Culinary Landmarks Elizabeth Driver, 2008-04-05 Culinary Landmarks is a definitive history and bibliography of Canadian cookbooks from the beginning when La cuisinière bourgeoise was published in Quebec City in 1825 to the mid twentieth century. Over the course of more than ten years Elizabeth Driver researched every cookbook published within the borders of present day Canada whether a locally authored text or a Canadian edition of a foreign work. Every type of recipe collection is included from trade publishers bestsellers and advertising cookbooks to home economics textbooks and fund raisers from church women's groups. The entries for over 2 200 individual titles are arranged chronologically by their province or territory of publication revealing cooking and dining customs in each part of the country over 125 years. Full bibliographical descriptions of first and subsequent editions are augmented by author biographies and corporate histories of the food producers and kitchen equipment manufacturers who often published the books. Driver's excellent general introduction sets out the evolution of the cookbook genre in Canada while brief introductions for each province identify regional differences in developments and trends. Four indexes and a Chronology of Canadian Cookbook History provide other points of access to the wealth of material in this impressive reference book. Graphic Design, Print Culture, and the Eighteenth-Century

Novel Janine Barchas, 2003-06-05 The uniformity of the eighteenth century novel in today's paperbacks and critical editions no longer conveys the early novel's visual exuberance. Janine Barchas explains how during the genre's formation in the first half of the eighteenth century the novel's material embodiment as printed book rivalled its narrative content in diversity and creativity. Innovations in layout ornamentation and even punctuation found in for example the novels of Richardson an author who printed his own books help shape a tradition of early visual ingenuity. From the beginning of the novel's emergence in Britain prose writers including Daniel Defoe Jonathan Swift and Henry and Sarah Fielding experimented with the novel's appearance. Lavishly illustrated with more than 100 graphic features found in eighteenth century editions this important study aims to recover the visual context in which the eighteenth century novel was produced and read. The Antiquary

Edward Walford, John Charles Cox, George Latimer Apperson, 1904 John Betjeman William S. Peterson, 2006 Sir John Betjeman 1906-1984 Poet Laureate was probably the most widely read English poet of the twentieth century. Because of his frequent appearances on radio and television and his fervent devotion to the preservation of England's architectural heritage his face and voice became familiar to millions. Few other poets of any century have had such a powerful influence on their contemporaries. This bibliography lists and describes all of his known writings including his own books ephemera contributions to periodicals and to books by others lectures and radio and television programmes. Other categories such as editorships music settings and dramatic adaptations of his poems recordings and interviews are also included as well as a section devoted to writings about him. Manuscripts and drafts of all his works are described in detail. This enormous body of material is thoroughly indexed cross referenced and in most cases annotated. Now at last the activities of this remarkable
