Medieval Women Writers Katharina M. Wilson, 1984 This is one of the first anthologies devoted to the writings of women in the Middle Ages The fifteen women whose works are represented span seven centuries eight languages and ten regions or nationalities Many are recognized taught and anthologized in their own countries but have been inaccessible to students in English Others are little read today because their literary fortunes have paralleled fluctuations in literary taste and literary patronage Katharina M Wilson s introduction to the volume places these writers in historical context and explores the question of the female imagination and who these women were who were writing at a time when very few women were literate and most literature sacred and secular was penned by men Each of the fifteen chapters has been written by a different scholar and includes a biographical and critical introduction to the writer a representative selection of her works in translation and a bibliography The History of British Women's Writing, 1920-1945 M. Joannou, 2016-01-03 Featuring sixteen contributions from recognized authorities in their respective fields this superb new mapping of women's writing ranges from feminine middlebrow novels to Virginia Woolf's modernist aesthetics from women's literary journalism to crime fiction and from West End drama to the literature of Scotland Ireland and Wales Elizabeth Barrett Browning Dorothy Mermin, 1989-06-15 Elizabeth Barrett Browning 1806-61 was the first major woman poet in the English literary tradition Her significance has been obscured in this century by her erasure from most literary histories and her exclusion from academic anthologies Dorothy Mermin's critical and biographical study argues for Barrett Browning's originative role in both the Victorian poetic tradition and the development of women's literature Barrett Browning's place at the wellhead of a new female tradition remains the single most important fact about her in terms of literary history and it was central to her self-consciousness as a poet Mermin's study shows that Barrett Browning's anomalous situation was constantly present to her imagination and that questions of gender shaped almost everything she wrote Mermin argues that Barrett Browning's poetry covertly inspects and dismantles the barriers set in her path by gender and that in her major works Sonnets from the Portuguese Aurora Leigh her best political poems A Musical Instrument difficulty is turned into triumph incorporating the author's femininity her situation as a woman poet and her increasingly substantial fame Mermin skillfully interweaves biography and close readings of the poems to show precisely how Barrett Browning's life as a woman writer is a part of the essential meaning of her art Both her personal and her literary achievements are exceptionally well documented especially for her formative years Mermin makes extensive use of the poet's early essays a diary covering most of her twenty-sixth year and the enormous number of letters that have survived Ranging from her earliest ambitions through her long periods of discouragement and illness to her happy married life with Robert Browning this comprehensive study of Elizabeth Barrett Browning is essential reading for students of the Victorian period English literature and women's studies The Cambridge Companion to British Poetry, 1945-2010 Edward Larrissy, 2016 This Companion brings together sixteen essays that explore the full diversity of British poetry since the Second World War Focusing on famous and neglected names alike from Dylan Thomas to John Agard leading scholars provide readers with insight into the ongoing importance and profundity of post-war poetry Women's Poetry Jo Gill, 2007-09-13 This guide examines the production and reception of poetry by a range of women writers predominantly although not exclusively writing in English from Sappho through Anne Bradstreet and Emily Brontë to Sylvia Plath Eavan Boland and Susan Howe Women's Poetry offers a thoroughgoing thematic study of key texts poets and issues analysing commonalities and differences across diverse writers periods and forms The book is alert throughout to the diversity of women's poetry Close readings of selected texts are combined with a discussion of key theories and critical practices and students are encouraged to think about women's poetry in the light of debates about race class ethnicity sexuality and regional and national identity The book opens with a chronology followed by a
