Radiance From The Waters Ideals Of Feminine Beauty In Mende Art:

Radiance from the Waters Sylvia Ardyn Boone, 1986-01-01 The Sande Society of the Mende people of Sierra Leone is a secret female regulatory society that both guards and transmits the ideals of feminine beauty so fundamental to the aesthetic criteria in Mende culture In this eloquent and moving book Sylvia Ardyn Boone describes the Society its rituals and organization and the mask worn by its members Her book is an evocative account of Mende life and philosophy as well as a unique contribution to the study of African art one based on African conceptions about the person and the human body This is a beautiful and beautifully written book Boone writes in ways that reveal her evident devotion to Mende culture John Picton African Affairs A major contribution to our ethnographic understanding of Mende culture and to understanding the way concepts of women s bodies encode cultural messages about gender relations E Frances White Women s Review of Books A respectful approach to the mysteries of the Sande by an art historian who has tiptoed where anthropologists feared to tread Radiance from the Waters deserves to be read It provides something more interesting than esoteric knowledge an extended meditation on notions of beauty and decorum and the way in which these can be translated simultaneously into art and advancement for women John Ryle London Review of Books The first text to illuminate the power of the feminine aesthetic in West African art Ms Critical Reading Across the Curriculum, Volume 1 Robert DiYanni, Anton Borst, 2017-02-06 Powerful strategies tools and techniques for educators teaching students critical reading skills in the humanities Every educator understands the importance of teaching students how to read critically Even the best teachers however find it challenging to translate their own learned critical reading practices into explicit strategies for their students Critical Reading Across the Curriculum Humanities Volume 1 presents exceptional insight into what educators require to facilitate critical and creative thinking skills Written by scholar educators from across the humanities each of the thirteen essays in this volume describes strategies educators have successfully executed to develop critical reading skills in students studying the humanities These include ways to help students focus actively re read and reflect to re think and re consider understand the close relationship between reading and writing become cognizant of the critical importance of context in critical reading and of making contextual connections learn to ask the right questions in critical reading and reasoning appreciate reading as dialogue debate and engaged conversation In addition teachers will find an abundance of innovative exercises and activities encouraging students to practice their critical reading skills These can easily be adapted for and applied across many disciplines and course curricula in the humanities The lifelong benefits of strong critical reading skills are undeniable Students with properly developed critical reading skills are confident learners with an enriched understanding of the world around them They advance academically and are prepared for college success This book arms educators librarians high school teachers university lecturers and beyond with the tools to teach a most paramount lesson African Dream Machines Anitra Nettleton, 2007-10-01 African Dream Machines takes African headrests out of the category of functional objects and into the more rarefied category of art objects Styles in African headrests are usually defined in terms of western art and archaeological discourses but this book interrogates these definitions of style and demonstrates the shortcomings of defining a single formal style model as exclusive to a single ethnic group Among the artefacts made by southern African peoples headrests were the best known Anitra Nettleton's study of the uses and forms of headrests opened up a number of art historical methodologies in the attempt to gain an understanding of form style and content in African art objects Her drawings of each and every headrest encountered become a major part of the project

Cultural Sociology of the Middle East, Asia, and Africa Andrea L. Stanton, 2012 In our age of globalization and multiculturalism it has never been more important to understand and appreciate all cultures across the world The four volumes take a step forward in this endeavour by presenting concise information on those regions least well known to students across Europe the Middle East Asia and Africa The volumes convey what daily life is like for people in these selected regions Entries will aid readers in understanding the importance of cultural sociology to appreciate the effects of cultural forces around the world and to learn the history of countries and cultures within these important regions Key Features Topics are explored within historical context in three broad historical periods prehistory to 1250 1250 to 1920 and 1920 to the present One volume each is devoted to the regions of the Middle East and Africa and then one volume to East and Southeast Asia and a final volume to West Central and South Asia The volumes include extensive use of photographs and maps to explain cultural and geographic content Each volume has its own volume editor with expertise in that particular region Key Themes Arts Culture and Science People Society and Dynasties Religion and Law Family and Daily Life Conflicts and Wars Politics and Government Health and Education Economy Trade and Industry National Geography and History

The Epic Trickster in American Literature Gregory E. Rutledge,2013-04-26 Just as Africa and the West have traditionally fit into binaries of Darkness Enlightenment Savage Modern Ugly Beautiful and Ritual Art among others much of Western cultural production rests upon the archetypal binary of Trickster Epic with trickster aesthetics and commensurate cultural forms characterizing Africa Challenging this binary and the exceptionalism that underlies anti hegemonic efforts even today this book begins with the scholarly foundations that mapped out African trickster continuities in the United States and excavated the aesthetics of traditional African epic performances Rutledge locates trickster like capacities within the epic hero archetype the epic trickster paradigm and constructs an Homeric Diaspora which is to say that the modern Homeric performance foundation lies at an absolute time and distance away from the ancient storytelling performance needed to understand the cautionary aesthetic inseparable from epic potential As traditional epic performances demonstrate unchecked epic trickster dynamism anticipates not only brutal imperialism and creative diversity but the greatest threat to everyone an eco apocalypse Relying upon the preeminent scholarship on African American trickster heroes traditional African heroic performances and cultural studies approaches to Greco Roman epics Rutledge traces the epic trickster aesthetic through

Hallen, 2000 Hallen asks the Yoruba onisegun the wisest and most accomplished herbalists or traditional healers what it means to be good and beautiful The onisegun explain the subtleties and intricacies of Yoruba language use and philosophy behind particular word choices Their instructions reveal the depth of Yoruba aesthetics and ethics Africa and the Americas Richard M. Juang, Noelle Morrissette, 2008-03-12 This encyclopedia explores the many long standing influences of Africa and people of African descent on the culture of the Americas while tracing the many ways in which the Americas remain closely interconnected with Africa Ranging from the 15th century to the present Africa and the Americas Culture Politics and History explores the many ways Africa and African peoples have shaped the cultural life of the Americas and how in turn life in the Americas reverberates in Africa This groundbreaking three volume encyclopedia offers hundreds of alphabetically organized entries on African history nations and peoples plus African influenced aspects of life in the Americas It also features authoritative introductory essays on history culture and religion demography international relations economics and trade and arts and literature In doing so it traces the complex and continuous movement of peoples of African descent to the West the mechanics and lingering effects of colonialism and the slave trade and the crucial issues of cultural retention and adaptation that are essential to our understanding of the effects of globalization Playful Performers David Binkley, 2017-07-28 African children develop aesthetic sensibilities at an early age roughly from four to fourteen years By the time they become full fledged adolescents they may have had up to ten years experience with various art forms masking music costuming dancing and performance Aesthetic learning is vital to their maturation. The contributors to this volume argue that the idea that learning the aesthetics of a culture only occurs after maturity is false as is the idea that children wearing masks is only play and is not to be taken seriously Playful Performers is a study of children's masquerades in Africa The contributors describe specific cases of young children's masking in the areas of west central and southern Africa which also happen to be the major areas of adult masquerading The volume reveals the considerable creativity and ingenuity that children exhibit in preparing costumes masks and musical instruments and in playing music dancing singing and acting The book includes over 50 pages of black and white photographs which illustrate and elaborate upon the authors main points The editors describe general categories of children's masquerades In each of the three masking categories children's relationships to their parents and other adults differ from a close relationship to some independence to almost complete independence No other major work has covered this aspect of African children at this age level The book offers a challenging perspective on young children seeing them as active agents in their own culture rather than passive recipients of culture as taught by parents and other elders It will be interesting reading for anthropologists art historians educators and African Politics of Female Genital Cutting (FGC), Human Rights and the Sierra Leone State Tom Obara studies specialists alike Bosire, 2014-08-26 Politics of Female Genital Cutting FGC Human Rights and the Sierra Leone State The Case of Bondo Secret Society provides a comprehensive analysis of contemporary post war Sierra Leone politics through ethnographic examination of key cultural institutions like the Bondo society the law media and state actors The book discusses historical medical and socio cultural underpinnings of the Female Genital Cutting FGC practice among members of the Bondo society in Sierra Leone by pointing out inherent and apparent tensions of a secret society dedicated to the continuation of long established gender practices at the counter point of concerted international condemnation against the practice Drawing on ethnography the study highlights the complexity of FGC as practiced in Sierra Leone owing to the fact that it is interlaced in multifarious ways to politics cosmology community idioms of inclusion medical metaphors and the sociological vernacular of people that practice it In the Bondo society some women have access to considerable forms of powers which endear them to political actors in Sierra Leone On account of this and in a context of donor aid conditionality tied to efforts at ending FGC a stage is therefore set where the local political elite ambivalently attend to competing interests from FGC adherents and eradication proponents in the high stakes politics of legitimatizing power The book's subtle and nuanced view of power handy to members of the Bondo society however does not lead to a vindication of FGC but is an attempt to go beyond blunt condemnation of the practice in order to explore the cultural and socio political underpinnings that animate the practice
