Julie Rajan, 2009-03-26 From Word to Canvas Appropriations of Myth in Women's Aesthetic Production is an innovative collection of essays on female aesthetic production and myth examining the ways in which women artists and writers utilize myth to negotiate their perceptions of feminine identity and feminine representation in an increasingly complex and culturally hybrid world The featured essays and artistic contributions address a variety of contemporary female productions including literature performance and visual art in a markedly global scope Representing a wide range of cultures languages geographic locales and social contexts from Jewish Hindu and Kenyan German through Irish Italian American to Vietnamese folktales this diversified selection underscores the agency of the feminine gaze across a historical and geopolitical span a gaze through which myths from various cultures and different cultural amalgams speak to us with force and with significance The potency of this gaze is linked to the potential of myth simultaneously to encompass and compress history and to offer the result as a backdrop against which the move from word to canvas or from a mythic tale to its aesthetic appropriation is performed in female aesthetic production

Shakespeare and Twentieth-Century Irish Drama Rebecca Steinberger, 2017-11-28 Exploring the influence of Shakespeare on drama in Ireland the author examines works by two representative playwrights Sean O Casey 1880 1964 and

Brian Friel 1929 Shakespeare's plays grounded in history nationalism and imperialism are resurrected rewritten and reinscribed in twentieth century Irish drama while Irish plays in turn historicize the Subject Object relationship of England and Ireland In particular the author argues Irish dramatists appropriations of Shakespeare were both a reaction to the language of domination and a means to support their revision of the Irish as Subject This study reveals that Shakespeare's plays embody an empathy for the Irish Other As she investigates Shakespeare's commiseration with marginalized peoples and the anticolonial underpinnings in his texts the author situates Shakespeare between the English discourse that claims him and the Irish discourse that assimilates him Aphrodite and Venus in Myth and Mimesis Nora Clark, 2015-04-01

Aphrodite and Venus in Myth and Mimesis is a broad flexible source book of comparative literature and cultural studies It promotes the wide ranging presence and impact of prominent idiosyncratic personalities in fabled goddess mythology and its emphatic notions of endearment and allure The book brings together seven hundred acknowledged sources drawn from successive historical global and literary eras including principal commentaries along with factual information and important renditions in art prose and verse within and beyond mainstream western culture A lengthy detailed introduction presents a copious documented preview of the viable adaptation and mimesis of divine characterization and its respective centrality from the long distant past to the present day Myth rarely latent demonstrates varied modes of expression and open ended flexibility throughout the six comprehensive chapters which illuminate and probe in turn aspects of the ideological presence sensibilities trials and triumphs and interventions of the goddess whether sacred or profane Particular literary extracts and episodes range across ancient cultures alongside quite recent expressions of hermeneutics blending myth with the contemporary in the multi layered reception or admonishment of the goddess whether by one designation or the other As such this book is wholly relevant to all stages of the evolution and expansion of a dynamic European literary culture and its leading authors and personalities Dooble Tongue Jeffrey Skoblow, 2001

Dooble Tongue is an imaginative meditation on Robert Burns and Scottish poetry as well as a book that engages and contests the customary assumptions and practices of literary criticism Beginning with an examination of two contemporary Scottish poets W N Herbert and Robert Crawford and moving back in time to the Scottish Modernist master Hugh MacDiarmid then further back to Burns himself the study of the Scottish tradition is situated in a broad historical context The focus throughout is on language particularly Scots more broadly vernacular literature in relation to culturally elite literary and critical modes as well as on questions of literary nationalism and the cultural politics of poetic discourse Encyclopedia of Feminist Literature Mary Ellen

Snodgrass, 2015-04-22 Presents articles on feminist literature including significant authors themes and history The Shield of Achilles and the Poetics of Ekphrasis Andrew Sprague Becker, 1995-03-21 In The Shield of Achilles and the Poetics of Ekphrasis Becker explores how Homeric poetry shapes its own reception how Homer's reaction to a visual image creates his audience's response to a literary description Becker also enters into a fiercely raging literary debate about the modernist self conscious elements of Homeric narrative Wolfe's History: A Family Story Brendan Wolfe, 2019-07-18 Wolfe's History by the author of Finding Bix 2017 wraps its arms around a single sprawling Irish and American family In an opening essay Wolfe introduces a cast of larger than life characters from an Old West barkeep and a Gold Rush pharmacist to an IRA fugitive and a British recruit whose loyalties are tested during the Easter Rising Together these fast talking writerly cousins live intricate lives that move quickly between past and present complete with periodic and sudden outbursts of violence A man is set ablaze on the prairie A Jesuit is tortured in Dublin Castle In the author's sure hands their stories are converted into something broader and more searching than just a single family's journey He wonders what binds the Wolfes together in the first place and whether the experiences of his own immediate family subvert the connections he feels with his ancestors A biographical dictionary and fifty pages of family trees complete this impressive volume Writing With, Through, and Beyond the Text Rebecca Luce-Kapler, 2004-07-19 Writing With Through and Beyond the Text An Ecology of Language elaborates an understanding of writing its influences on our interpretations of experience and identity and its potential for enabling individuals to learn about and connect to the world beyond themselves Rather than considering writing a process the author describes it as a system an ecology that engages the individual in a variety of socially constituted and interacting systems The book examines the pedagogical and curricular implications of this approach to writing considering what it means to write and teach writing in ways that understand and acknowledge the ecological character of writing This is an illuminating text for a wide audience of faculty professionals and graduate students in English writing education and women's studies feminist theory Eavan Boland Jody Allen Randolph, 2013-11-26 In this powerful and authoritative study Jody Allen Randolph provides the fullest account yet of the work of a major figure in twentieth century Irish literature as well as in contemporary women's writing Eavan Boland's achievement in changing the map of Irish poetry is tracked and analyzed from her first poems to the present The book traces the evolution of that achievement guiding the reader through Boland's early attachment to Yeats her growing unease with the absence of women's writing her encounter with pioneering American poets like Sylvia Plath Elizabeth Bishop and Adrienne Rich and her eventual challenging amendments in poetry and prose to Ireland's poetic tradition Using research from private papers the book also traces a time of upheaval and change in Ireland exploring Boland's connection to Mary Robinson in a chapter that details the nexus of a woman president and a woman poet in a country that was resistant to both Finally this book invites the reader to share a compelling perspective on the growth of a poet described by one critic as Ireland's first great woman poet Women Ageing.
