Religion And Liberation:

Popular Religion and Liberation Michael R. Candelaria, 1990-01-01 El tema del libro es la ambivalencia de la religiosidad popular para la teología de la liberación y para la liberación misma. Enfoca el asunto en dos posiciones de opuesta apreciación de la religiosidad popular: la de Juan Carlos Scannone y la de Jua Domination Or Liberation Alistair Kee, 1986 In this book Dr Kee argues that in recent times there has been an interesting shift in the role of religion. Historically it has been on the side of domination in the spheres of gender, race and class, but there are indications that it might now be on the side of liberation. Introducing Liberation Theology Leonardo Boff, 1987 Liberation Theology Ricardo Planas, 1986 Liberation Theologies in the United States Stacey M. Floyd-Thomas, Anthony B. Pinn, 2010-03-08 Demonstrates the critical use of religion to challenge oppression in the U S. In the nascent United States, religion often functioned as a justifier of oppression. Yet while religious discourse buttressed such oppressive activities as slavery and the destruction of native populations, oppressed communities have also made use of religion to critique and challenge this abuse. As Liberation Theologies in the United States demonstrates, this critical use of religion has often taken the form of liberation theologies which use primarily Christian principles to address questions of social justice, including racism, poverty and other types of oppression. Stacey M. Floyd-Thomas and Anthony B. Pinn have brought together a stellar group of liberation theology scholars to provide a synthetic introduction to the historical development, context, theory and goals of a range of U S born liberation theologies. Chapters cover Black Theology, Womanist Theology, Latino/Hispanic Theology, Latina Theology, Asian American Theology, Asian American Feminist Theology, Native American Theology, Native Feminist Theology, Gay and Lesbian Theology, and Feminist Theology. Contributors: Grace Ji Sun Kim, Mary McClintock Fulkerson, Nancy Pineda Madrid, Robert Shore Goss, Andrea Smith, Andrew Sung Park, George Tink Tinker, and Benjamin Valentin. Analysis of Liberation Theology Nadiia Kudriashova, 2019-04-11 Essay from the year 2017 in the subject Theology, Comparative Religion, Studies, grade MA, Yale University, language English, abstract: This work focuses on liberation theology. The relevance of the study is determined by the fact that the variability of Christianity in the modern period has increased and made it extremely dependent on social processes. The all-human spiritual crisis promotes the spread of so-called religiosity without faith. In some cases, this happens not spontaneously but through the active transformation of the traditional religious system. More and more extremist and nationalist groupings turn to Christianity as an ideological basis while they modify Christian theology in such a way that it justifies their methods of political struggle and supports their slogans. These groups rely on the experience of building similar ideologies using the dominant Christian confession as a religious component, namely liberation theology. Liberation theology or otherwise political theology is a modification of Christianity used by freedom fighters as an ideology. In fact, it is a specialized consciousness of a separate social group and it aims to liberate members of this group from oppression. The content and characteristics of the liberation theology are determined by the characteristics and interests of one or another oppressed social group There are several types of liberation theology in which there are three main ones Latin American Black and feminist created respectively in the interests of the poor Negroes or women The future of liberation theology directly depends on how much its representatives can move from ideal concepts to practical conclusions The Church must take more seriously the problems of injustice and oppression it must take the side of the outcasts and be a pioneer in the foreshadowing of all kinds of liberation economic social political and of course spiritual

The Reemergence of Liberation Theologies T. Cooper, 2013-07-24 This book brings together prominent voices from the global North and South to present brief analyses of liberation theology's future It includes leaders in the field along with the newest voices Each of these pieces was presented in the American Academy of Religion in the first five years of the Liberation Theologies Consultation

The Hope of Liberation in World Religions Miguel A. De La Torre, 2008 Liberation theology emphasizes the Christian mission to bring justice to the poor and oppressed As a part of Christian theology liberation theology has been most frequently associated with the Catholic Church in Latin America This groundbreaking work seeks to identify how the theological concepts of liberation theology might be manifested within other world faith traditions This is thus the first book that attempts to find a common ground for liberation theology across religions All of the contributors are scholars who share the religion or belief system they describe Throughout they endeavor to articulate liberationist concepts from the perspective of those who have been marginalized

A Theology of Liberation Gustavo Gutiérrez, 1988 This is the credo and seminal text of the movement which was later characterized as liberation theology The book burst upon the scene in the early seventies and was swiftly acknowledged as a pioneering and prophetic approach to theology which famously made an option for the poor placing the exploited the alienated and the economically wretched at the centre of a programme where the oppressed and maimed and blind and lame were prioritized at the expense of those who either maintained the status quo or who abused the structures of power for their own ends This powerful compassionate and radical book attracted criticism for daring to mix politics and religion in so explicit a manner but was also welcomed by those who had the capacity to see that its agenda was nothing more nor less than to give good news to the poor and redeem God's people from bondage

Liberation Theology Robert McAfee Brown, 1993-01-01 Brown explains and illuminates liberation theology for North American readers who may have no previous knowledge of this recent dynamic Christian movement Growing out of the experience of oppressed people in Latin America liberation theology lends a transforming power to both the study of the Bible and the Christian duty to work for justice for all God's people

The Emergence of Liberation Theology Christian Smith, 1991-08-27 Liberation theology is a school of Roman Catholic thought which teaches that a primary duty of the church must be to promote social and economic justice In this book Christian Smith explains how and why the liberation theology movement emerged and succeeded when and where it did

A Theology of Liberation Gustavo Gutiérrez, 2001 This is the credo and seminal text of the movement known as liberation theology The book burst upon the theological scene in the early seventies and was swiftly acknowledged as a pioneering and prophetic approach which famously made a preferential option for the poor placing the exploited and the economically downtrodden at the centre of a programme to redeem God's people from bondage

BOOK JACKET Desire, Market, Religion Jung Mo Sung, 2013-01-26 Jung Mo Sung has pioneered a theological analysis of economics in his previous publications developing a penetrating ethico religious critique of the international capitalist systems whose institutions he likens to altars Where ancient idolatry had visible altars the modern altar of the global market god is invisible but still demands human sacrifices in the name of objective desires Here Sung recovers theology's relevance for a world where the most dangerous idols those that sacrifice millions of people upon the altar of wealth have for too long been ignored by theology Desire Market Religion Sung investigates themes such as the struggle against social exclusion the relationship between economics and religion in the 21 century where global brands and global economies reign supreme and theology's role in the struggle against social exclusion and the giving of hope for plenty when the reality is scarcity

The Hope of Liberation in World Religions Professor of Social Ethics and Latino/A Studies Miguel A de la Torre, 2020-11-15 Liberation theology emphasizes the Christian mission to bring justice to the poor and oppressed As a part of Christian theology liberation theology has been most frequently associated with the Catholic Church in Latin America This groundbreaking work seeks to identify how the theological concepts of liberation theology might be manifested within other world faith traditions This is thus the first book that attempts to find a common ground for liberation theology across religions All of the contributors are scholars who share the religion or belief system they describe Throughout they endeavor to articulate liberationist concepts from the perspective of those who have been marginalized

A Critical Introduction to Religion in the Americas Michelle A. Gonzalez, 2014-07-18 A Critical Introduction to Religion in the Americas argues that we cannot understand religion in the Americas without understanding its marginalized communities Despite frequently voiced doubts among religious studies scholars it makes the case that theology and particularly liberation theology is still useful but it must be reframed to attend to the ways in which religion is actually experienced on the ground That is a liberation theology that assumes a need to work on behalf of the poor can seem out of touch with a population experiencing huge Pentecostal and Charismatic growth where the focus is not on inequality or social action but on individual relationships with the divine By drawing on a combination of historical and ethnographic sources this volume provides a basic introduction to the study of religion and theology in the Latino a Black and Latin American contexts and then shows how theology can be reframed to better speak to the concerns of both religious studies and the real people the theologians work is meant to represent Informed by the dialogue partners explored throughout the text this volume presents a hemispheric approach to discussing lived religious movements While not dismissive of liberation theologies this approach is critical of their past and offers challenges to their future as well as suggestions for preventing their untimely demise It is clear that the liberation theologies of tomorrow cannot look like the liberation theologies of today

Life in Freedom Michael Amaladoss, 2014-04-17 In Life in Freedom Michael Amaladoss analyzes the many rich and complex strands of Asian religious thought on the notion and nature of the path toward liberation As he shows Asian liberation theology departs significantly from the Latin American model with which it is commonly compared Rather than put primary emphasis on economic issues Asian cultures give much greater priority to the role of religion in the composition of a healthy society In Part One Amaladoss discusses current liberation movements and thought in Korea the Philippines and India In two other chapters he shows also that the awakening of women is integral to the search for human freedom and development and the growing importance sound ecological policies in any valid approach to liberation in Asia In Part Two Amaladoss discusses non Christian approaches to human liberation and freedom showing how the lives and thought of influential figures of other faiths have given distinctive shape to Asian approaches to liberation Buddhists such as Thich Nhat Hanh and Hindus such as Mahatma Gandhi and E V Ramaswamy show that hostility to religion is remote from the most characteristic Asian liberation movements Gandhi s entire politics was rooted in the notion that to attain Truth or to realize God is the goal of human life But God for Gandhi is realized concretely in the world and particularly in other people Service to others then becomes a way to God and ultimately to human liberation Similarly Confucian traditions embody a deeply indigenous Asian way of constructing reality as a sacred whole In that construct liberation and freedom take on meanings and dimensions functionally religious in the way they anchor individuals and the community to the cosmic whole In Part Three Amaladoss gives his own analysis and prophetic overview on how the plurality of images of liberation enriches the possibility for interreligious cooperation in overcoming the forces of oppression in Asia

Liberation Theology at the Crossroads Paul E. Sigmund,1992 Drawing on both English and Spanish sources this critical study examines the history method and doctrines of Liberation Theology Sigmund considers the movement s origins in political circumstances in Latin America provides case studies of its role in such events as the revolution and counter revolution in Chile and examines the thought of the major liberation theologians and the position of the Vatican

Liberation Theologies, Postmodernity, and the Americas David B. Batstone,1997 First Published in 1997 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company An Incredible Journey Keith M. Brown,2011-04-08 The book explores the role significance power and influence of religion in society in general and the value and validity in the life of the individual in particular The book helps to highlight that this monument religion will remain with us for a long long time If mankind does not go to it it will find mankind The way it is managed is the challenge

An Alternative Vision Roger Haight SJ,2014-12-01 An Alternative Vision An Interpretation of Liberation Theology offers a complete overview of the liberation theology movement that is ideally suited for a thorough study of the major questions and important theologians that have contributed to the debate It outlines and brings together into a single unified account liberation theology s alternate vision for providing the possibility of meaningful historical existence for humans in the world today The author translates the Christian vision of liberation theologians from Latin America into more general theological and cultural categories familiar to the English speaking world then shows how that vision makes a unified interpretation of Christian doctrine First liberation theology must be seen as a response to massive human suffering witnessed throughout the world today This human agony is largely caused by human beings and the social and political structures we create and liberation theology addresses this dilemma using the tradition of Christian wisdom and direct imperatives that have universal transcultural significance The second goal is achieved by showing the connection between liberation principles and the major doctrines of Christian belief including God Jesus Christ faith grace the church sacraments ministry and spirituality
