who were married dropped below fifty percent and the median age of first marriages which had remained between twenty and twenty two years old for nearly a century 1890 1980 had risen dramatically to twenty seven But over the course of her vast research and more than a hundred interviews with academics and social scientists and prominent single women Traister discovered a startling truth the phenomenon of the single woman in America is not a new one And historically when women were given options beyond early heterosexual marriage the results were massive social change temperance abolition secondary education and more Today only twenty percent of Americans are married by age twenty nine compared to nearly sixty percent in 1960 An informative and thought provoking book for anyone not just single ladies The New York Times Book Review All the Single Ladies is a remarkable portrait of contemporary American life and how we got here through the lens of the unmarried American woman Covering class race sexual orientation and filled with vivid anecdotes from fascinating contemporary and historical figures we re better off reading Rebecca Traister on women politics and America than pretty much anyone else The Boston Globe

Devon W. Carbado,Mitu Gulati,2013-02-19 What does it mean to act black or act white Is race merely a matter of phenotype or does it come from the inflection of a person s speech the clothes in her closet how she chooses to spend her time and with whom she chooses to spend it What does it mean to be really black and who gets to make that judgment In Acting White leading scholars of race and the law Devon Carbado and Mitu Gulati argue that in spite of decades of racial progress and the pervasiveness of multicultural rhetoric racial judgments are often based not just on skin color but on how a person conforms to behavior stereotypically associated with a certain race Specifically racial minorities are judged on how they perform their race This performance pervades every aspect of their daily life whether it s the clothes they wear the way they style their hair the institutions with which they affiliate their racial politics the people they befriend date or marry where they live how they speak and their outward mannerisms and demeanor Employing these cues decision makers decide not simply whether a person is black but the degree to which she or he is so Relying on numerous examples from the workplace higher education and police interactions the authors demonstrate that for African Americans the costs of acting black are high and so are the pressures to act white But as the authors point out acting white has costs as well Provocative yet never doctrinaire Acting White will boldly challenge your assumptions and make you think about racial prejudice from a fresh vantage point Ebony ,1993-07 EBONY is the flagship magazine of Johnson Publishing Founded in 1945 by John H Johnson it still maintains the highest global circulation of any African American focused magazine Family Economics Review ,1981
