Transmedial Landscapes and Modern Chinese Painting Juliane Noth,2023-11-20 Chinese ink painters of the Republican period 1911 1949 creatively engaged with a range of art forms in addition to ink such as oil painting drawing photography and woodblock prints They transformed their medium of choice in innovative ways reinterpreting both its history and its theoretical foundations Juliane Noth offers a new understanding of these compelling experiments in Chinese painting by studying them as transmedial practice at once shaped by and integral to the modern global art world Transmedial Landscapes and Modern Chinese Painting shines a spotlight on the mid 1930s a period of intense productivity in which Chinese artists created an enormous number of artworks and theoretical texts The book focuses on the works of three seminal artists Huang Binhong He Tianjian and Yu Jianhua facilitating fresh insights into this formative stage of their careers and into their collaborations in artworks and publications In a nuanced reading of paintings photographs and literary and theoretical texts Noth shows how artworks and discussions about the future of ink painting were intimately linked to the reshaping of the country through infrastructure development and tourism thus leading to the creation of a uniquely modern Chinese landscape imagery Travel Magazine, 1915

Remaking China's Great Cities Samuel Y. Liang, 2014-07-25 China's rapid urbanization has restructured the great socialist cities Beijing Shanghai and Guangzhou into mega cities that embrace global capitalism This book focuses on the urban transformations of these three cities Beijing is the nation's political and cultural capital Shanghai is the economic and financial powerhouse and Guangzhou is the capital of Guangdong Province and the regional center of south China All are historical cities with rich imperial colonial and regional heritages and all have been drastically transformed in the last six decades This book examines the cities' continuous urban legacies since 1949 in relation to state governance economic reforms and cultural production By adopting local historical perspectives it offers more nuanced accounts of the current urban change than the modernization globalization paradigm and conceptualizes the change in the context of the cities' socialist colonial and imperial legacies Specifically Samuel Y. Liang offers an overview of the urban planning and territorial expansion of the great cities since 1949 explores the production and consumption of urban housing its spatial forms media representations and socio-political implications and examines the state-led redevelopment of old urban cores and residential neighborhoods and the urban conservation movement Remaking China's Great Cities will be of great interest to students and scholars working across a range of fields including Chinese studies Chinese culture and society urban studies and architecture The Chinese Recorder and Missionary Journal, 1874 Touring China Yajun Mo, 2021-12-15 In Touring China Yajun Mo explores how early twentieth-century Chinese sightseers described the destinations that they visited and how their travel accounts gave Chinese readers a means to imagine their vast country The roots of China's tourism market stretch back over a hundred years when railroad and steamship networks expanded into the coastal regions Tourism-related businesses and publications flourished in urban centers while scientific exploration investigative journalism and wartime travel propelled many Chinese from the eastern seaboard to its peripheries Mo considers not only accounts of overseas travel and voyages across borderlands but also trips within China On the one hand via travel and travel writing the unity of China's coastal regions inland provinces and western frontiers was experienced and reinforced On the other travel literature revealed a persistent tension between the aspiration for national unity and the anxiety that China might fall apart Touring
