Number 2 Home Noreen Jones, 2002 The Japanese who migrated to Australia before 1901 were not only the prostitutes pimps and pearlys of popular fiction They were families farmers and fishermen entrepreneurs and itinerants With determination and ambition many of them successfully established themselves in their new home But the few who were granted citizenship were later stripped of the status and untold numbers made applications which were refused With the outbreak of World War II property and possessions were confiscated many were interned and most were denied permission to remain in the country when the war ended Mobile Japanese Migrants to the Pacific West and East Etsuko

Kato, 2023-12-01 This book explores self searching migrants a new group of indefinitely globally mobile people whose purpose of overseas stay is the search of true self and the work they really want to do using Japanese trans Pacific sojourners as the case study Utilizing testimonies collected from interviews with Japanese migrants in their twenties to forties who had entered the job market between the early 1990s and 2010 and left for the English speaking countries of Canada Australia and Singapore the book argues that their practices are both ubiquitous and unique the products of global and local contexts of a specific time As semiskilled migrants from an extra Western postindustrial country their struggles show a different picture of the West centric world power system from those experienced by migrant workers from the Global South Including extensive qualitative research and interview material collected over a 20 year period this book will be of huge interest to students and scholars of Japanese culture and society cultural anthropology and migration The Outsiders Within Peta

Stephenson, 2007 An engaging account of the ways in which over hundreds of years Indigenous and Asian people across northern and central Australia have traded intermarried and built hybrid communities It is also a disturbing expose of the persistent sometimes paranoid efforts of successive national governments to police marginalize and outlaw these encounters

The Architecture of Confinement Anoma Pieris, Lynne Horiuchi, 2022-02-24 An innovative account of prisoners of war and internment camps around the Pacific basin during the Second World War In this comparative and global study Anoma Pieris and Lynne Horiuchi offer an architectural and urban understanding of the Pacific War approached through spatial physical and material analyses of incarceration camp environments National Approaches to the Administration of

International Migration Peri E. White Australia John Lamb, 2025-06-02 Lamb tells the stories of an unusual collection of men who by being aliens in a largely unwelcoming country have been omitted from the historical narrative More than a dozen of these medical practitioners arrived and contributed to the welfare of Australian communities during the hundred years prior to the dismantling of race based immigration policies and this book examines not only what they achieved but the political social and economic context in which they operated and the prejudice with which they dealt Through its forensic investigation of archival materials both in Japan and in Australia as well as contact with descendants of the men this study book throws unprecedented light on their trials and tribulations and on the factors most important in determining acceptance and performance in a discriminatory environment Moreover through its many illustrations explanations and general narrative it draws the reader into the personal lives of the doctors and what they faced At the same time its inclusion of detailed mortality and morbidity statistics and their analysis in conjunction with population and economic parameters will doubtless prove an important resource for medical historians In its depth of research and access to relevant information in both countries and languages this book contributes to Australia Japan relations and understanding and sets a new standard in cross cultural research A valuable resource for Australian and Japanese researchers and students of international immigration medical history the politics and character of racism Asian Studies and International Relations Migrant narratives further enjoy broad international appeal in countries including Asia the United States and Europe

Pacific Exposures

Melissa Miles, Robin Gerster, 2018-12-19 Photography has been a key means by which Australians have sought to define their relationships with Japan From the fascination with all things Japanese in the late nineteenth century through the era of White Australia the bitter enmity of the Pacific War the path to reconciliation in the post war period and the culturally complicated bilateralism of today Australians have used their cameras to express a divided sense of conflict and kinship with a country that has by turns fascinated and infuriated The remarkable photographs collected and discussed here for the first time shed new light on the history of Australia's engagement with its most important regional partner Pacific Exposures argues that photographs tell an important story of cultural production response and reaction not only about how Australians have pictured Japan over the decades but how they see their own place in the Asia Pacific Pacific Exposures presents the first study of the photographic exchanges between Australia and Japan its photographers personalities motivations anxieties and tensions based on a diverse range of archival materials interviews and well chosen photographs Dr Luke Gartlan University of St Andrews Pacific Exposures will become a key text on Australia's interactions with Japan and the way that photographs can inform cross cultural relations through their production consumption and circulation Prof Kate Darian Smith University of Tasmania

Reopening the Opening of Japan Lewis Bremner, Manimporok Dotulong, Sho Konishi, 2023-10-30 The Opening of Japan has been central to the retelling of Japan's modern history Reopening the Opening of Japan fundamentally reconsiders what that historical moment entailed What did intensified connections between Japan and the world mean both inside and outside of the country and what does this tell us about Japan's historical significance on a global scale The chapters excavate a rich array of surprising cross border connections from the global trade in mummified mermaids to the Japanese Russian intellectual links underpinning the work of Akira Kurosawa Re thinking connectivity through non state transnational perspectives the book guides readers to new ways of doing and writing history Contributors are Lewis Bremner
