A Handbook on the New Law of the Sea, Volume 1 R.J. Dupuy, Daniel Vignes, 2023-09-20 The fact that the Montego Bay Convention has been only ratified by 37 States at present and that it will be some time before the 60 ratifications required by Article 308 are achieved has not prevented states from acting in accordance with the rules drawn up by the Conference Close on one hundred states have established either exclusive economic zones broadly modelled on Part V or 200 nautical mile fishery zones and drawn on the principles laid down for exploiting living resources Although these laws have been formulated unilaterally by states international custom since the judgement by the International Court of Justice in the Fisheries Case of 18 December 1951 is derived from concordant national rules This shift began even before the Conference ended and has been consolidated since then Moreover the regime governing the sea bed beyond the limits of national jurisdiction defined by Part XI which was the stumbling block of the Conference is subject to transitional arrangements on the basis of two resolutions adopted in the Conference's Final Act one providing for the establishment of a Preparatory Commission and the other on the preliminary activities of pioneer investors This two volume work an earlier edition of which appeared in French has been written by a team of experts of international renown It presents an analysis of the Convention with an additional Chapter on the legal regime governing underwater archaeological and historical objects

The Law of the Sea and Polar Maritime Delimitation and Jurisdiction Alex G. Oude Elferink, Donald R. Rothwell, 2021-10-18 The climate and other characteristics of the polar regions have been major factors in shaping the legal regime applicable to the polar oceans In Antarctica states have had to grapple with the question of how to account for developments in the law of the sea while preserving the compromise over sovereignty contained in the Antarctic Treaty The Arctic also has presented challenges for the law of the sea as illustrated by the continued attention given to special rules for polar shipping The 1982 United Nations Convention on the Law of the Sea has led to substantial agreement on the legal regime of ocean spaces The present volume explores the impact the Convention has had on the polar regions in this respect including after its entry into force in 1994 To this end it looks at a number of issue areas in the field of maritime delimitation baselines maritime zones delimitation of maritime zones between neighboring states and jurisdiction environmental protection navigation and fisheries from a bipolar perspective It is strongly suggested that the legal regime of the polar oceans will be further elaborated to more effectively deal with existing activities or to accommodate new activities It is likely that the United Nations Convention on the Law of the Sea will continue to provide the basic legal framework for this exercise and that states will be careful not to unravel the delicate balance contained in it
