Remembrance in Clay and Stone Hajni Elias, 2025-04-03 This book explores the memorial and funerary artistic traditions of Southwest China during the Eastern Han dynasty 25 220 CE In early imperial times the art of this region present day Sichuan province differed in both style and content from tomb and memorial art produced in other parts of the Han empire especially that of the Central Plains considered the heartland of Chinese civilization Although Southwest China was described in contemporaneous accounts as an uncultured backwater it had a vibrant and sophisticated artistic tradition Hajni Elias examines the Southwest's rich material culture which includes pictorial brick tiles minggi or spirit vessels pottery figurines decorated stone sarcophagi architectural gate towers and commemorative and ancestral stelae She sheds light on the distinct traits and practices that arose from the region's complex geographical cultural and economic tapestry Elias also places the Southwest in a broader Han cultural framework offering a new perspective on early Chinese society and its mortuary and memorial practices Showcasing the quality and breadth of the achievements of the Southwest's artisans and craftsmen Remembrance in Clay and Stone reveals the distinctive and sophisticated ways in which people of this era recorded and memorialized their lives Technology and Cultural Values Peter D. Hershock, Marietta Stepaniants, Roger T. Ames, 2003-10-31 Recent history makes clear that the quantum leaps being made in technology are the leading edge of a groundswell of paradigm shifts taking place in science politics economics social institutions and the expression of cultural values Indeed it is the simultaneity and interdependence of these changes occurring in every dimension of human experience and endeavor that makes the present so historically distinctive The essays gathered here give voice to perspectives on the always improvised relationship between technology and cultural values from Africa the Americas Asia Australia Europe and
