Reproductive Health Psychology Olga B. A. van den Akker, 2012-03-23 REPRODUCTIVE HEALTH PSYCHOLOGY This wide-ranging and well-researched book goes well beyond the traditional confines of reproductive psychology. It expertly interweaves evidence on the biological, psychological, social, and cultural factors that affect the reproductive development, behaviours, and decision making of both women and men. As well as the expected chapters on sexual development, pregnancy, and birth, and artificial reproduction, it addresses sex and gender development across the lifespan, from childhood to old age, parenthood, and reproductive issues for under-represented groups such as homosexual men and women, intersex individuals, and those who are childless by choice. The book will be a valuable reference for psychologists and sociologists, as well as midwives, gynaecologists, and obstetricians, and indeed anyone with research or clinical interests that intersect with reproduction and with gender.

Christina Lee, Professor of Health Psychology, University of Queensland. This book provides a comprehensive and accessible introduction to psychological aspects of reproductive health throughout the lifespan. Drawing on psychological theory and a wealth of empirical research, the importance of psychological factors in reproductive health is clearly demonstrated, conceptualized within a broadly bio-psycho-social model. The coverage of a broad range of topics, from foetal growth to menopause, including adolescence, menstruation, contraception, abortion, fertility, pregnancy, and post-natal experience, along the way, is a great strength. This book will become a key resource for health psychologists, nurses, and medical students who wish to understand psychological aspects of reproductive experience.

Jane M. Ussher, Professor of Women's Health Psychology, University of Western Sydney, and Author of The Madness of Women: Myth and Experience. This much-needed resource brings together the most up-to-date and relevant research from a variety of disciplines to give a comprehensive account of the psychological factors surrounding reproductive health today. Olga van den Akker provides a multidisciplinary exploration of all stages of the reproductive life span, from embryonic, infant, child, and adolescent sexual and reproductive development through reproductive and sexual health in adulthood and old age. The book addresses the psychological influences on, and impacts of, sex, gender, and reproduction, as well as adjustment to life after sexual or reproductive success, failure, or disease and disability. Together, the wide variety of topics are illuminating and challenging fostering a deeper understanding of the context of reproductive health through the life span

Radiation Oncology for Pediatric CNS Tumors Anita Mahajan, Arnold Paulino, 2017-10-29 This book reviews the principles and applications of radiotherapy in the management of pediatric brain tumors to allow the reader to gain a full appreciation of the major aspects involved in caring for these patients Individual sections are devoted to basic principles specific management for the full range of tumor entities radiotherapy techniques and potential toxicities and their management The book is written and edited by world leaders in pediatric radiotherapy and care has been taken to cover the latest advances in diagnosis and radiotherapy techniques Pediatric brain tumors represent a diverse group of neoplasms that require carefully planned management for successful definitive treatment Radiotherapy is one of the fundamental components in treatment for the majority of these vulnerable patients The optimal radiation therapy approach will depend on multiple factors including tumor type and location extent of disease age of the patient and other therapies A thorough understanding of the natural history of the disease communication with the multidisciplinary team full knowledge of available radiotherapy techniques and consideration of potential acute and late toxicities are therefore essential for each patient
