Labor and Public Welfare,1963 The Natural and the Artefactual Keekok Lee,1999-01-01 In this book philosopher Keekok Lee challenges one of the central assumptions of contemporary environmentalism that if we could reduce or eliminate pollution we could save the planet without unduly disrupting our modern industrialized societies Lee argues instead that the process of modernization with its attendant emphasis on technological innovation has fundamentally transformed nature into just another manmade artefact Ultimately what needs to be determined is if nature has value above and beyond human considerations whether aesthetic spiritual or biological This provocative book attempts to reconfigure environmental ethics positing the existence of two separate ontological categories the natural and the artefactual Natural entities be they organisms or inert matter are morally considerable because they possess the ontological value of independence whereas artefacts are created by humans expressly to serve their own interests and ends Your Brain on Ink Kathleen Adams,Deborah Ross,2016-04-12 A growing body of neuroscience research has established the principle of neuroplasticity a powerfully hopeful message that we can use our minds to change our brains in the direction of greater health and well being The key to shaping this change rests in how we direct and focus and our attention In an easy to use workbook format this publication offers a strengths based preventative positive approach grounded in neuroscience research for creating a stronger sense of overall well being It contains more than 65 unique writing prompts and a facilitator s guide with complete facilitation plans for 1 hour 90 minutes and 2 hour groups Copyrights United States. dimensionalists about whether the temporal profile of ordinary objects mirrors their spatial profile Are ordinary objects extended in time in the same way in which they are extended in space Do they have temporal as well as spatial parts Four dimensionalists say yes three dimensionalists say no Sattig develops an original three dimensionalist picture of the material world and argues that this picture is preferable to its four dimensionalists rivals if ordinary thought and talk are taken seriously Among the issues that Sattig discusses are the metaphysics of persistence change composition location coincidence and relativity the ontology of past present and future and the semantics of predication tense temporal modifiers and sortal terms
