Revolution And Genocide:

Revolution and Genocide Robert Melson,1992 Revolution and Genocide Robert Melson,1996-06 In a study that compares the major attempts at genocide in world history Robert Melson creates a sophisticated framework that links genocide to revolution and war He focuses on the plights of Jews after the fall of Imperial Germany and of Armenians after the fall of the Ottoman as well as attempted genocides in the Soviet Union and Cambodia He argues that genocide often is the end result of a complex process that starts when revolutionaries smash an old regime and in its wake try to construct a society that is pure according to ideological standards Essay Vahakn N. Dadrian,1994 Genocide Donald Bloxham,A. Dirk Moses,2022 A collection of essays on the key themes of genocide addressing imperial violence and military contexts for genocide predicting preventing and prosecuting genocide gender ideology the state memory transitional justice and ecocide can be utilized to attempt the prevention of genocide in the future

New Directions in Genocide Research Adam

Jones, 2012-03-12 Genocide studies is a relatively new field of comparative inquiry but recent years have seen an increasing range of themes and subject matter being addressed that reflect a variety of features of the field and transformations within it. This edited book brings together established scholars with rising stars and seeks to capture the range of new approaches, theories and case studies in the field. The book is divided into three broad sections. Section I focuses on broad theories of comparative genocide covering a number of different perspectives. Section II critically reconsiders core themes of genocide studies and unfolds a range of challenging new directions including cultural genocide, gender and genocide as it pertains to both women and men, structural violence and the novel application of remote sensing technologies to the detection and study of genocide. Section III is case study focused seeking to place both canonical and little known cases of genocide in broader comparative perspective. Cases analyzed include genocide in North America, the Nazi Holocaust, the Armenian genocide and the Sri Lankan genocide. The combination of cutting edge scholarship and innovative approaches to familiar subjects makes this essential reading for all students and scholars in the field of genocide studies.

Preventing Genocide David A.

Hamburg, 2015-11-17 Genocide has been called a problem from hell and despite vehement declarations of never again it is a problem that continues to plague the world. From the beginning of history to the most recent massacres in Bosnia, Rwanda and Darfur, genocide defies resolution. And given today's worldwide access to highly lethal weapons and advanced communications technology facilitating incitement to hate, we can expect to see this problem grow. It is often claimed that genocide occurs without warning, taking both local and global communities by surprise. Yet as David Hamburg convincingly shows, we have had long term advance knowledge of most modern genocides dating back to the early 20th century Armenian tragedy in Turkey and before. In this book, Dr. Hamburg applies a groundbreaking new perspective, the medical model of prevention, to the scourge of genocide in the world. Preventing genocide is not only possible, Dr. Hamburg contends, but essential given its high cost in lives, human rights and international security. Here he maps out numerous practical steps to recognize genocidal conflicts early and stem their tides of violence before they become acute. He also outlines several institutions in place and programs underway at the UN, EU and NATO devoted to preventing future genocides before they erupt. He draws lessons both from missed opportunities and successful experiences and makes many constructive suggestions about strengthening international institutions, governments and NGOs for this purpose.

Identity Politics in the Age of Genocide David B. MacDonald, 2007-09-28

In an era of globalization and identity politics, this book explores how Holocaust imagery and vocabulary have been appropriated and applied to other genocides. The author examines how the Holocaust has impacted on other ethnic and social groups, asking whether the Holocaust as a symbol is a useful or destructive means of reading non-Jewish history. This volume explains the rise of the Holocaust as a gradual process, charting how its importance as a symbol has evolved, providing a theoretical framework to understand how and why non-Jewish groups choose to invoke holocausts to apply to other events explores the Holocaust in relation to colonialism and indigenous genocide with case studies on America Australia and New Zealand analyzes the Holocaust in relation to war and genocide with case studies on the Armenian genocide the Rape of Nanking Serbia and the Rwandan genocide examines how the Holocaust has been used to promote animal rights Demonstrating both the opportunities and pitfalls the Holocaust provides to non Jewish groups who seek to represent their collective histories this book fills a much needed gap on the use of the Holocaust in contemporary identity politics and will be of interest to students and researchers of politics the Holocaust and genocide

Jacobs, 2013-03-01 This unique volume critically discusses the works of fifty of the most influential scholars involved in the study of the Holocaust and genocide Studying each scholar's background and influences the authors examine the ways in which their major works have been received by critics and supporters and analyse each thinker's contributions to the field Key figures discussed range from historians and philosophers to theologians anthropologists art historians and sociologists including Hannah Arendt Christopher Browning Primo Levi Raphael Lemkin Jacques Semelin Saul Friedländer Samantha Power Hans Mommsen Emil Fackenheim Helen Fein Adam Jones Ben Kiernan A thoughtful collection of groundbreaking thinkers this book is an ideal resource for academics students and all those interested in both the emerging and rapidly evolving field of Genocide Studies and the established field of Holocaust Studies

Revolution and Genocide in Ethiopia and Cambodia Edward Kissi, 2006-03-20 Revolution and Genocide in Ethiopia and Cambodia is the first comparative study of the Ethiopian and Cambodian revolutions of the early 1970s One of the few comparative studies of genocide in the developing world this book presents some of the key arguments in traditional genocide scholarship but the book's author Edward Kissi takes a different position arguing that the Cambodian genocide and the atrocious crimes in Ethiopia had very different motives Kissi's findings reveal that genocide was a tactic specifically chosen by Cambodia's Khmer Rouge to intentionally and systematically annihilate certain ethnic and religious groups whereas Ethiopia's Dergue resorted to terror and political killing in the effort to retain power Revolution and Genocide in Ethiopia and Cambodia demonstrates that the extent to which revolutionary states turn to policies of genocide depends greatly on how they acquire their power and what domestic and international opposition they face This is an important and intriguing book for students of African and Asian history and those interested in the study of genocide

The Specter of Genocide Robert Gellately, Ben Kiernan, 2003-07-07 Genocide mass murder and human rights abuses are arguably the most perplexing and deeply troubling aspects of recent world history This collection of essays by leading international experts offers an up to date comprehensive history and analyses of multiple cases of genocide and genocidal acts with a focus on the twentieth century The book contains studies of the Armenian genocide the victims of Stalinist terror the Holocaust and Imperial Japan Several authors explore colonialism and address the fate of the indigenous peoples in Africa North America and Australia As well there is extensive coverage of the post 1945 period including the atrocities in the former Yugoslavia Bali Cambodia Ethiopia Rwanda East Timor and Guatemala The book emphasizes the importance of comparative analysis and theoretical discussion and it raises new questions about the difficult challenges for modernity constituted by genocide and other mass crimes

State Identities and the Homogenisation of Peoples Heather Rae, 2002-08-15 Why are forced displacement ethnic cleansing and genocide an enduring feature of state systems In this book Heather Rae locates these practices of pathological homogenisation in the processes of state building Political elites have repeatedly used cultural resources to redefine bounded political communities as exclusive moral communities from which outsiders must be expelled Showing that these practices predate the age of nationalism Rae examines cases from both pre nationalist and nationalist eras the expulsion of the Jews from fifteenth century Spain the persecution of the Huguenots under Louis XIV and in the twentieth century the Armenian genocide and ethnic cleansing in former Yugoslavia She argues that those atrocities prompted the development of international norms of legitimate state behaviour that increasingly define sovereignty as conditional Rae concludes by examining two threshold cases the Czech Republic and Macedonia to identify the factors that may inhibit pathological homogenization as a method of state building

Pioneers of Genocide Studies (Clt) Samuel Totten, Steven Leonard Jacobs, 2002 New areas of research are not the result of a snap of the finger They are carved out of the marrow of human existence The study of genocide well illustrates this raw fact From the early efforts that emerged in the struggle against Nazism and over the past half century the field has now reached a point where there at least five genocide centers across the globe and well over one hundred Holocaust centers This work emerged out of an earlier effort at an oral history project one that would enable a new generation of scholars researchers and policy makers to assess the major foci of the field efforts to develop ways and means to intervene and prevent future genocides and review the successes and failures of the field The editors of Pioneers of Genocide Studies emphasize that contributors should approach the questions of greatest relevance in a personal way crafting a statement that reveals ones individual voice persuasions literary style scholarly perspectives and relevant details of ones life The book succeeds admirably in the above aims and in so doing epitomizes scholarly autobiographical writing at its best The book also includes the most important works by each author on the issue of genocide As a result the collective portrait enhances the usefulness of the volume for those new to the field Among the contributors are experts in the Armenian Bosnian Cambodian genocides as well as the Holocaust against the Jewish people The contributors are Rouben Adalian M Cherif Bassiouni Israel W Charney Vahakn Dadrian Helen Fein Barbara Harff David Hawk Herbert Hirsch Irving Louis Horowitz Richard Hovannisian Henry Huttenbach Leo Kuper Raphael Lemkin James E Mace Eric Markusen Robert Melson R J Rummel Roger W Smith Gregory H Stanton Ervin Staub Colin Tatz Yves Ternan and the co editors The work has been five years in the making and represents a high watermark in the reflections and self
