Rehabilitation Of The Severely Brain Injured Adult A Practical Approach:

Rehabilitation of the Severely Brain Injured Adult Gordon Muir Giles, Jo Clark-Wilson, 1998-06-01 Rehabilitation of Persons with Traumatic Brain Injury Ronald L. Gardner, 1998 Rehabilitation of the Severely Brain-injured Adult Ian Fussey, Gordon Muir Giles, 1988 Neurobehavioural Disability and Social Handicap Following Traumatic Brain Injury Rodger Llewellyn Wood, Tom M. McMillan, 2001

Persisting neurobehavioural disability follows many forms of serious brain injury and acts as a major constraint on social independence. Rehabilitation services are often not organised in a way which addresses the needs of people with such disability and relatively few professionals have experience in the clinical management of complex disability patterns which comprise the neurobehavioural syndrome. This book is a compilation of chapters written by a group of clinicians with experience of post acute brain injury rehabilitation to ameliorate the social handicap experienced by a growing number of people who survive serious brain injury. The aim of the book is to describe the nature of neurobehavioural disability, how it translates into social handicap and what can be done to address the problems generated by such handicap through social and behavioural rehabilitation, vocational training and family education. Consideration is also given to evaluating post acute rehabilitation methods and selecting the most appropriate form of rehabilitation both in terms of clinical and cost effectiveness. The book is aimed at clinical psychologists, psychiatrists and neurologists working in brain injury rehabilitation, plus all the rehabilitation disciplines and social workers. The book will also be of interest to relatives of brain injured people who are seeking a better knowledge base in order to understand neurobehavioural disability. Additionally, the book should be helpful to the growing number of therapy care assistants, case managers and support workers responsible for the day to day care of brain injured people in the community.

Clinical Neuropsychology Laura H. Goldstein, Jane E. McNeil, 2012-04-23. Featuring updates and revisions, the second edition of Clinical Neuropsychology provides trainee and practicing clinicians with practical, real world advice on neuropsychological assessment and rehabilitation. Speech and Communication Problems in Psychiatry ,2013-12-20 This volume represents a painstaking and scholarly introduction to the management of children and adults who have problems of communication related to or in addition to mental disorder It is a relatively unexplored field having received scant attention until recent years but the quality of the work included here gives a clear indication that the area should move from the periphery into a main stream position in the education and practice of speech therapists Although all students in training receive some teaching in the area of psychiatry it tends to be limited to a brief consideration of the role of the psychiatrist and clinical psychologist very rarely the speech therapist It has been proposed that the education of the speech therapist who intends to enter this difficult but rewarding field should be developed at post graduate level and there are strong arguments given in this volume to support the idea Claims that the field is neglected during initial training are however well founded and this volume should alert those responsible for the education of speech therapists to this deficiency Brain Injury Rehabilitation M.
