Time, History, and Philosophy in the Works of Wilson Harris Gianluca Delfino, 2012-11-01 Gianluca Delfino s study is based on the assumption that Wilson Harris works as a whole show a remarkable unity of thought rooted in their author s complex imagination As a valuable contribution to Caribbean Literature and Philosophy Harris imaginative approach to reality is discussed in relation to the categories of history and time with reference to several novels from Palace of The Peacock to The Mask of the Beggar with a special focus on The Infinite

Rehearsal Jonestown and The Dark Jester spanning more than forty years of his vast literary production encompassing critical perspectives ranging from African philosophy to Jungian readings through historiography and anthropology As a result the cross cultural quality of Harris thought emerges as a healing outcome of the traumatic colonial encounter bringing together elements of Amerindian African and European origin in an ongoing dialogue with time nature and the psyche The outcome of an extensive research into Harris world Delfino s study stands in the tradition of the late Hena Maes Jelinek s critical enterprise by expanding philosophical and psychological readings with the addition of anthropological perspectives that appeal to those who were captured by Harris intricacy and rescued by Maes Jelinek s illuminating interpretations The attempt to reconstruct a unifying frame around Harris body of work suggests a new way of looking at one of the Caribbean s most controversial authors

Memories of the Classical Underworld in Irish and Caribbean Literature Madeleine Scherer, 2021-09-20 Classical Memories is an intervention into the field of adaptation studies taking the example of classical reception to show that adaptation is a process that can be driven by and produce intertextual memories I see classical memories as a memory driven type of adaptation that draws on and reproduces schematic and otherwise de contextualised conceptions of antiquity and its cultural exports in broadly speaking the twentieth and twenty first centuries These memory driven adaptations differ often in significant ways from more traditional adaptations that seek to either continue or deconstruct a long running tradition that can be traced back to antiquity as well as its canonical points of reception in later ages When investigating such a popular and widespread set of narratives characters and images like those that remain of Graeco Roman antiquity terms like adaptation and reception could and should be nuanced further to allow us to understand the complex interactions between modern works and classical antiquity in more detail particularly when it pertains to postcolonial or post digital classical reception In Classical Memories I propose that understanding certain types of adaptations as intertextual memories allows us to do just that

Communities in Contemporary Anglophone Caribbean Short Stories Lucy Evans, 2014 This book explores representations of community in Anglophone Caribbean short story collections and cycles of the late twentieth and early twenty first century Conversations in Philosophy F. Ochieng'-Odiambo, 2009-10-02 Conversations in Philosophy Crossing the Boundaries consists of essays that revolve around the question of the nature and meaning of philosophy even as it demonstrates philosophy's significance and relevance to some fundamental human problems and issues. The essays present diverse views of what philosophy might be and might aspire to be with contributors being influenced by a wide range of philosophical approaches and traditions. The conversations also cut across disciplinary boundaries to interrogate and utilize ideas taken from ethics, epistemology, metaphysics, literary studies, cultural studies, and the sociology of science. Traversing regional boundaries, the essays show philosophical analysis at work in exploring some issues pertinent to African, Caribbean, European, and American experiences even while not ignoring Asian traditions. The collection presents interesting and intriguing views on how philosophical inquiry can illuminate various pressing problems: development, conflict, the discriminating preservation of worthwhile traditions, and the prevalence of apathy. It also reflects the vitality and multifaceted nature of philosophical discourse in grappling with live issues. Conversations in Philosophy is a comprehensive, balanced, and unique anthology of readings capturing the diversity of philosophical investigation.

Caribbean Without Borders Raquel Puig, Dorsía Smith, 2008-12-18 Caribbean Studies is an emerging field. As such, many topics within this discipline have yet to be explored and developed. This collection of essays is one of the forerunners dedicated to a comprehensive study of the literature, language, and culture of the Caribbean. By exploring the works of such prominent literary scholars as Samuel Selvon and Lorna Goodison, as well as the myriad of issues pertaining to the Caribbean experience, this volume provides an engaging overview of literary language and cultural analysis. Because of this wide range of essays, this text meets a need to examine the Caribbean in its complexity, which is rarely addressed.

Assembling Alternatives Romana Huk, 2003-04-29 First anthology to examine the national borders of postmodern poetry. Perspectives on the 'Other America', 2009-01-01 Uniting critical writing on novels, poetry, painting, and ritual, this volume takes a regional approach to the cultures of the Caribbean Basin. Ranging across the linguistic spectrum of the area, it examines cultural production from the Anglophone, Francophone, and Hispanophone islands, Suriname, and the Guyanas, and Latin and Central America. The interdisciplinary nature of the collection and the challenge it poses to the balkanization of the region within academic discourse will make it of especial interest to students and scholars of the Caribbean. Inspired by the category of the Other America as developed by Édouard Glissant, the book offers a series of original and stimulating engagements with topics that include nationalism, migration, and exile, landscape, and the environment, gender, and sexuality. Postcolonial Studies and World Literature In addition to contributions by leading scholars such as Peter Hulme, Theo Dhaen, and Elizabeth Paravisini Gebert, it contains interviews with two renowned novelists from the region, Lawrence Scott and Mayra Santos-Febres. Underpinning the collection is an interrogation of received ideas of the nation-state and a suggestion that regionalism might provide a better optic through which to view the circum-Caribbean, that national consciousness in other words must always also be a regional consciousness.

Multilingualism and the Twentieth-Century Novel James Reay Williams, 2019-04-17 This book argues that the Anglophone novel in the twentieth century is in fact always multilingual. Rooting its analysis in modern Europe and the Caribbean, it recognises that monolingualism not multilingualism is a historical and global rarity and argues that this fact must inform our study of the novel even when it remains notionally Anglophone Drawing principally upon four authors Joseph Conrad Jean Rhys Wilson Harris and Junot Diaz this study argues that a close engagement with the novel reveals a series of ways to apprehend depict and theorise various kinds of language diversity In so doing it reveals the presence of the multilingual as a powerful shaping force for the direction of the novel from 1900 to the present day which cuts across and complicates current understandings of modernist postcolonial and global literatures Postcolonial Literatures of Climate Change ,2022-07-04

Postcolonial Literatures of Climate Change investigates the evolving nature of postcolonial literary criticism in response to global regional and local environmental transformations brought about by climate change It builds upon and extends previous studies in postcolonial ecocriticism to demonstrate how the growing awareness of human caused global warming has begun to permeate literary consciousness praxis and analysis The breadth of the volume s coverage the diversity of its focal locations cultures genres and texts serves as a salient reminder that while climate change is global its impacts vary effecting peoples from place to place unequally and often in accordance with their particular historical experience of colonialism and neo colonialism as well as their ongoing marginalisations Demonstrating the urgency of invoking novel epistemological approaches combining the scientific and the imaginative this book is a must read for those concerned about the present and potential impacts of climate change on formerly colonised areas of the world The comprehensive and illuminating Introduction offers a crucial history and current state of postcolonial ecocriticism as it has been and is addressing climate crises Helen Tiffin University of Wollongong The broad focus on the polar regions the Pacific and the Caribbean with added essays on environmental justice activism in India and Egypt opens up rich terrain for examination under the rubric of postcolonial and ecocritical analysis not only expanding recent studies in this field but also enabling new comparisons and conceptual linkages Helen Gilbert Royal Holloway University of London The subject is topical and vital and will become even more so as the problem of how to reconcile the demands of climate change with the effects on regions and individual nations already damaged by the economic effects of colonisation and the subsequent inequalities resulting from neo colonialism continues to grow Gareth Griffiths Em Prof University of Western Australia
