Under the Rainbow Ira Rubin,2022-07-26 Ira Rubin started writing poetry at the age of twelve The catalyst for his writing poetry was an English translation of Turkish poetry He was fascinated by how changing the meaning of a word in a sentence changed the meaning of the entire sentence Thus he began writing poetry The first poem he wrote was titled A Little White Cloud The first line was The Sky on its clothesline doth hold the stars the moon the sun and the last line was And burst into a little white cloud What was in between those lines is lost forever as is lost almost all of the more than twelve thousand poems he has written in his lifetime He has started to write poetry again If you like the poems in between these two covers you would be curious to see what his poems to be would be like He is curious too Affectionately Ira The Path on the albums and rewritings of classical poems In other words heavy metal tried from the beginning to locate itself in a liminal space between pedestrian mass culture and a rather elitist adherence to complexity and musical craftsmanship speaking from a subaltern position against the hegemonic discourse This collection of essays provides a comprehensive and multi disciplinary look at British heavy metal from its beginning through The New Wave of British Heavy Metal up to the increasing internationalization and widespread acceptance in the late 1980s The individual chapter authors approach British heavy metal from a textual perspective providing critical analyses of the politics and ideology behind the lyrics images and performances Rather than focus on individual bands or songs the essays collected here argue with the larger system of heavy metal music in mind providing comprehensive analyses that relate directly to the larger context of British life and culture The wide range of approaches should provide readers from various disciplines with new and original ideas about the study of this phenomenon of popular culture
