from Separated from the Sun (2022)

Rains wander your face, the gentleness
of dew is in your voice.

Let each and every spring be yours!
May all mountains tire and arrive here!

Here at the place where stars have spilled you where waters flow; the place where you say
Curl up on my lap and let birds take flight
In the place where we collected questions
such as 'what was before words?'

What I know of love is so little!
Yet I'm constantly thinking of you!

pointing at his back he continued to write poetry through these tumultuous years chronicling his journey from the heights of fame to the depths of institutionalism and ultimately to a final redemptive return to society in 2005 The voice of this besieged poet burdened with exile and illness captured the spirit of his generation and now inspires young readers By presenting Shi Zhi s poems in chronological order Winter Sun allows readers to appreciate the evolution of his poetry from his earliest work to his most recent poems Masterfully translated by Jonathan Stalling and with an introduction by leading poetry critic Zhang Qinqin this landmark collection ensures that Shi Zhi s poetry so important to Chinese readers during the most challenging of times will engage the hearts and minds of new readers the world over for years to come

its own literature in the face of social upheaval Literary canon and national identity are inextricably tied together the composition of a canon being the attempt to single out those literary works that best express a nation's culture This process is of course fluid and subject to significant shifts particularly at times of epochal change This volume explores changes in the canon of twentieth century Russian poetry from the 1991 collapse of the Soviet Union to the end of Putin's second term as Russian President in 2008 In the wake of major institutional changes such as the abolition of state censorship and the introduction of a market economy the way was open for wholesale reinterpretation of twentieth century poets such as Iosif Brodskii Anna Akhmatova and Osip Mandelstam their works and their lives In the last twenty years many critics have discussed the possibility of various coexisting canons rooted in official and non official literature and suggested replacing the term Soviet literature with a new definition Russian literature of the Soviet period Contributions to this volume explore the multiple factors involved in reshaping the canon understood as a body of literary texts given exemplary or representative status as classics Among factors which may influence the composition of the canon are educational institutions competing views of scholars and critics including figures outside Russia and the self canonising activity of poets themselves Canon revision further reflects contemporary concerns with the destabilising effects of emigration and the internet and the desire to reconnect with pre revolutionary cultural traditions through a narrative of the past which foregrounds continuity Despite persistent nostalgic yearnings in some quarters for a single canon the current situation is defiantly diverse balancing both the Soviet literary tradition and the parallel contemporaneous literary worlds of the emigration and the underground Required reading for students teachers and lovers of Russian literature Twentieth Century Russian Poetry brings our understanding of post Soviet Russia up to date Historical Dictionary of Modern Chinese Literature Li-hua
