s day These methods were initially developed by the Sage Hillel over 2000 years ago augmented and the author Semitic Bible study methods are based on asking questions about the Scripture examining the language and culture of that day This is a strange idea for church people because the Church teaches that only the Church can interpret Scripture This is not true God wants us to ask questions because Scripture s meaning is as deep as God and God is infinite

Pray Like This Rodney A. Werline, 2007-05-21 Werline encourages us to look at prayer in the following way to attempt to understand how prayers are tied to particular cultural and social settings Prayers are part of and expressions of a collection of cultural ideas that have been arranged within a system that seems coherent and obvious to those writings the biblical texts Prayers participate in and express a person's worldview Werline shows the ways that though many biblical prayers are familiar to us biblical texts and contemporary readers come from different worlds The Hebrew Bible and the New Testament contain many prayers Large volumes have been written on prayer within a single book or within the writings of one author like Paul or an individual prayer such as the Lord's Prayer Werline does not examine every prayer in the Bible or even write exhaustively on a single prayer He has highlighted a few significant features of each prayer and some of the prayers vividly exhibit the influence of a particular society's vision For example he examines the prayers of 1 and 2 Kings and 1 and 2 Chronicles because of the ways they are tightly tied to the authors views of history The writers interpretation of history profoundly influenced significant portions of the Bible as well as the literature of early Judaism

Petitionary Prayer A Philosophical Investigation develops a new account of the conditions required for a petitionary prayer to be answered by employing the notion of contrastive explanation With careful attention to recent developments in metaphysics epistemology and value theory Scott A Davison surveys the contemporary literature on this question He considers questions about human freedom and responsibility in relation to different views of divine providence along with the puzzles inherent in Christian teachings concerning petitionary prayer Davison develops new challenges to the coherence of the idea of answered petitionary prayer based upon the nature of divine freedom the limits of human knowledge and the nature of those good things that require a recipient's permission before they can be given He proposes new defenses building upon careful analysis of the shortcomings of previous proposals and clarifying the issues for future debate
