Radical Pluralism And Truth:

Radical Pluralism and Truth Werner G. Jeanrond, Jennifer L. Rike, 1991 Canons in Conflict James E. Brennenman, 1997-05-29 In this new study James Brennenman confronts the issue of conflicting canons with full force incorporating insights gained from both literary and biblical disciplines on the question of canon He begins with an illuminating tour through contemporary literary theory from Hans Robert Jauss to Stanley Fish and current discussions in theology about the canon He goes on to a consideration of true and false prophesy with a detailed examination of the three apparently conflicting versions of the Old Testament swords into plowshares prophesy as found in Isaiah 2 2 4 5 Joel 4 9 12 Eng 3 9 12 and Micah 4 1 5 Suggesting that the dynamics controlling the process for negotiating between contradictory readings of prophetic texts are the same as those at work in adjudicating between canons in conflict Brennenman concludes by pointing the way towards an integrative approach appropriate to the question of canon and authority in a post modern pluralistic context

An Eschatological Imagination John M. Shields, 2008 In the twentieth century Christian eschatology the doctrine about the final reality became a storm center for Christian systematic theologians because of the

rediscovery of the eschatological character of Jesus Christ In the twenty first century Christian theologians continue to wrestle with the claims of Christian eschatology because of a postmodern suspicion of eschatological certainty claims about a future that is after all objectively unavailable yet still of great human concern Human beings live on hope for the future An Eschatological Imagination recognizes the problem of the future for Christian eschatology Building on the major theological writings of David Tracy it offers a revised way of thinking and living eschatologically in the form of an eschatological imagination as a rhetoric of virtue an exhortation to live in Christian hope in a postmodern world and into an objectively unavailable and uncertain future Within such a rhetoric hope becomes action not mere sentiment that seeks to create a Christian eschatological future

Toward a Pragmatist Metaethics Diana Heney, 2016-05-20 In our current social landscape moral questions about economic disparity disadvantaging biases and scarcity are rightly receiving attention with a sense of urgency This book argues that classical pragmatism offers a compelling and useful account of our engagement with moral life The key arguments are first that a broader reading of the pragmatist tradition than is usually attempted within the context of ethical theory is necessary and second that this broad reading offers resources that enable us to move forward in contemporary debates about truth and principles in moral life The first argument is made by demonstrating that there is an arc of theoretical unity that stretches from two key founders of pragmatism Charles Sanders Peirce and William James through the work of John Dewey and Clarence Irving Lewis The second argument is made by engaging with contemporary debates concerning the truth status of the judgments and assertions made in ordinary moral discourse as well as the role and nature of moral principles Toward a Pragmatist Metaethics will be of interest to scholars of American philosophy American intellectual history and moral and political theorists as well as anyone interested in the contours and demands of shared moral discourse

Interpreting Interreligious Relations with Wittgenstein: Philosophy, Theology and Religious Studies, 2019-09-02 This volume argues that Wittgenstein s philosophy of religion and his thought in general continue to be highly relevant for present and future research on interreligious relations Spanning several sub disciplines from philosophy of religion philosophy of language comparative philosophy comparative theology to religious studies the contributions engage with recent developments in interpretation of Wittgenstein and those in the philosophy and theology of interreligious encounter The book shows that there is an important and under explored potential for constructive and fruitful engagement between these academic fields It explores and attempts to realize some of this potential by involving both philosophers and theologians and critically assesses previous applications of Wittgenstein s work in interreligious studies Contributors are Gorazd Andrej Guy Bennett Hunter Mikel Burley Thomas D Carroll Paul Cortois Rhiannon Grant Randy Ramal Klaus von Stosch Varja trajn Nuno Venturinha Sebastjan V r s and Daniel H Weiss

Foucault, Christianity and Interfaith Dialogue Henrique Pinto, 2020-11-25 Foucault Christianity and Interfaith Dialogue develops a new model for interfaith dialogue using the work of the French historian of ideas Michel Foucault The author argues that it is the injustice done to the

Other by Roman Catholic Protestant and other centred and unitary models of religious pluralism that allows the introduction of Foucault's de-centring of transcendence and human reason as an alternative model for understanding religious diversity and the role it ought to play in the constitution of the self and the making of society This Foucaultian approach provides a new direction for interfaith dialogue in the modern world and leads to an ethical rather than a nihilistic position while fostering a non-unitary theology of religious pluralism and an open textured process of self transformation The author's original and imaginative application and expansion of Foucault's concept of the More from The Archaeology of Knowledge 1969 makes important and original contributions to academic work on Foucault and contemporary theology

Postmodernism, Literature, and the Future of Theology David Jasper, 2009-06-16 These essays set out to consider the possible future of theology in the light of the so called postmodern condition They are necessarily deeply interdisciplinary since it is a characteristic of post Enlightenment thought to disintegrate the lines of definition which separate areas of reflection in the human sciences Theology we believe must be exposed to the consequences of what has happened in literature and critical theory if it is to have any future outside the protected and isolated environment of ecclesia and the communities of the faithful The authors represent a great diversity of opinion and discipline Not all of us would agree with one another and certainly there is no agreement as to what constitutes postmodernity Yet this very diversity forms the strength and importance of the book for there are no simple answers or straightforward definitions Theology must recognize the pluralism within which it now must carry out its task and which alone defines its future The keynote of the discussion is the tragic Tragedy takes us back to the Greeks and to Nietzsche Both feature centrally in this presentation It also suggests a future a return perhaps through literature to theology and not merely an end of the story as it has been traditionally sold

Andrew Schwartz, 2018-09-15 This book is an exploration into the paradoxical structure of pluralistic thinking as illuminated by both Western and Eastern insights especially Jainism By calling into question the most fundamental assumptions of religious pluralists the author hopes to contribute to a paradigm shift in discourse on religious pluralism and conflicting truth claims Jewish Theology and World Religions Alon Goshen-Gottstein, Eugene

Korn, 2012-04-05 The contributors to this volume represent a range of disciplines and denominations within Judaism and share the conviction that articulating contemporary Jewish views of other world religions is an urgent objective for Judaism Their essays show why a Jewish theology of world religions is a priority for Jewish thinkers and educators concerned with reinvigorating Judaism's contribution to the contemporary world and maintaining Jewish identity and continuity The Reason, Truth, and Theology in Pragmatist Perspective Paul D. Murray, 2004 In this work Paul Murray explores which style of rationality is most appropriate to Christian theology in the contemporary pluralist postfoundationalist postmodern context At its heart is a fresh consideration of the American pragmatist tradition focussing on the writings of Richard Rorty and Nicholas Rescher Where Rorty correctly diagnoses the failures of foundationalist objectivism Rescher's pragmatic idealism is presented as healing the ills in Rorty's own neo pragmatism The significant resonance between Rescher's view of rationality and Christian understanding of the trinity is explored In turn Donald MacKinnon's influential writings are presented as exemplifying just such an approach to theology Murray both articulates an enriched form of Christian postliberalism committed to receiving and learning from other traditions of thought and practice and probes the claim that the dynamics of human rationality can be expected to reflect the Trinitarian dynamics of God's being Paul Murray presents us here with an exhaustive and insightful study of recent pragmatic theory in which he sets up rhythms of healing and completion as well as interrogation particularly remarkable is his exploration of Christianity as the deep and in some sense final interlocutor of pragmatic tradition I strongly recommend this book Olivier Davis Professor of Christian Doctrine King's College London This is a mature wide ranging work that by uniting the intellectual and the practical carries both rational and ethical conviction It does equal justice to the classic teachings of Christianity and to the challenges to rethink them in dialogue with modern and postmodern approaches The result is a conception of Christianity both generously orthodox and deeply engaged with contemporary life and thought It is especially good to see the profound contribution of Donald MacKinnon understood and developed with such perception and relevance David F Ford Regius Professor of Divinity University of Cambridge Paul Murray is currently Lecturer in Systematic Theology within the Department of Theology at the University of Durham England He has previously held posts at St Cuthbert's Seminary Ushaw College Durham and Newman College of Higher Education Birmingham Essays of his exploring issues in philosophical theology science and theology and contemporary Roman Catholic theology have appeared in leading journals and edited collections This is his first monograph

D.Z. Phillips' Contemplative Philosophy of Religion Andy F. Sanders, 2016-05-13 This collection presents a critical discussion and exploration of the late D Z Phillips contemplative approach in the philosophy of religion What are the main characteristics of this ground breaking approach which is inspired by thinkers like Kierkegaard and Wittgenstein and meant as a serious critical alternative to the mainstream way of doing philosophy of religion What is its aim if it is deliberately avoiding apology and defence of faith How does Phillips approach relate to systematic historical and empirical theology and is it really as neutral as he claims it to be Or is he perhaps a certain kind of theologian What are the implications of his contemplative philosophy for central issues of religious life today such as petitionary prayer the hope of eternal life and radical religious diversity The essays of six distinguished scholars from five different nations critically and sympathetically address these questions and are responded to by Phillips in essays of his own written briefly before his sudden death in July 2006

Religious Truth and Identity in an Age of Plurality Peter Jonkers, Oliver J. The New Universalism David J. Krieger, 2006-05-03 By making claims for its universalism a religious community establishes its collective identity orients itself in the world and articulates its basic common convictions about what is real meaningful valuable For those engaged in the search for a theology of religions in today s context of appreciation for radical plurality the question is this Can there be a single unified theology that expresses adequately the apparently very different truths of humanity s religions The New Universalism argues that theology can no longer content itself with correlating the question which the world poses with the answer given in revelation Within today s global horizon every religion and worldview has as much right to answer the basic questions of human existence as any other The task confronting theology therefore lies in the integration and mutual appropriation of many seemingly conflicting revelations Drawing upon the work of Panikkar and Wittgenstein Krieger constructs a method and a philosophical foundation for resolving ideological conflicts and carrying out a theological appropriation of non Christian religions

The Ubuntu God Samuel A. Paul,2009-01-01 In 1948 the Afrikaner Nationalist Government became the ruling party in South Africa and instituted the brutal system known as apartheid To maintain their power Afrikaners drew on Christian scripture and traditions to create self justifying religious narratives that supported their oppressive ideologies prohibiting inclusion and suppressing pluralism In time these Afrikaner Christian narratives began to unravel as counter narratives within the Christian tradition influenced the Black church to demand equality and democracy This socio political and cultural transformation is best understood and interpreted through the vision of ubuntu a mode of thought in African culture that places a value on humanity in community and shifts the focus from singularity to plurality in South African society In The Ubuntu God Samuel A Paul traces how the dismantling of apartheid led to recognition of the religious other the recovery of alternate narratives and the reappearance of ubuntu perspective and practice in the political and public sphere After the peaceful transition to a democratically elected government the Truth and Reconciliation Commission created a platform for multiple voices stories and religious narratives to be shared in a public political context This multiplicity of voices resulted ultimately in the formation of a new constitution for South Africa that sought to uphold African values of community and inclusion in its institutions While South Africa s apartheid system and the Truth and Reconciliation Commission are both rooted in the biblical narrative the former used its theology to enforce an iron rule while the latter combined Christian and African concepts to create a pluralistic and open society Such a society is characterized by a culture that emphasizes communality and interdependence

Catholic Thought Since the Enlightenment Aidan Nichols,1998

Critical Humanism and the Politics of Difference Jeff Noonan,2003-09-05 Noonan shows that at the core of postmodern philosophy with its claim that culture creates humans is a concern to dethrone the modern understanding of human beings as subjects as builders of their world and free when those world building activities are the outcome of free choices He explains that because the postmodern conception of human being does not capture what is universal in all humans it is incapable of critically responding to the forcible subordination of different cultures to European humanity When oppressed groups explain why they struggle against oppression they invoke just that idea of human being as subjectivity that postmodern philosophy claims is the basis of oppression Noonan argues that the voices of cultural differences when they struggle against the forces of hatred and exclusion do not ground themselves just in the particular value of their culture but in the universal value of human freedom and self determination
