Reasoning Together Craig S. Womack, Daniel Heath Justice, Christopher B. Teuton, 2008 A paradigm shift in American Indian literary criticism The Challenges of Native American Studies Barbara Saunders, 2004 The essays gathered in this volume celebrate the founding of the American Indian Workshop AIW twenty five years ago as a European forum for Native American studies We present this collection of ongoing debates on the interlaced and interlocking arena of Native American studies and its complicated relation with Native Americans themselves These debates tie in with such questions as Can Native American studies shake off its past and deal with the complexity of political and academic issues in the present Why by whom and for whom is research conducted within this domain and who decides what the next step should be This volume is a modest response to these questions to the validation and substantiation of the cat s cradle of practices of the many disciplines that comprise Native American studies and an attempt to ask the right questions to get past the imperial categories and to thoughtfully mediate and reorientate perspectives Urban Homelands Lindsey Claire Smith, 2023-10 Urban Homelands explores writing by Native Oklahomans that connects urban homelands in Oklahoma and beyond and reveals the need for a new methodology of urban Indian studies Ethnic American Literature Dean J. Franco, 2006 Offers a comparative approach to ethnic literature that begins by accounting for the intrinsic historical geographical and political contingencies of different American cultures This work looks at a range of writing from novels to literature

LeAnne Howe at the Intersections of Southern and Native American Literature Kirstin L. Squint, 2018-05-18 With the publication of her first novel Shell Shaker 2001 Choctaw writer LeAnne Howe quickly emerged as a crucial voice in twenty first century American literature Her innovative award winning works of fiction poetry drama and criticism capture the complexities of Native American life and interrogate histories of both cultural and linguistic oppression throughout the United States In the first monograph to consider Howe s entire body of work LeAnne Howe at the Intersections of Southern and Native American Literature Kirstin L Squint expands contemporary scholarship on Howe by examining her nuanced portrayal of Choctaw history and culture as modes of expression Squint shows that Howe's writings engage with Native southern and global networks by probing regional identity, gender, power, authenticity, and performance from a distinctly Choctaw perspective, a method of discourse which Howe terms Choctalking. Drawing on interdisciplinary methodologies and theories, Squint complicates prevailing models of the Native South by proposing the concept of the Interstate South, a space in which Native Americans travel physically and metaphorically between tribal, national, and U.S. boundaries. Squint considers Howe's engagement with these interconnected spaces and cultures, as well as how indigeneity can circulate throughout them. This important critical work, which includes an appendix with a previously unpublished interview with Howe, contributes to ongoing conversations about the Native South, positioning Howe as a pivotal creative force operating at under-examined points of contact between Native American and southern literature.

Conversations with LeAnne Howe Kirstin L. Squint, 2022-02-04 Conversations with LeAnne Howe is the first collection of interviews with the groundbreaking Choctaw author whose genre-bending works take place in the US Southeast, Oklahoma, and beyond, our national borders, to bring Native American characters and themes to the global stage. Best known for her American Book Award-winning novel Shell Shaker (2001), LeAnne Howe (b. 1951) is also a poet, playwright, screenwriter, essayist, theorist, and humorist. She has held numerous honors, including a Fulbright Distinguished Scholarship in Amman, Jordan, from 2010 to 2011, and she was the recipient of the Modern Language Association's first Prize for Studies in Native American Literatures, Cultures, and Languages for her travelogue Choctalking on Other Realities (2013). Spanning the period from 2002 to 2020, the interviews in this collection delve deeply into Howe's poetics, her innovative critical methodology of tribalogy, her personal history, and her position on subjects ranging from the Lone Ranger to Native American mascots. Two previously unpublished interviews, An American in New York (LeAnne Howe, 2019) and Genre Sliding on Stage with LeAnne Howe (2020), explore unexamined areas of her personal history and how it impacted her creative work, including childhood trauma and her incubation as a playwright in the 1980s. These conversations, along with 2019's Occult Poetry Radio interview, also give important insights on the background of Howe's newest, critically acclaimed work Savage Conversations (2019) about Mary Todd Lincoln's hallucination of a Savage Indian during her time in Bellevue Place Sanitarium. Taken as a whole, Conversations with LeAnne Howe showcases the development and continued impact of one of the most important Indigenous American writers of the twenty-first century.

The Routledge Companion to Native American Literature Deborah L. Madsen, 2015-10-05 The Routledge Companion to Native American Literature engages the multiple scenes of tension, historical, political, cultural, and aesthetic, that constitutes a problematic legacy in terms of community, identity, ethnicity, gender, and sexuality, language, and sovereignty in the study of Native American literature. This important and timely addition to the field provides context for issues that enter into Native American literary texts through allusions, references, and language use. The volume presents over forty essays by leading and emerging international scholars and analyses regional, cultural, racial, and sexual identities in Native American literature, key historical moments from the earliest period of Yuchi Ceremonial Life ,2005-01-01 The Yuchis are one of the least known yet most distinctive of the Native groups in the American southeast Located in late prehistoric times in eastern Tennessee they played an important historical role at various times during the last five centuries and in many ways served as a bridge between their southeastern neighbors and Native communities in the northeast First noted by the de Soto expedition in the sixteenth century the Yuchis moved several times and made many alliances over the next few centuries The famous naturalist William Bartram visited a Yuchi town in 1775 at a time when the Yuchis had moved near and become allied with Creek communities in Georgia This alliance had long lasting repercussions when the United States government forced most southeastern groups to move to Oklahoma in the early nineteenth century the Yuchis were classified as Creeks and placed under the jurisdiction of the Creek Nation Today despite the existence of a separate language and their distinct history culture and religious traditions the Yuchis are not recognized as a sovereign people by the Creek Nation or the United States Jason Baird Jackson examines the significance of community ceremonies for the Yuchis today For many Yuchis traditional rituals remain important to their identity and they feel an obligation to perform and renew them each year at one of three ceremonial grounds called Big Houses The Big House acts as a periodic gathering place for the Yuchis their Creator and their ancestors Drawing on a decade of collaborative study with tribal elders and using insights gained from ethnopoeitics Jackson captures in vivid detail the performance impact and motivations behind such rituals as the Stomp Dance the Green Corn Ceremony and the Soup Dance and discusses their continuing importance to the community *The Shade of the Saguaro / La sombra del saguaro.
