Natives Of Space 1st Edition:

Space Feminisms Marie-Pier Boucher, Claire Webb, Annick Bureau, Nahum, 2024-01-25 Employing a global approach to feminist theory this book examines how scientific popular scholarly and artistic imaginations of space have since the 1950s reflected and embedded Earthly hopes anxieties and futures Rather than simply a platform for imagining the future it cultivates radical and alternative modes of inquiry around space through seeing space as a material reality that reflexively encodes humans self perceptions of their planet and beyond Bringing together essayistic reflections artworks and interviews with space scientists engineers and astronauts past and present in one volume Space Feminisms inspects the transformation of terrestrially held notions of gender race class and ableism as they migrate to the extraterrestrial whilst drawing new connections between feminist thought and extraterrestrial power structures Space Feminisms makes a radical enquiry into how earthly power structures are already expanding into our skies facilitating a collaborative and interdisciplinary platform for scholars artists and designers to imagine radical constructions of human futures beyond Earth At the intersection of scientific cultural social and artistic speculations the book gathers leading scholars scientists artists and designers to develop innovative tactics and disruptive participations to create generative alternative and radical futures of and in space Space and Time Emile Borel, 2003-01-01 Accessible classic by a world famous mathematician covers geometry and the shape of the earth space and time in astronomy abstract geometry and geographical maps continuity and topology the propagation of light the special and general theories of relativity and theoretical and experimental researches 1926 edition Includes 15 figures

On Video Games Soraya Murray, 2017-10-30 Today over half of all American households own a dedicated game console and gaming industry profits trump those of the film industry worldwide In this book Soraya Murray moves past the technical discussions of games and offers a fresh and incisive look at their cultural dimensions She critically explores blockbusters like The Last of Us Metal Gear Solid Spec Ops The Line Tomb Raider and Assassin s Creed to show how they are deeply entangled with American ideological positions and contemporary political cultural and economic conflicts As quintessential forms of visual material in the twenty first century mainstream games both mirror and spur larger societal fears hopes and dreams and even address complex struggles for recognition This book examines both their elaborately constructed characters and densely layered worlds whose social and environmental landscapes reflect ideas about gender race globalisation and urban life In this emerging field of study Murray provides novel theoretical approaches to discussing games and playable media as culture Demonstrating that games are at the frontline of power relations she reimagines how we see them and more importantly how we understand them Feminist Movements in Time and Space Giada Bonu Rosenkranz, Donatella della Porta, 2025-02-14 This volume provides a broad analysis of feminist movements both historical and present day in Europe It will fill the gap in the literature on feminist mobilizations through a systematic analysis of European third wave feminism from a cross national perspective covering Denmark France Greece Italy Poland Slovenia

Spain and Turkey and a cross time perspective covering the time frame 2010 2021 In doing this the authors also single out the different constellations of feminist movements as related to specific national political opportunities and networks of alliance and opposition This book will be of interest to students and scholars in gender studies feminist theory and social movement studies Perspectives in Space Surveillance Ramaswamy Sridharan, Antonio F. Pensa, 2017-05-12 The development of deep space surveillance technology and its later application to near Earth surveillance covering work at Lincoln Laboratory from 1970 to 2000 In the 1950s the United States and the Soviet Union raced to develop space based intelligence gathering capability The Soviets succeeded first with SPUTNIK I in 1957 The United States began to monitor the growing Soviet space presence by developing technology for the detection and tracking of man made resident space objects RSOs in near Earth orbit In 1972 the Soviet Union launched a satellite into deep space orbit and the U S government called on MIT Lincoln Laboratory to develop deep space surveillance technology This book describes these developments as well as the later application of deep space surveillance technology to near Earth surveillance covering work at Lincoln Laboratory on space surveillance from 1970 to 2000 The contributors all key participants in developing these technologies discuss topics that include narrow beam narrow bandwidth radar for deep surveillance wide bandwidth radar for RSO monitoring ground based electro optical deep space surveillance and its adaptation for space based surveillance radar as the means of real time search and discovery techniques methods of analyses of signature data from narrow bandwidth radars and the collision hazard for satellites in geosynchronous orbit stemming initially from the failure of TELSTAR 401 They also describe some unintended byproducts of this pioneering work including the use of optical space surveillance techniques for near Earth asteroid detection Contributors Rick Abbott Robert Bergemann E M Gaposchkin Israel Kupiec Richard Lambour Antonio F Pensa Eugene Rork Jayant Sharma Craig Solodyna Ramaswamy Sridharan J Scott Stuart George Zollinger Race and Ethnicity in America Russell M. Lawson, Benjamin A. Lawson, 2019-10-11 Divided into four volumes Race and Ethnicity in America provides a complete overview of the history of racial and ethnic relations in America from pre contact to the present The five hundred years since Europeans made contact with the indigenous peoples of America have been dominated by racial and ethnic tensions During the colonial period from 1500 to 1776 slavery and servitude of whites blacks and Indians formed the foundation for race and ethnic relations After the American Revolution slavery labor inequalities and immigration led to racial and ethnic tensions after the Civil War labor inequalities immigration and the fight for civil rights dominated America s racial and ethnic experience From the 1960s to the present the unfulfilled promise of civil rights for all ethnic and racial groups in America has been the most important sociopolitical issue in America Race and Ethnicity in America tells this story of the fight for equality in America The first volume spans pre contact to the American Revolution the second the American Revolution to the Civil War the third Reconstruction to the Civil Rights Movement and the fourth the Civil Rights Movement to the present All volumes explore the culture society labor war and politics and cultural expressions of racial and ethnic groups The Notion of Space within Diverse Fields of Cognizance Driss Bouyahya, 2021-07-28 This volume provides a multifaceted approach to how meanings of space are created and how they impact individuals' perceptions, sense of belonging, identity, actions, and ideologies. It brings together various contributions that shed light on the multiplicity of voices and narratives on space, on their co-existence and forms of interactions, and on the ways in which they emerged from and reshaped relations of power.

Intellectuals in the Latin Space during the Era of Fascism Valeria Galimi, Annarita Gori, 2020-02-26 This volume investigates a galaxy of diverse networks and intellectual actors who engaged in a broad political environment from conservatism to the most radical right between the World Wars. Looking beyond fascism, it considers the less investigated domain of the Latin space, which is both geographical and cultural, encompassing countries of both Southern Europe and Latin America. Focus is given to mid-level civil servants, writers, journalists, and artists, and important transnational agents, as well as the larger intellectual networks to which they belonged. The book poses such questions as: In what way did the intellectuals align national and nationalistic values with the project of creating a Republic of Letters that extended beyond each country's borders, a space in which one could produce and disseminate thought whose objective was to encourage political action? What kinds of networks did they succeed in establishing in the interwar period? Who were these intellectuals in action? What role did they play in their institutions and cultural associations' activities? A wider and intricate analytical framework emerges, exploring right-wing intellectual agents and their networks, their travels, and the circulation of ideas during the interwar period, and on a transatlantic scale, offering an original contribution to the debate on interwar authoritarian regimes and opening new possibilities for research. Chapter 2 of this book is freely available as a downloadable Open Access PDF at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> under a Creative Commons Attribution (CC BY) 4.0 license.

Human Migration to Space Elizabeth Song Lockard, 2014-05-13 Human migration to space will be the most profound catalyst for evolution in the history of humankind, yet this has had little impact on determining our strategies for this next phase of exploration. Habitation in space will require extensive technological interfaces between humans and their alien surroundings, and how they are deployed will critically inform the processes of adaptation. As humans begin to spend longer durations in space, eventually establishing permanent outposts on other planets, the scope of technological design considerations must expand beyond the meager requirements for survival to include issues not only of comfort and well-being but also of engagement and negotiation with the new planetary environment that will be crucial to our longevity beyond Earth. Approaching this question from an interdisciplinary approach, this dissertation explores how the impact of interior space architecture can meet both the physical and psychological needs of future space colonists and set the stage for humankind to thrive and grow while setting down new roots beyond Earth.

Calder: The Conquest of Space Jed Perl, 2020-04-14 The concluding volume to the first biography of one of the most important, influential, and beloved twentieth-century sculptors and one of the greatest artists in the cultural history of America is a vividly written, illuminating account of his triumphant later years The second and final volume of this magnificent biography begins during World War II when Calder known to all as Sandy and his wife Louisa opened their home to a stream of artists and writers in exile from Europe In the postwar decades they divided their time between the United States and France as Calder made his first monumental public sculptures and received blockbuster commissions that included Expo 67 in Montreal and the 1968 Olympics in Mexico City Jed Perl makes clear how Calder s radical sculptural imagination shaped the minimalist and kinetic art movements that emerged in the 1960s And we see as well that through everything their ever expanding friendships with artists and writers of all stripes working to end the war in Vietnam hosting riotous dance parties at their Connecticut home seeing the mobile Calder s essential artistic invention find its way into Webster s dictionary Calder and Louisa remained the risk taking singularly bohemian couple they had been since first meeting at the end of the Roaring Twenties The biography ends with Calder s death in 1976 at the age of seventy eight only weeks after an encyclopedic retrospective of his work opened at the Whitney Museum in New York but leaves us with a new clearer understanding of his legacy both as an artist and a man
