European Union and New Regionalism Mario Telò, 2018-02-06 This title was first published in 2001 This is a collection of papers that look at the structure of the global economy and its changing paradigms over the years The contributors look at how the classic concept of state autonomous sovereign and freed of all constraint never really reflected the reality of the international scene despite the role it has played in realist and neo realist theory for many decades Instead they consider that the political social and economic characteristics originally attributed to states seem increasingly to be expressed through regional constructs. The papers in this volume show that even within regionalism there are a variety of different models that exist and examine five of those models: the European Union, Mercosul, Mercosur, the North American Free Trade Area (NAFTA), the Association of South East Asian Nations (ASEAN) and the South African Development Community (SADC). The Politics of Territorial Identity Stein Rokkan, Derek W. Urwin, 1982

The Logic of Regional Integration Walter Mattli, 1999-05-20

In the late 1980s regional integration emerged as one of the most important developments in world politics. It is not a new phenomenon, however, and this 1999 book presents an analysis of integration across time and across regions. Walter Mattli examines projects in nineteenth and twentieth century Europe but also in Latin America, North America and Asia since the 1950s. Using the tools of political economy, he considers why some integration schemes have succeeded while many others have failed, what forces drive the process of integration and under what circumstances outside countries seek to join. Unlike traditional political science approaches, the book stresses the importance of market forces in determining the outcome of integration but, unlike purely economic analyses, it also highlights the impact of institutional factors. The book will provide students of political science, economics and European studies with a framework for the study of international cooperation.

New regionalism and globalization have been prominent themes in academic and political debates since the beginning of the 1990s. Despite the considerable amount of scholarly attention that the new regionalism has received in recent years, its full empirical and theoretical potential has yet to be fully investigated. This illuminating study provides an overview of new avenues in theorizing regionalism and proposes a consolidated framework for analysis and comparison. Offering a comparative historical perspective of European and Southeast Asian regionalism, it presents new and imaginative insights into the theory and practice of regionalism and the links between regional developments, globalization and international order.

Comparative Regional Integration Finn Laursen, 2016-12-05

This volume features up-to-date studies of regional integration efforts in all major parts of the world, especially North America, South America and East Asia. Comparisons are drawn between these efforts and those made in the EU where integration has progressed much further. The book asks what explains the variation in achievements. What kind of agreements and institutions are needed to produce regional integration? Is pooling and delegation of sovereignty necessary to overcome collective action problems? How important is regional leadership? This work is a major new contribution to the literature on regional integration and will appeal to theorists, policymakers, students and other readers concerned about world developments. It will also be of value to courses covering international political economy, international relations and regional integration at both undergraduate and graduate level.

Power Relations and Comparative Regionalism Min-hyung Kim, James A. Caporaso, 2021-07-29 Three trends have dominated the political economy of integration during the last two decades globalization economic nationalism and regionalization This book explores comparative regional integration focusing on both intra regional integration and relations among regions in the context of power The most common focus of integration studies has been on the logic of cooperation but there is another logic of integration power The relevance of power today is represented by the relations within the Eurozone especially between creditors and debtors By the same line of reasoning integration in Asia cannot ignore the respective roles of China Japan and Korea nor the unresolved disputes about Taiwan Hong Kong and the islands in the South China Sea This edited volume addresses the role of power in regional integration in three contexts 1 the role of hegemonic external actors the US and China in regional integration 2 the role of core states within regions Germany China Japan and Brazil and 3 the role of noncore states smaller and middle range powers Italy and Greece in Europe South Korea and Malaysia in Asia and Argentina Colombia Uruguay and Paraguay in Latin America This book will benefit students and scholars of international relations and comparative political economy especially those with an interest in integration studies and comparative regionalism
