Reference Guide to Russian Literature Neil Cornwell,2013-12-02 First Published in 1998 This volume will surely be regarded as the standard guide to Russian literature for some considerable time to come It is therefore confidently recommended for addition to reference libraries be they academic or public The Time Before Death Constantin V. Ponomareff,2013 This collection of fifteen essays deals with the literary memoirs of major twentieth century writers and focuses on the spiritual physical and moral devastation of 20th century life They are comparative and cross cultural There is no other collection of essays with this range brought under one cover Safe Conduct; an Early Autobiography, and Other Works. Trans. by Alec Brown. Five Lyric Poems Trans. by Lydia Pasternak-Slater Boris Leonidovich Pasternak,1959 John Ashbery and American Poetry David Herd,2024-07-30 David Herd sets out to provide readers with a new critical language through which they can appreciate the beauty and complexity of Ashbery s writing Presenting the poet in all his forms avant garde nostalgic sublime and camp the book argues that the perpetual inventiveness of Ashbery s work has always been underpinned by the poets desire to write the poem fit to cope with its occasion Tracing Ashbery s development in the light of this idea and from its origins in the dazzling artistic environment of 1950 s New York the book evaluates his poetry against the aesthetic literary and historical backgrounds that have informed it The story of a brilliant career and a history of the period in which that career has taken shape John Ashbery and American Poetry provides a compelling account of Ashbery s importance to Twentieth Century Literature Frank O'Hara and the Poetics of Saying 'I' Micah Mattix,2011-03-03 While recent works of criticism on Frank O Hara have focused on the technical similarities between his poetry and painting or between his use of language and poststructuralism Frank O Hara and the Poetics of Saying I argues that what is most significant in O Hara s work is not such much his borrowing from painters or his proto Derridean use of language but his preoccupation with self exploration and the temporal effects of his work as artifacts Following Pasternak s understanding of artistic inspiration as an act of love for the material world O Hara explores moments of experience in an effort to both complicate and enrich our experience of the material world On the one hand in poems such as Second Avenue for example O Hara works to muddy language through which experience is in part mediated with the use of parataxis allusions and absurd metaphors and similes On the other in his I do this I do that poems he names the events of his lunch hour in an effort among other things to experience time as a moment of fullness rather than as a moment of loss The book argues furthermore that O Hara's view of the self as both an expression of the creative force at work in the world and as the temporal aggregate of finite experiences places him between so called Romantic and postmodern theories of the lyric. While it is often argued that O Hara is a forerunner of a new critically informed materialist poetics this study concludes that O Hara's work is somewhat less radical in its understanding of poetic meaning than is often claimed. Moreover while O Hara is preoccupied with his experience in his poems the book argues that he espouses in some respects a rather traditional view of love. In addition to being a metaphor for the creative act love for O Hara is the chance coming together of two entities. Yet one of the ironies of this is that while love is for O Hara a feeling that is the result of movement or the unexpected coming together of two otherwise separ
