Radiocarbon Dating Italian Prehistory:

Radiocarbon Dating and Italian Prehistory Robin Skeates, Ruth Whitehouse, British School at Rome, 1994 Italien Datierung Afrika

Gender & Italian Archaeology Ruth D Whitehouse, 2016-09-16 The original research papers in this volume represent the first attempt to address issues of gender in the archaeology of Italy Ranging from prehistoric to early classic periods the authors address theoretical and methodological issues as well as present a series of cases using both traditional and feminist research methods

Earliest Italy Margherita Mussi, 2006-04-11 This book aims to synthesize more than 600 000 years of Italian prehistory beginning with the Lower Paleolithic and ending with the last hunter gatherers of the early Holocene The author treats such issues as the development of social structure the rise and fall of specific cultural traditions climatic change modifications of the landscape fauna and flora and environmental adaptation and exploitation and includes detailed descriptions of the most important sites

Enclosures in Neolithic Europe G. Varndell, Peter Topping, 2002-01-01 These papers come from a conference on Neolithic Causewayed Enclosures in Europe held in London in 1999 They present a series of snapshots of some of the sites and regions at the forefront of current research on causewayed enclosures in Europe and as such are a complement to the Royal Commission on the Historical Monuments of England RCHME project which has systematically recorded all known Neolithic enclosures in England by both analytical topographic survey techniques and aerial transcription The detailed regional data collected by the RCHME project has allowed a radical reinterpretation of these sites and the recognition that there are regional groups of enclosures This series of papers serves to broaden the discussion about the structure and form of causewayed monuments beyond lowland England looking at a wide geographical range of sites across central Europe as well as considering some sites which do not conform to the traditional type but which have been proved by excavation to have a Neolithic context This collection of papers provides a long awaited and important addition to the debate on these enigmatic prehistoric sites

The Oxford Handbook of the European Bronze Age Harry Fokkens, Anthony Harding, 2013-06-27 The Oxford Handbook of the European Bronze Age is a wide ranging survey of a crucial period in prehistory during which many social economic and technological changes took place Written by expert specialists in the field the book provides coverage both of the themes that characterize the period and of the specific developments that took place in the various countries of Europe After an introduction and a discussion of chronology successive chapters deal with settlement studies burial analysis hoards and hoarding monumentality rock art cosmology gender and trade as well as a series of articles on specific technologies and crafts such as transport metals glass salt textiles and weighing The second half of the book covers each country in turn From Ireland to Russia Scandinavia to Sicily every area is considered and up to date information on important recent finds is discussed in detail The book is the first to consider the whole of the European Bronze Age in both geographical and thematic terms and will be the standard book on the subject for the foreseeable future

Time and Stone: The Emergence and Development of Megaliths and Megalithic Societies in Europe Bettina Schulz Paulsson, 2017-09-15 This analysis is concerned with the dating of megaliths in Europe and is based on 2410 available radiocarbon results and the application of a Bayesian statistical framework It is so far the largest existing attempt to establish a supra regional synthesis on the emergence and development of megaliths in Europe Archaeology and History in Sardinia from the Stone Age to the Middle Ages Stephen L. Dyson, Robert J. Rowland, Jr., 2007 With one of the richest archaeological records and most complicated histories in the Mediterranean Sardinia provides an important laboratory for studying the interaction of indigenous societies and outside forces in a partly isolated geographical context Stephen L Dyson and Robert J Rowland Jr use both material culture and written documents to reconstruct the social and economic processes of an island society that showed both cultural creativity and continuity but responded to invasions from the Phoenicians through the Romans to the Aragonese This first accessible reconstruction of island archaeology provides a balanced picture of the sweep of Sardinian history Dating Urban Classical Deposits: Approaches and Problems in Using Finds to Date Strata Guido Furlan, 2019-10-31 This book considers the dating of archaeological strata on the basis of the assemblages recovered from them It reviews the present state of archaeological practice and follows this with a theoretical discussion of the key concepts involved in the issue of dating deposits European Societies in the Bronze Age A. F. Harding, 2000-05-18 The Bronze Age roughly 2500 to 750 BC was the last fully prehistoric period in Europe and a crucial element in the formation of the Europe that emerged into history in the later first millennium BC This book focuses on the material culture remains of the period and through them provides an interpretation of the main trends in human development that occurred during this timespan It pays particular attention to the discoveries and theoretical advances of the last twenty years that have necessitated a major revision of received opinions about many aspects of the Bronze Age Arranged thematically it reviews the evidence for a range of topics in cross cultural fashion defining which major characteristics of the period were universal and which culture and area specific The result is a comprehensive study that will be of value to specialists and students while remaining accessible to the non specialist Europe's First Farmers T. Douglas Price, 2000-09-14 Essays by leading specialists on a central issue of European history the transition to farming Archaeologies of Complexity Robert Chapman, 2003 Robert Chapman addresses the nature of contemporary archaeology and the study of social change and debates the transition from perceived simple egalitarian societies to our complex modern world The Oxford Handbook of Prehistoric Figurines Timothy Insoll, 2017-04-13 Figurines dating from prehistory have been found across the world but have never before been considered globally The Oxford Handbook of Prehistoric Figurines is the first book to offer a comparative survey of this kind bringing together approaches from across the landscape of contemporary research into a definitive resource in the field The volume is comprehensive authoritative and accessible with dedicated and fully illustrated chapters covering figurines from the Americas Europe Africa Asia and Australasia and the Pacific laid out by geographical location and written by the foremost scholars in figurine studies wherever prehistoric figurines are found they have been expertly described and examined in relation to their subject matter form function context chronology meaning and interpretation Specific themes that are discussed by contributors include for example theories of figurine interpretation meaning in processes and contexts of figurine production use destruction and disposal and the cognitive and social implications of representation Chronologically the coverage ranges from the Middle Palaeolithic through to areas and periods where an absence of historical sources renders figurines prehistoric even though they might have been produced in the mid 2nd millennium AD as in parts of sub Saharan Africa The result is a synthesis of invaluable insights into past thinking on the human body gender identity and how the figurines might have been used either practically ritually or even playfully Interconnections in the Central Mediterranean Anthony Bonanno,Pietro Militello,2008

Archaeology on the Apulian - Lucanian Border Alastair Small,Carola Small,2022-05-26 The broad valley of the Bradano river and its tributary the Basentello separates the Apennine mountains in Lucania from the limestone plateau of the Murge in Apulia in southeast Italy This book aims to explain how the pattern of settlement and land use changed in the valley over the whole period from the Neolithic to the late medieval Ceramics Before Farming Peter Jordan,Marek Zvelebil,2016-06-03 A long overdue advancement in ceramic studies this volume sheds new light on the adoption and dispersal of pottery by non agricultural societies of prehistoric Eurasia Major contributions from Western Europe Eastern Europe and Asia make this a truly international work that brings together different theories and material for the first time Researchers and scholars studying the origins and dispersal of pottery the prehistoric peoples of Eurasia and flow of ancient technologies will all benefit from this book Europe in the Neolithic A. W. R. Whittle,1996-05-23 Dr Whittle reviews the latest archaeological evidence on Neolithic Europe from 7000 to 2500 BC Describing important areas sites and problems he addresses the major themes that have engaged the attention of scholars the transition from a forager lifestyle the rate and dynamics of change and the nature of Neolithic society He challenges conventional views arguing that Neolithic society was rooted in the values and practices of its forager predecessors right across the continent The processes of settling down and adopting farming were piecemeal and slow Only gradually did new attitudes emerge to time and the past to the sacred realms of ancestors and the dead to nature and to the concept of community Unique in its broad and up to date coverage of long term processes of change on a continental scale this completely rewritten and revised version of Whittle s Neolithic Europe a survey reflects radical changes in the evidence and in interpretative approaches over the past decade theoretical and methodological reflections critical ideas constructive discussions Archaeology Barry W. Cunliffe, Wendy Davies, Colin Renfrew, 2002 Twenty six leading scholars from around the world have come together to celebrate the strengths the energies and the sheer intellectual excitement of their discipline They unashamedly proclaim that over the last hundred years archaeology has transformed itself from a genteel antiquarian pursuit deeply rooted in the classical tradition to a rigorous and demanding discipline spanning the humanities and the sciences yet at the same time one widely accessible to the public at large The contributors show how our understanding of the past has changed reveal the exciting ideas under current debate and offer their visions of the future The result is a remarkable overview of world archaeology focusing on new and unexpected themes at the cutting edge of the discipline The Oxford Handbook of Neolithic Europe Chris Fowler, Jan Harding, Daniela Hofmann, 2015-03-26 The Neolithic a period in which the first sedentary agrarian communities were established across much of Europe has been a key topic of archaeological research for over a century However the variety of evidence across Europe the range of languages in which research is carried out and the way research traditions in different countries have developed makes it very difficult for both students and specialists to gain an overview of continent wide trends The Oxford Handbook of Neolithic Europe provides the first comprehensive geographically extensive thematic overview of the European Neolithic from Iberia to Russia and from Norway to Malta offering both a general introduction and a clear exploration of key issues and current debates surrounding evidence and interpretation Chapters written by leading experts in the field examine topics such as the movement of plants animals ideas and people including recent trends in the application of genetics and isotope analyses cultural change from the first appearance of farming to the first metal artefacts domestic architecture subsistence material culture monuments and burial and other treatments of the dead In doing so the volume also considers the history of research and sets out agendas and themes for future work in the field The Chora of Croton 1 Jon Mörter, 2012-10-03 From 1974 to the present the Institute of Classical Archaeology ICA at the University of Texas at Austin has carried out archaeological excavations and surveys in ancient territories chorae in southern Italy This wide ranging investigation which covers a large number of sites and a time period ranging from prehistory to the Middle Ages has unearthed a wealth of new information about ancient rural economies and cultures in the region These discoveries will be published in two multivolume series Metaponto and Croton This volume on the Neolithic settlement at Capo Alfiere is the first in the Croton series The Chora of Croton 1 reports the excavation results of a remarkable Neolithic site at Capo Alfiere on the Ionian coast Capo Alfiere is one of a very few early inhabitation sites in this area to have been excavated extensively with a full team of scientific specialists providing interdisciplinary studies on early farming and animal husbandry It provides comprehensive documentation of the economy material culture and way of life in the central Mediterranean in the sixth and fifth millennia BC Most notable are the remains of a wattle and daub hut enclosed within a massive stone wall Unique for this area this well preserved structure may have been used for special purposes such as ritual as well as for habitation The presence of Stentinello wares shows that the range of this pottery type extended further east than previously thought and casts new light on the development of ceramics in the area
