J. M. Synge and Travel Writing of the Irish Revival Giulia Bruna,2017-10-31 Between the late 1890s and the early 1900s the young Irish writer John Millington Synge journeyed across his home country documenting his travels intermittently for ten years His body of travel writing includes the travel book The Aran Islands his literary journalism about West Kerry and Wicklow published in various periodicals and his articles for the Manchester Guardian about rural poverty in Connemara and Mayo Although Synge's nonfiction is often considered of minor weight compared with his drama Bruna argues persuasively that his travel narratives are instances of a pioneering ethnographic and journalistic imagination J M Synge and Travel Writing of the Irish Revival is the first comprehensive study of Synge s travel writing about Ireland compiled during the zeitgeist of the preindependence Revival movement Bruna argues that Synge s nonfiction subverts inherited modes of travel writing that put an emphasis on Empire and Nation Synge s writing challenges these grand narratives by expressing a more complex idea of Irishness grounded in his empathetic observation of the local rural communities he traveled amongst Drawing from critically neglected revivalist travel literature newspapers and periodicals and visual and archival documents Bruna sketches a new portrait of a seminal Irish Literary Renaissance figure and sheds new light on the itineraries of activism and literary engagement of the broader Revival movement

Selected Essays of Sean O'Faolain Brad Kent,2016-10-01 Sean O Faolain 1900 1991 was Ireland s leading social and political critic in the period following the country s independence from the United Kingdom Since his death scholarly opinion has alternately cast him as an arch revisionist a liberal nationalist and a frustrated republican The Selected Essays of Sean O Faolain reassesses his reputation by showing that he wrote in the tradition of post Enlightenment European intellectuals and that while he was a significant figure in Ireland his work extends beyond immediate national concerns This volume includes over fifty unabridged essays by O Faolain on a wide range of subjects from canonical writers to architecture from religious scandals to economics from nationalism to internationalism from long dead historical figures to recent controversies O Faolain s fearlessness in taking on the major political cultural and religious figures of his day his masterly use of rhetoric and his intellectual acuity have contributed to his works being quoted often by scholars working across several disciplines Many of these essays appear here in print for the first time since they were published in the foremost periodicals of their day An extensive introduction and helpful annotations contextualise and explain them for a new audience In his re readings of history and challenges to dominant historiographical trends O Faolain has become a pariah to some and a hero to others The Selected Essays of Sean O Faolain bridges some of these competing visions presenting a more complex figure through his varied corpus of writing
