Simply Creole Cajun:

Just Below South is the first book to examine the U S South and the Caribbean as a regional intercultural space shaped by performance as a space defined not so much by a shared set of geographical boundaries or by a single common culture as by the weave of performances and identities moving across and throughout it. By offering fresh ways for thinking about region, language and performance, the volume helps to reimagine the possibilities for American Studies. It advances beyond current analyses of historical or literary commonalities between the South and the Caribbean to explore startling and significant connections between a range of performances including Trinidadian carnival, Civil War reenactments, the Martinican dance form kalenda, dramatic adaptations of Uncle Tom's Cabin, rituals of spirit possession, the teaching of Haitian Kreyòl, the translation of Louisiana Creole, and the imaginative travels of southern and Caribbean writers. While generating textual conversations among scholars of Francophone, Anglophone, and Hispanophone literature and culture, and forging innovative ties between cultural studies, performance studies, linguistics, literary analysis, and studies of the African diaspora, these essays raise provocative new questions about race, ethnicity, gender, class, and nationality.

Joy in the Morning Robert Scott Jones, 2012-06

Life for the main character Daniel Howard begins with his birth in New Orleans in 1902. His father is a prominent Methodist preacher from a successful and influential Creole family; the Howard's family motto is "work save educate." His mother operates a no-name school for children who cannot attend regular school during the day. His paternal grandmother, Grandma Howard, chiefly commands the Howard family business interests. She is extremely color-conscious, preferring the lighter hue and Creole heritage. In his pre-teen years, Daniel Howard is often in trouble for being sighted on Bourbon or Basin Streets tap dancing and yearning to play the piano in the blues clubs and juke joints. Through his lens, the reader is introduced to his view of New Orleans, to include the lively scenes in the French Quarter, Mardi Gras, Voodoo Congo Square, and life in a vibrant port city among many other experiences. His maternal grandmother, Nana, heads the maternal side of his family. Nana is a widow and illiterate and resides in a tin-roofed former slave cabin outside of New Orleans. She is an extremely religious woman and ekes out a meager living as a maid. She is also the local midwife and tends to the sick with herb potions. She still grieves that her son Lester was dragged from her cabin one dark night and lynched. After graduating from college, he is recruited to teach in a small impoverished town in the Mississippi Delta where, despite his hopes and desire to make a difference, hardships and humiliations await him and his new

French on Shifting Ground Nathalie Dajko, 2020-11-24 In French on Shifting Ground Cultural and Coastal Erosion in South Louisiana Nathalie Dajko introduces readers to the lower Lafourche Basin Louisiana where the land a language and a way of life are at risk due to climate change environmental disaster and coastal erosion Louisiana French is endangered all around the state but in the lower Lafourche Basin the shift to English is accompanied by the equally rapid disappearance of the land on which its speakers live French on Shifting Ground allows both scholars and the general public to get an overview of how rich and diverse the French language in Louisiana is and serves as a key reminder that Louisiana serves as a prime repository for Native and heritage languages ranking among the strongest preservation regions in the southern and eastern US Nathalie Dajko outlines the development of French in the region highlighting the features that make it unique in the world and including the first published comparison of the way it is spoken by the local American Indian and Cajun populations She then weaves together evidence from multiple lines of linguistic research years of extensive participant observation and personal narratives from the residents themselves to illustrate the ways in which language in this case French is as fundamental to the creation of place as is the physical landscape It is a story at once scholarly and personal the loss of the land and the concomitant loss of the language have implications for the academic community as well as for the people whose cultures and identities are literally at stake
