Risk Regulation in the Internal Market Maria Weimer, 2019-03-19 This book offers a topical inquiry into the legal and political limits of EU regulation in the field of risk and new technologies surrounded by techno scientific complexity uncertainty and societal contestation It uses agricultural biotechnology as a paradigmatic example to illustrate the complex intertwinement between environmental public health economic and social concerns in risk regulation Weimer analyses the drawbacks of the EU approach to agricultural biotechnology showing that its reductionism i e the narrow understanding of GMO risks as well as the exclusion of broader societal concerns related to environmental and social sustainability has undermined both the legitimacy and effectiveness of EU regulation in this area Resistance to this approach however has also triggered legal innovations prompting us to re think EU internal market law including the way in which it manages the tensions between unity and diversity and between social and economic concerns This text offers fresh and original insights into how far the EU can go in harmonizing regulatory approaches to risk At the same time it proposes new ways of re thinking EU risk regulation to make it more responsive to different perspectives on risk and technology A unique feature of this book is that it contributes to various strains of scholarship including risk regulation internal market law public administration and studies of governance and regulation as well as connecting these themes to broader debates about the legitimacy of European integration and new ways of differentiated integration As a result it assists in re imagining the EU internal market and its regulation as a site of diversity

Subcommittee on Department Operations, Research, and Foreign Agriculture,1991 Agricultural Biotechnology and Transatlantic Trade Grant Isaac,2002-02-21 Genetically modified GM agricultural crops which are approved as safe in North America Canada and the United States are facing significant regulatory hurdles in gaining access to the European Union The development and commercialization of GM crops illustrate a complex challenge facing trade diplomacy the challenge of regulatory regionalism created by social regulatory barriers Review of Current and Proposed Agricultural Biotechnology Regulatory Authority and the Omnibus Biotechnology Act of 1990 United States. Congress. House. Committee on Agriculture. Subcommittee on Department Operations, Research, and Foreign Agriculture,1991 Regulating Next Generation Agri-food Bio-technologies Michael Howlett,David H. Laycock,2012 Agri food bio technology policy and regulation is transitioning from an early period focused on genetic engineering technologies to next generation rules and regulatory processes linked to challenges originating in a wide variety of new technological processes and applications Can lessons learned from past and current regulatory oversights of agricultural biotechnology and other high technology sectors help us address new and emerging regulatory challenges in the agri food genetics sector The expert contributors in this volume discuss the experiences of a wide range of North American European and Asian countries with high technology regulation to address four key questions related to the past and future development of agri food genomics regulation across the globe how unique is agri food biotechnology regulation and how can it be evaluated using the existing tools of regulatory analysis developed in examinations of other sectors is a government to governance model of regulatory regime development found in many other sectors relevant in this rapidly evolving sphere of activity is a stages model of regulatory regime development accurate And if so at which stage are we currently positioned in the regulation of agri food genomics products and technologies what drives movement between stages in different countries and sectors In assessing such drivers what are the key links between sectoral meso developments and more general macro and micro developments such as international relations and administrative behaviour By updating extending and challenging earlier empirical and theoretical social science perspectives on agricultural bio technological regulation this volume helps to inform future policy formulation It will be of interest to practitioners and students of biotechnology agriculture and science and technology policy and regulatory processes more generally Biotechnology Regulation and Trade Stuart J. Smyth,William A. Kerr,Peter W. B Phillips,2017-03-02 This book discusses the regulatory and trade challenges facing the global adoption of biotechnological products and offers strategies for overcoming these obstacles and moving towards greater global food security The first section of the book establishes the context of the conflict discussing the challenges of global governance international trade and the history of regulation of genetically modified GM crops In this section the authors emphasize the shift from exclusively science based regulation to the more socio economically focused framework established by the Cartagena Protocol on Biosafety which was adopted in 2000 The second section of the book provides a snapshot of the current state of international

GM crop adoption and regulation highlighting the US Canada and the EU The final section of the book identifies options for breaking the gridlock of regulation and trade that presently exist This book adds to the current literature by providing new information about innovative agricultural technologies and encouraging debate by providing an alternative to the narratives espoused by environmental non governmental organizations This book will appeal to students of economics political science and policy analysis as well as members of regulatory agencies and agricultural industry firms Socio-Economic Considerations in Biotechnology Regulation Karinne Ludlow, Stuart J. Smyth, José Falck-Zepeda, 2013-12-03 Within the context of the Convention on Biological Diversity CBD the Cartagena Protocol on Biosafety CPB was established as an implementing agreement The CPB is an international agreement establishing the rights of recipient countries to be notified of and to approve or reject the domestic import and or production of living modified organisms LMOs Decisions regarding import production are to be on the basis of a biosafety assessment Article 26 1 of the CPB allows for the optional inclusion of socio economic considerations SECs into that biosafety assessment process This book compiles expert assessments of the issues relevant to SEC assessment of LMOs and fundamental for decisions regarding whether to undertake such assessments at all It includes an overview of the inclusion of SEC assessment in the regulation of LMOs that looks at the rationale for the inclusion of SECs in the context of the existing science based risk assessment systems This book reviews the various factors that can and have been suggested for inclusion in SEC assessment and provides a meaningful dialogue about the contrasts benefits and tradeoffs that are and will be created by the potential move to the inclusion of SECs in the regulation of LMOs making it of interest to both academics and policy makers Biotechnology: Legislation and Regulation Scott A.
