Women Scientists in Fifties Science Fiction Films Bonnie Noonan, 2015-02-18 In the 1950s science was rapidly advancing and so were scientific opportunities for women Modern science fiction films reflected these simultaneous social developments This book proposes that the social ideology of the 1950s which was partly concerned with gender issues saturated the B science fiction films of that era and inspired a new appreciation for the role of women in scientific advancements and other social achievements Drawing on feminist literary and cultural theory the author argues that the emergence of the modern American science fiction film in 1950 and the situation of post World War II female scientists together created a film genre That genre was explicitly amenable to exploring the tension between a woman's place in her home and her place in the work force particularly in scientific fields Early chapters provide a general introduction to the science fiction genre and specifically describe 1950s B science fiction films as they resonate with concerns proper to feminist theory Subsequent chapters offer detailed historically situated readings of 10 B science fiction films from the 1950s that feature women in science The cinematic representations of female scientists are compared and contrasted with real female professionals of the time illuminating the changing gender dynamics reflected in popular film in the 1950s Films analyzed include Rocketship X M It Came from Beneath the Sea Them Tarantula The Deadly Mantis Beginning of the End Kronos Cat Women of the Moon World Without End and Queen of Outer Space

Invasions USA Michael Bliss, 2014-07-30 Out of more than 180 science fiction films produced in the United States between 1950 and 1959 twenty were concerned with the notion of an invasion Of these a select number used the invasions as metaphors of issues that were of importance to America at the time such as assaults upon individuality and marriage and debates about the supremacy of the human race The invasion may be real The Day the Earth Stood Still and War of the Worlds dreamed Invaders from Mars or the result of a mental breakdown as seems to be the case in Invasion of the Body Snatchers Real or not all of these massive disturbances to the status quo convey the same anxiety In the 1950s many Americans felt that things in their world weren't quite right and this sense of unease was expressed in the country's art notably these films In Invasions USA: The Essential Science Fiction Films of the 1950s Michael Bliss examines movies that stripped away the veneer of normality during a decade often portrayed as the last innocent period in American history From a boy's nightmares about his alien controlled parents and a young woman's fears that her fiancé has been replaced by an emotionless alien to an extraterrestrial visitor who comes to warn mankind about its self-destructive ways the stories of these films offer a variety of messages both subtle and overt With detailed discussions and analyses of the films in question this book examines a unique group of movies with profound messages By exploring depictions of insecurities whether personal or political Bliss shows how science fiction films spoke to American audiences deeply troubled by their circumstances Invasions USA will appeal to science fiction buffs and film aficionados interested in this significant phenomenon in movie and cultural history Neuroscience in Science Fiction Films Sharon Packer, M.D., 2014-11-19 As the gap between science fiction and science fact has narrowed films that were intended as pure fantasy at the time of their premier have taken on deeper meaning This volume explores neuroscience in science fiction films focusing on neuroscience and psychiatry as running themes in SF and finding correlations between turning points in neuroscience fiction and advances in the scientific field The films covered include The Strange Case of Dr Jekyll and Mr Hyde The Island of Dr Moreau Robocop The Stepford Wives The Mind Snatchers and iconic franchises like Terminator Ironman and Planet of the Apes Examining the parallel histories of psychiatry neuroscience and cinema this book shows how science fiction films offer insightful commentary on the scientific and philosophical developments of their times Columbia Pictures Horror, Science Fiction and Fantasy Films, 1928-1982 Michael R. Pitts, 2014-01-10 From 1928 through 1982 when Columbia Pictures Corporation was a traded stock company the studio released some of the most famous and popular films dealing with horror science fiction and fantasy This volume covers more than 200 Columbia feature films within these genres among them Close Encounters of the Third Kind The 7th Voyage of Sinbad Earth vs the Flying Saucers and The Revenge of Frankenstein Also discussed in depth are the vehicles of such horror icons as Boris Karloff Bela Lugosi and John Carradine Additionally highlighted are several of Columbia's lesser known genre efforts including the Boston Blackie and Crime Doctor series such individual features as By Whose Hand Cry of the Werewolf Devil Goddess Terror of the Tongs and The Creeping Flesh and dozens of the studio's short subjects serials and made for television movies Gender in Science Fiction Films, 1964-1979 Bonnie Noonan, 2015-06-15 The 1950s era of science fiction film effectively ended when space flight became a reality with the first manned orbit of Earth in 1962 As the genre's wildly speculative depictions of science and technology gave way to more reality based representations relations between male and female characters reflected the changing political and social climates of the era Drawing on critical analyses film reviews and cultural commentaries this book examines the development of science fiction film and its representations of gender from the groundbreaking films of 1968 including 2001 A Space Odyssey Barbarella and Planet of the Apes through its often overlooked Middle Period which includes such films as Colossus The Forbin Project 1970 The Stepford Wives 1975 and A Boy and His Dog 1975 The author examines intersections of gender and race in The Omega Man 1971 and Frogs 1972 gender and dystopia in Soylent Green 1973 and Logan s Run 1976 and gender and computers in Demon Seed 1977 The big budget films of the late 1970s Close Encounters of the Third Kind Alien and Star Wars are also discussed Transforming the Screen, 1950-1959 Peter Lev, 2003 Covering a tumultuous period of the 1950s this work explores the divorce of movie studios from their theater chains the panic of the blacklist era the explosive emergence of science fiction as the dominant genre and the rise of television and Hollywood s response with widescreen spectacles British Science Fiction Cinema I. Q. Hunter, 1999 On British science fiction films

A Distant Technology J. P. Telotte, 1999 Science fiction films celebrate and critique the impact of a burgeoning technology on the world s cultural political and social milieu The Machine Age roughly delineated by the two decades between World Wars was a watershed period during which modern society entered into an ambiguous embrace with technology that continues today J P Telotte carefully blends film technology cultural and genre studies to illuminate this nearly forgotten era in our cinematic history and to show through analysis of classics like The Invisible Ray Metropolis and Things to Come how technology played a major role as motif actor and producer What he also discovers as he ranges among the American British Russian French and German science fiction cinema as well as mainstream films figures and cultural products such as the New York World s Fair is a fundamental ambivalence embedded in the films themselves about the very machine age ethos they promoted Even as advances in the technical apparatus of filmmaking elevated it from mere entertainment to a medium of general communication and genuine artistic expression Machine Age science fiction films remained curiously distant from and often skeptical of the very machines on which their narratives focus The resulting tensions Telotte writes thus seem to intersect with those implicit in a Western world that was struggling with its own transition into the modern rendering the films task inevitably paradoxical and difficult The Monomyth in American Science Fiction Films Donald E. Palumbo, 2014-11-19 One of the great intellectual achievements of the 20th century Joseph Campbell s The Hero with a Thousand Faces is an elaborate articulation of the monomyth the narrative pattern underlying countless stories from the most ancient myths and legends to the films and television series of today The monomyth s fundamental storyline in Campbell s words sees the hero venture forth from the world of the common day into a region of supernatural wonder fabulous forces are there encountered and a decisive victory is won the hero comes back from this mysterious adventure with the power to bestow boons to his fellow man Campbell asserted that the hero is each of us thus the monomyth's endurance as a compelling plot structure This study examines the monomyth in the context of Campbell's The Hero and discusses the use of this versatile narrative in 26 films and two television shows produced between 1960 and 2009 including the initial Star Wars trilogy 1977 1983 The Time Machine 1960 Logan's Run 1976 Escape from New York 1981 Tron 1982 The Terminator 1984 The Matrix 1999 the first 11 Star Trek films 1979 2009 and the Sci Fi Channel's miniseries Frank Herbert's Dune 2000 and Frank Herbert's Children of Dune 2003
