The New Nationalism Louis Snyder, 2017-07-05 Nationalism the state of mind in which the individual's supreme loyalty is owed to the nation state remains the strongest of political emotions As a historical phenomenon it is always in flux changing according to no preconceived pattern In The New Nationalism Louis L Snyder sees various forms of nationalism and categorizes them as a force for unity a force for the status quo a force for independence a force for fraternity a force for colonial expansion a force for aggression a force for economic expansion and a force for anti colonialism In Snyder's opinion nationalism should be differentiated from Theodore Roosevelt's New Nationalism a phrase he borrowed from Herbert D Croly's The Promise of American Life Croly warned that giving too much power to big industry and finance would lead to the degradation of the masses and that state and federal intervention must be pursued on all economic fronts Roosevelt expanded upon this concept and saw the flourishing of democratic government as a means of reviving the old pioneer sense of individualism and opportunity Snyder in contrast extends the work of the two major pioneers in the study of modern nationalism Carlton J H Hayes and Hans Kohn in exploring this most powerful sentiment of modern times and showing how it relates to the political economic and psychological tendencies of historical development

Transcending Member States Babatunde Fagbayibo, 2022-09-14 This book explores innovative and context driven political and legal policy measures designed to expand the powers of the African Union AU in order to meaningfully drive the continental integration process In this regard the book addresses issues of context political will and innovative and inclusive approaches as essential elements that must be considered Africa is currently experiencing one of the most critical phases of its integrative development Since 2015 there have been increasing efforts to develop policies and practices that grant the AU broader powers to coordinate and create binding rules regarding the regional integration process In other words these processes seek to endow the AU with supranational powers like those exercised by the European Union which despite its internal problems remains the most successful experiment in supranationalism in the world This has included the decision to finance the AU through a 0.2% tax on eligible imports into member states the decision to reduce the number of AU Commission portfolios from eight to six the adoption and entry into force of the much touted Agreement establishing the African Continental Free Trade Area the adoption of the Protocol to the Treaty Establishing the African Economic Community Relating to Free Movement of Persons Right to Residence and Right of Establishment and the adoption of the AU Agenda 2063 policy framework in 2015 How these processes will change the direction of regional integration in Africa the book argues largely depends on the existence of quality driven institutions

Contested Ideas of Regionalism in Asia Baogang He, 2016-09-13 Deepening regionalism in Asia demands new leadership Strong elites who are committed to a supranational identity are a minimum requirement of successful regionalism Regional leaders are increasingly seen as a new set of leaders in Europe Currently Asian regional leaders largely come from the diplomacy community or trade and economic sectors Yet further regionalization demands a new type of leadership from civil society and citizens In this context it is important to cultivate new regional leadership through the development of regional citizenship This book examines contested ideas of regionalism in Asia with a particular focus on two competing ideas of pan Asianism and Pacificism It also identifies a new trend and contestation the fundamental shift from a civilization understanding of regionalism to a technocratic and functional understanding of regionalism in the form of regulatory regionalism It also examines the other contested imaginations of regionalism in Asia including elitist versus participatory approaches to regionalism and democracy centric versus nationalism centric approaches to regionalism

Regional and Global Regulation of International Trade Francis Snyder, 2002-07-05 The processes of legal and economic integration at a regional and global scale have created powerful legal and economic dilemmas They challenge the paradigms of constitutionalism including the State s monopoly of constitutionalism the autonomy of national political communities and the traditional forms of participation and representation The phenomena of globalisation and regional forms of governance have promoted the inter dependence of national political communities and destroyed the artificial boundaries upon which national constitutional democracies are found and from which they derive their legitimacy Furthermore it is inevitable that the development of international trade and economic integration will raise claims for some form of global distributive justice to complement the wealth maximisation arising from free trade This will come from the gradual development of global forms of political discourse and law making challenging State constitutionalism and requiring some of the instruments and theories of constitutionalism The essays in this collection written by leading scholars in international trade law argue the pros and cons of greater regional and global regulation They conclude that whatever the final framework for international trade the critical decisions about institutional form and content will be decided in an emerging global political arena They help to identify this political arena who governs it and according to which rules and identify the different institutional alternatives in that global political arena
