Adapted for the Screen Hsiu-Chuang Deppman,2010-04-30 Contemporary Chinese films are popular with audiences worldwide but a key reason for their success has gone unnoticed many of the films are adapted from brilliant literary works This book is the first to put these landmark films in the context of their literary origins and explore how the best Chinese directors adapt fictional narratives and styles for film Hsiu Chuang Deppman unites aesthetics with history in her argument that the rise of cinema in China Hong Kong and Taiwan in the late 1980s was partly fueled by burgeoning literary movements Fifth Generation director Zhang Yimou's highly acclaimed films Red Sorghum Raise the Red Lantern and To Live are built on the experimental works of Mo Yan Su Tong and Yu Hua respectively Hong Kong new wave's Ann Hui and Stanley Kwan capitalized on the irresistible visual metaphors of Eileen Chang's postrealism Hou Xiaoxian's new Taiwan cinema turned to fiction by Huang Chunming and Zhu Tianwen for fine grained perspectives on class and gender relations Delving equally into the individual approaches of directors and writers Deppman initiates readers into the exciting possibilities emanating from the world of Chinese cinema The seven in depth studies include a diverse array of forms cinematic adaptation of literature literary adaptation of film auto adaptation and non narrative adaptation and a variety of genres martial arts melodrama romance autobiography documentary drama Complementing this formal diversity is a geographical range that far exceeds the cultural linguistic and physical boundaries of China The directors represented here also work in the U S and Europe and reflect the growing international resources of Chinese language cinema With her sophisticated blend of stylistic and historical analyses Deppman brings much needed nuance to current conversations about the politics of gender class and race in the work of the most celebrated Chinese writers and directors Her pioneering study will appeal to all readers general and academic who have an interest in Chinese literature cinema and culture Modern Chinese Literature ,1998 Reel Food Anne L. Bower,2012-08-06 Reel Food is the first book devoted to food as a vibrant and evocative element of film featuring original essays by major food studies scholars among them Carole Counihan and Michael Ashkenazi This collection reads various films through their uses of food from major food films like Babette's Feast and Big Night to less obvious choices including The Godfather trilogy and The Matrix The contributors draw attention to the various ways in which food is employed to make meaning in film In some cases such as Soul Food and Tortilla Soup for example food is used to represent racial and ethnic identities In other cases such as Chocolat and Like Water for Chocolate food plays a role in gender and sexual politics And of course there is also discussion of the centrality of popcorn to the movie going experience This book is a feast for scholars foodies and cinema buffs It will be of major interest to anyone working in popular culture film studies and food studies at both the undergraduate and graduate level Contemporary Chinese Novels in Translation since 1978 Yun Wu,2024-10-14 This book aims to complement the traditional focus of translation studies which has primarily centered on translating English into other languages It presents a comprehensive analysis of the reverse translation trajectory exploring the movement of Chinese literature into the core English literary domain The book aims to explore the ideological and sociological dynamics that underlie the translation of contemporary Chinese novels This is achieved through an examination of the translation selection process translation paratexts and the roles of translation agents Case studies are employed to illustrate specific linguistic literary and cultural challenges within translation It dissects the cultural and literary implications of translating genres such as women's writing science fiction and Internet literature The argument presented is that the translation of peripheral literature is indispensable in shaping global literature Beyond its literary implications the book identifies the political significance inherent in such reverse translation endeavors It suggests that the translation of Chinese literature holds notable political interest for the Chinese government which aims to reshape China's image and bolster the nation's soft power through literary translation This work will be an essential read to students and scholars of translation studies comparative literature and Chinese studies

China into Film Jerome Silbergeld, 2000-03-01 Since 1984 Chinese cinema has been the most dramatic entry onto the international film scene China into Film is the first book to look at contemporary Chinese cinema as a visual art and to illustrate the ways in which it has been shaped by centuries of Chinese tradition Jerome Silbergeld looks at the significance of gender roles the strategies of film makers in coping with state censorship the translation of novels into films the continuing attachment of film makers to melodrama and cinematic critiques of Maoism and post Maoist culture Abundantly illustrated with Chinese paintings as well as scenes from such internationally acclaimed films as Yellow Earth Red Sorghum Raise the Red Lantern and Farewell My Concubine China into Film reveals a cinematic form at once excitingly new and deeply imbedded in traditional Chinese visual culture Contemporary Chinese Fiction Writers Laifong Leung, 2016-07-28

In the years since the death of Mao Zedong interest in Chinese writers and Chinese literature has risen significantly in the West In 2000 Gao Xingjian became the first Chinese writer to receive the Nobel Prize for Literature followed by Mo Yan in 2012 and writers such as Ha Jin and Da Sijie have also become well known in the West Despite this progress the vast majority of Chinese writers remain largely unknown outside of China This book introduces the lives and works of eighty contemporary Chinese writers and focuses on writers from the Rightist generation Bai Hua Gao Xiaosheng Liu Shaotang writers of the Red Guard generation Li Rui Wang Anyi Post Cultural Revolution Writers as well as others Unlike earlier works it provides detailed often first hand biographical information on this wide range of writers including their career trajectories major themes and artistic characteristics In addition to this each entry includes a critical presentation and evaluation of the writer's major works a selected bibliography of publications that includes works in Chinese works translated into English and critical articles and books available in English Offering a valuable contribution to the field of contemporary Chinese literature by making detailed information about Chinese writers more accessible this book will be of interest to students and scholars Chinese Literature Contemporary Literature and Chinese Studies Contemporary Chinese Fiction by Su Tong and Yu Hua Hua Li, 2011-02-18 The focus of this study is coming of age in troubled Cultural Revolutionary times as portrayed in contemporary Chinese Bildungsroman fiction by Su Tong and Yu Hua along with a comprehensive overview of the Bildungsroman in China and the west Liu Zaifu: Selected Critical Essays Zaifu Liu, 2021-06-17 Liu Zaifu is a name that has already been ingrained within contemporary Chinese literary history This landmark volume presents Anglophone readers with Liu's profound reflections on Chinese literature and culture at different times. The essays collected here demonstrate Liu's historical experience and trajectory as an exiled Chinese intellectual who persistently safeguards the individuality and the autonomy of literature, refusing to succumb to political manipulation. Liu's theory of literary subjectivity has opened ways for Chinese writers to thrive and innovate. His panoramic view not only unravels the intricate interplay between literature and politics but also firmly regards the transcendental value of literature as a significant ground to subvert revolutionary dogmatism and criticize Chinese modernity. Rather than drawing upon the existing paradigm, he reinvents his own unique theoretical conceptions in order to exile the borrowed gods. Encyclopedia of Contemporary Chinese Culture Edward Lawrence Davis, 2005. First Published in 2009. Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis, an informal company. The Troublesome Legacy of Commissioner Lin Joyce A. Madancy, 2020-03-23. In 1908, a very public crusade against opium was in full swing throughout China, and the provincial capital and treaty port of Fuzhou was a central stage for the campaign. This, the most successful attempt undertaken by the Chinese state before 1949 to eliminate opium, came at a time when, according to many historians, China's central state was virtually powerless. This volume attempts to reconcile that apparent contradiction. The remarkable, albeit temporary, success of the anti-opium campaign between 1906 and 1920 is as yet largely unexplained. How these results were achieved, how that progress was squandered, and why China's opium problem proved so tenacious are the questions that inspired this volume. The attack on this social problem was led by China's central and provincial authorities, aided by reformist elites and seemingly supported by most Chinese. The anti-opium movement relied on the control and oversight provided by a multilayered state bureaucracy, the activism and support of unofficial elite-led reform groups, the broad nationalistic and humanitarian appeal of the campaign, and the cooperation of the British government. The extent to which the Chinese state was able to control the pace and direction of the anti-opium campaign and the evolving nature of the political space in which elite reformers publicized and enforced that campaign are the guiding themes of this analysis.
