Peruvian Street Lives Culture Power And Economy Among Market Women Of Cuzco:

Peruvian Street Lives Linda J. Seligmann, 2004-03-17 For more than twenty years Linda J Seligmann has walked the streets of Peru in city and countryside alike talking to the women who work in the informal and open air markets of the Andean highlands of Cuzco In this readable ethnography composed of vignettes and accompanied by a superb series of photographs Seligmann offers a humane yet incisive portrayal of their lives Peruvian Street Lives argues that the sometimes invisible and informal economic social and political networks market women establish although they may appear disorderly and chaotic in fact often keep dysfunctional economies and corrupt bureaucracies from utterly destroying the ability of citizens to survive from day to day Seligmann asks why the constructive efforts of market women to make a living provoke such negative social perceptions from some members of Peruvian society who see them as symbols and actual catalysts of social disorder domestically and publicly The book traces the impact on market women and market activities of distant yet enormously powerful forces such as economic globalization At the same time it shows how market women eke out a living combat discrimination and creatively transgress existing racial and gender ideologies within the rich and expressive cultural traditions they have developed

Peruvian Lives across Borders M. Cristina Alcalde, 2018-06-14 In Peruvian Lives across Borders M Cristina Alcalde examines the evolution of belonging and the making of home among middle and upper class Peruvians in Peru the United States Canada and Germany Alcalde draws on interviews surveys participant observation and textual analysis to argue that to belong is to exclude To that end transnational Peruvians engage in both subtle and direct policing along the borders of belonging These acts allow them to claim and maintain the social status they enjoyed in their homeland even as they profess their openness and tolerance Alcalde details these processes and their origins in Peru s gender racial and class hierarchies As she shows the idea of return whether desired or rejected imagined or physical spurs constructions of Peruvianness belonging and home Deeply researched and theoretically daring Peruvian Lives across Borders answers fascinating questions about an understudied group of migrants

The Restless Anthropologist Alma Gottlieb, 2012-03-05 What does a move from a village in the West African rain forest to a West African community in a European city entail What about a shift from a Greek sheep herding community to working with evictees and housing activists in Rome and Bangkok In The Restless Anthropologist Alma Gottlieb brings together eight eminent scholars to recount the riveting personal and intellectual dynamics of uprooting one s life and decades of work to embrace a new fieldsite Addressing questions of life course research methods institutional support professional networks ethnographic models and disciplinary paradigm shifts the contributing writers of The Restless Anthropologist discuss the ways their earlier and later projects compare on both scholarly and personal levels describing the circumstances of their choices and the motivations that have emboldened them to proceed to become novices all over again In doing so they question some of the central expectations of their discipline reimagining the space of the anthropological fieldsite at the heart of their scholarly lives Downtown Ladies Gina A. Ulysse, 2008-09-15 The Caribbean market woman is ingrained in the popular imagination as the archetype of black womanhood in countries throughout the region Challenging this stereotype and other outdated images of black women Downtown Ladies offers a more complex picture by documenting the history of independent international traders known as informal commercial importers or ICIs who travel abroad to import and export a vast array of consumer goods sold in the public markets of Kingston Jamaica Both by products of and participants in globalization ICIs operate on multiple levels and since their emergence in the 1970s have made significant contributions to the regional national and global economies Gina Ulysse carefully explores how ICIs determined to be self employed struggle with government regulation and other social tensions to negotiate their autonomy Informing this story of self fashioning with reflections on her own experience as a young Haitian anthropologist Ulysse combines the study of political economy with the study of individual and collective identity to reveal the uneven consequences of disrupting traditional class color and gender codes in individual societies and around the world Economic Life of Mexican Beach Vendors Tamar Diana

Wilson, 2012-11-03 Economic Life of Mexican Beach Vendors Acapulco Puerto Vallarta and Cabo San Lucas is based on interviews with 82 men and 84 women who vend their wares on beaches in three Mexican tourist centers Assuming that some people may actively choose self employment in the informal or semi informal economy the employment and educational aspirations of the vendors and their levels of satisfaction with their work are explored Most of the vendors had other family members who were also vendors and 75 45 2 percent had 5 or more family members who vended most usually on Mexican beaches The vendors are aware of the forces of globalization though they do not express these forces in those words as revealed by their responses to questions as to how the current world economic recession has affected them The beach vendors live in essentially segregated neighborhoods that can be considered apartheid like far from the tourist zones Most of the vendors or their parents are rural to urban migrants and cross ethnic linguistic and economic borders as they migrate to and work in what have been called transnational social spaces Of the vendors interviewed 82 49 4 percent speak an indigenous language and of these 60 73 2 percent speak Nahuatl The majority are from the state of Guerrero but there were also Zapotec speakers from Oaxaca Both indigenous and non indigenous women take part in beach vending They are often wives daughters or sisters of male beach vendors and they may be single married living in free union or widowed Their income is often of central importance to the household economy This monograph aims to bring their stories to tourists and to scholars and students of tourism development and or the informal or semi informal economy in Mexican tourist centers

The Andean World Linda J. Seligmann, Kathleen S. Fine-Dare, 2018-11-08 This comprehensive reference offers an authoritative overview of Andean lifeways It provides valuable historical context and demonstrates the relevance of learning about the Andes in light of contemporary events and debates The volume covers the ecology and pre Columbian history of the region and addresses key themes such as cosmology aesthetics gender and household relations modes of economic

Anthropology in the City Italo Pardo, Giuliana B. Prato, 2016-05-23 With half of humanity already living in towns and cities and that proportion expected to increase in the coming decades society both Western and non Western is fast becoming urban and even mega urban As such research in urban settings is evidently timely and of great importance Anthropology in the City brings together a leading team of anthropologists to address the complex methodological and theoretical challenges posed by field research in urban settings clearly identifying the significance of the anthropological paradigm in urban research and its centrality both to mainstream academic debates and to society more broadly With essays from experts on wide ranging ethnographic research from fields as diverse as China Europe India Latin and North America and South East Asia this book demonstrates the contribution that empirically based anthropological analysis can make to our understanding of our increasingly urban world

An Introduction to Latin American Economics Scott McKinney, 2021-09-22 This textbook serves as an introduction to the major economic topics and events in Latin America s history from the settling of the region by indigenous Americans and then Europeans Africans and Asians to the economic consequences of COVID 19 Each chapter concentrates on a particular period for example pre Columbian America the 1980s debt crisis the 21st Century decline in income inequality and introduces the concepts needed to understand the events of that period These concepts include theories such as Dutch Disease and Dependency Theory policies such as import substituting industrialization and neoliberalism and analytical tools such as the circular flow of income and the foreign exchange market Descriptive data are used to illustrate these concepts for example Latin America s current account balance during the 1970s and 1980s shows the impact of the debt crisis while the relationship between money supply growth and inflation in Argentina during the 1980s and 1990s shows the impact of expansionary monetary policy and convertibility With its focus on Latin American economic history and on the key concepts for understanding that history this book can serve as the core textbook for an introductory course on Latin American Economics or as a complementary text for an introductory course in Latin American Studies or a social science course on Latin America

The Architecture of Illegal Markets Jens Beckert, Matías Dewey, 2017-07-21 From illegal drugs stolen artwork and forged trademarks to fraud in financial markets the phenomenon of illegality in market exchanges is pervasive Illegal markets have great economic significance have relevant social and political consequences and shape economic and political structures Despite the importance of illegality in the economy the field of economic sociology unquestioningly accepts the premise that the institutional structures and exchanges taking place in markets are law abiding in nature This volume makes a contribution to changing this Questions that stand at the centre of the chapters are What are the interfaces between legal and illegal markets How do demand and supply in illegal markets interact What role do criminal organizations play in illegal markets What is the relationship between illegality and governments Is illegality a phenomenon central to capitalism Anchored in economic sociology this book contributes to the analysis and understanding of market exchanges in conditions of illegality from a perspective that focuses on the social organization of markets Offering both theoretical reflections and case studies the chapters assembled in the volume address the consequences of the illegal production distribution and consumption of products for the architecture of markets It also focuses on the underlying causes and the political and social concerns stemming from the infringement of the law Cape Verde, Let's Go Derek Pardue, 2015-11-15

Musicians rapping in kriolu a hybrid of Portuguese and West African languages spoken in Cape Verde have recently emerged from Lisbon's periphery They popularize the struggles with identity and belonging among young people in a Cape Verdean immigrant community that shares not only the kriolu language but its culture and history Drawing on fieldwork and archival research in Portugal and Cape Verde Derek Pardue introduces Lisbon's kriolu rap scene and its role in challenging metropolitan Portuguese identities Pardue demonstrates that Cape Verde while relatively small within the Portuguese diaspora offers valuable lessons about the politics of experience and social agency within a postcolonial context that remains poorly understood As he argues knowing more about both Cape Verdeans and the Portuguese invites clearer assessments of the relationship between the experience and policies of migration That in turn allows us to better gauge citizenship as a balance of individual achievement and cultural ascription Deftly shifting from domestic to public spaces and from social media to ethnographic theory Pardue describes an overlooked phenomenon transforming Portugal one sure to have parallels in former colonial powers across twenty first century Europe
