Select Letters Saint Augustine (Bishop of Hippo.),Aeterna Press,2015-06-22 We are quite agreed I think that everything that is the object of our bodily senses is incapable of remaining a single moment in the same state but is in motion and transition and possesses no actuality that is in plain language has no real existence In consequence true divine philosophy admonishes us to check and mitigate our affection for such things as being very baneful and productive of detriment so that even while in control of this mortal body the soul may with intensity and fervour pursue those things that are ever the same and satisfy with no transient charm Although this is true and although my mind envisages you in your simple and unalloyed character as an individual who may be loved without disquietude still I must confess that when you are absent in body and distant in space I miss the pleasure of meeting and seeing you and desire it when it can be had for the brethren This fault if I know you aright you are glad to find in me and although you pray for every good thing for your dearest and closest friends you are reluctant to see them cured of it The Loeb Classical Library James Loeb,1972 The Loeb Classical Library James Loeb,1912
