Reinventing Modern Dublin Yvonne Whelan, 2003 Yvonne Whelan takes the reader from the contested iconography of Dublin as it evolved in the years before Independence through to the contemporary plans for the millennium spire on O Connell Street showing how a shift has taken place from an intensely political symbolic landscape to one that is increasingly apolitical in tune with the changing nature of Irish politics culture and society at the turn of the 21st century In her comprehensive discussion of how the streetscape has changed Whelan explores the capacity of the cultural landscape to underpin and reinforce particular narratives of identity and reveals the ways in which issues of street naming building designing and memorializing became firmly grounded in space and bound up with the politics of representation Incorporating many pictures maps and plans Reinventing Modern Dublin is a work of historical cultural and urban geography a valuable addition to the growing body of knowledge about Dublin s historical geography and Irish urbanism Beckett and Ireland Seán Kennedy, 2010-02-18 A volume of essays to provide compelling evidence of the continuing relevance of Ireland to Beckett s writing The Age of Atlantic Revolution Patrick Griffin, 2023-01-01 A bold new account of the Age of Revolution one of the most complex and vast transformations in human history A fresh and illuminating framework for understanding our past and imagining our future Powerfully argued and engagingly written Patrick Griffin s timely account of revolutionary regime change and reaction shows how a world of empires became our world of nation states Peter S Onuf coauthor of Most Blessed of the Patriarchs When we speak of an age of revolution what do we mean In this synoptic compelling book Patrick Griffin asks the difficult questions and invites readers to reconsider the answers Eliga Gould author of Among the Powers of the Earth The Age of Atlantic Revolution was a defining moment in western history Our understanding of rights of what makes the individual an individual of how to define a citizen versus a subject of what states should or should not do of how labor politics and trade would be organized of the relationship between the church and the state and of our attachment to the nation all derive from this period c 1750 1850 Historian Patrick Griffin shows that the Age of Atlantic Revolution was rooted in how people in an interconnected world struggled through violence liberation and war to reimagine themselves and sovereignty Tying together the revolutions crises and conflicts that undid British North America transformed France created Haiti overturned Latin America challenged Britain and Europe vexed Ireland and marginalized West Africa Griffin tells a transnational tale of how empires became nations and how our world came into being Reading the Royal Monument in Eighteenth-Century Europe Charlotte Chastel-Rousseau, 2017-07-05 Reading the Royal Monument in Eighteenth Century Europe is the first in depth study of the major role played by royal monuments in the public space of expanding cities across eighteenth century Europe Using the royal public statues as the basis for its examination of modern European cities the book considers the development of urban landscapes from the creation of capital cities to the last embers of the Ancien R me and at how the royal politics of the arts affected the cityscapes of the time The focus of the book thereby intersects across a spectrum of disciplines including the social and architectural history of cities the politics of urban planning the history of monumental sculpture and the material culture of the eighteenth century New Perspectives in British Cultural History Rosalind Crone, David Gange, Katy Jones, 2021-03-04 This book is composed of a selection of papers presented at a conference in Cambridge in December 2005 Cultural history is a relatively new sub discipline Over the past few decades it has become increasingly apparent that a new generation of historians has emerged These scholars have become concerned with research sources and questions traditionally beyond the scope of the discipline of history Indeed recent monographs in history have demonstrated a growing awareness of the cultural imagination in analyses of patterns of change and continuity in the past Such a movement has also encouraged the development of new networks between different disciplines in the Arts and Social Sciences The authors of these chapters come from a wide range of academic backgrounds While all are concerned with crucial issues of the past they represent a substantial variety of disciplines In addition to the historians are those trained and working in literary studies art history design music and science As early career scholars the research they present is cutting edge these contributions represent the very latest trends in cultural studies and demonstrate the attempts of new researchers to answer the most current and challenging questions that are being proposed in this field

Expressions of Nationhood in Bronze & Stone Síghle Bhreathnach-Lynch, 2019-06-21 At the time of his death in 1945 Albert Power was the leading nationalist sculptor in the Irish Free State yet within a few decades he was almost forgotten This first major examination of his life and career tells of one artist's contribution to national identity before and after political independence In sculpture at that time the emphasis was on creating a pantheon of new Irish heroes by means of monumental and portrait commissions Power's work however sprang from deeply held nationalist beliefs and he felt that subject matter alone was insufficient to ensure a distinctive Irish art Wherever possible he deliberately chose native stone believing that this best conveyed a nationalist sentiment such as the limestone he used in the beloved monument to Padraic Conaire in Galway His political commissions from 1922 onward reveal the new State's desire for a national political and cultural identity and in this book Power's sculpture is explored both at the time of its production and within the broader context of writers and artists who wished to contribute to the new nation's cultural identity a legacy that modern Ireland enjoys today

Ireland on Show Fintan Cullen, 2017-07-05 Looking past the apparent lack of a sustainable Irish display culture this book demonstrates that there is a very full story to tell of the way Ireland displayed its art from the late eighteenth to the early twentieth century Ireland on Show analyzes the impact of the display of art as a significant political and cultural feature in the make up of nineteenth century Ireland and in how Ireland was viewed beyond its own shores in particular in Great Britain and the United States Fintan Cullen directs much needed critical attention and analysis to a subject that has been largely overlooked from an Irish perspective This study moves beyond museums to address the range of art institutions in Irish cities that displayed art from the Royal Hibernian Academy founded in the 1820s to Hugh Lane's

Municipal Art Gallery opened in Dublin in 1908 Throughout the book explores the battle between the display of a unionist ethos and a nationalist point of view a constant that resurfaces over the period By highlighting the tension between unionist and nationalist viewpoints Cullen uses the display of art to investigate the complexities of Irish cultural life before the founding of the Free State

Monumental Space in the Post-Imperial Novel Rita Sakr,2011-12-01 There has been a proliferation in recent scholarship of studies of monuments and their histories and of theoretical positions that shed light on aspects of their meanings However just as monuments mark their territory by attempting to ensure the existence of boundaries sothese discourses set a boundary between their authority as platforms on which the interpretation of monumental space occurs and in this respect the different authority of the novel This study crosses this boundary by means of dynamic interdisciplinary movements between selected novels by James Joyce Yukio Mishima Rashid al Daif and Orhan Pamuk on the one hand and various theoretical perspectives history and cultural geography on the other Through the specific choice of literary texts that represent monumental space in a typical post imperial geopolitical contexts Monumental Space and the Post Imperial Novel brings into question many postcolonial paradigms Sakr establishes a two way interpretive methodology between theory history and cultural geography and the novel that serves as the groundwork for innovative interdisciplinary readings of monumental space Forgetful Remembrance Guy Beiner,2018-11-10 Forgetful Remembrance examines the paradoxes of what actually happens when communities persistently endeavour to forget inconvenient events The question of how a society attempts to obscure problematic historical episodes is addressed through a detailed case study grounded in the north eastern counties of the Irish province of Ulster where loyalist and unionist Protestants and in particular Presbyterians repeatedly tried to repress over two centuries discomfiting recollections of participation alongside Catholics in a republican rebellion in 1798 By exploring a rich variety of sources Beiner makes it possible to closely follow the dynamics of social forgetting His particular focus on vernacular historiography rarely noted in official histories reveals the tensions between professed oblivion in public and more subtle rituals of remembrance that facilitated muted traditions of forgetful remembrance which were masked by a local culture of reticence and silencing Throughout Forgetful Remembrance comparative references demonstrate the wider relevance of the study of social forgetting in Northern Ireland to numerous other cases where troublesome memories have been concealed behind a veil of supposed oblivion
