Taylor, 2015-11-10 Reconstructing Rawls has one overarching goal to reclaim Rawls for the Enlightenment more specifically the Prussian Enlightenment Rawls's so called political turn in the 1980s motivated by a newfound interest in pluralism and the accommodation of difference has been unhealthy for autonomy based liberalism and has led liberalism more broadly toward cultural relativism be it in the guise of liberal multiculturalism or critiques of cosmopolitan distributive justice theories Robert Taylor believes that it is time to redeem A Theory of Justice's implicit promise of a universalistic comprehensive Kantian liberalism Reconstructing Rawls on Kantian foundations leads to some unorthodox conclusions about justice as fairness to be sure for example it yields a more civic humanist reading of the priority of political liberty a more Marxist reading of the priority of fair equality of opportunity and a more ascetic or antimaterialist reading of the difference principle It nonetheless leaves us with a theory that is still recognizably Rawlsian and reveals a previously untraveled road out of Theory a road very different from the one Rawls himself ultimately followed Monthly Catalog of United States

Government Publications, 1994 Haunted by History Cyril Buffet, Beatrice Heuser, 1998 Europe is a continent weighed down by the shadows of its past its wars the traditional enmities the suspicions of neighbours fuelled by historical memories This has immediate consequences for the understanding and representation of the past journalists politicians historians often apply simplistic pre conceived patterns i.e. myths to current events resulting in distorted and misleading analyses This volume exposes the way some historical myths such as Balance of Power Rapallo the Special Relationship the Franco German Couple the Peril of Islam are used to blur not to clarify our understanding of international affairs even to manipulate contemporary politics criticism and fearful of renewed divisions Descriptions of the process of developing school curriculums to explain past atrocities the new myths it created and their possible consequences comprise most of Chapter Four The final chapter offers conclusions on the effects of past mythologies and the trauma they have wrought It draws comparisons with other divided societies and their approaches to dealing with the past These include Burundi Ethiopia South Africa the United States Taiwan Canada Belgium Switzerland and Singapore An extensive bibliography of books theses conference papers official documents articles periodicals journals films websites other media and interviews includes translations of titles in Kinyarwanda French Dutch and German
