Migration, Settlement, and the Concepts of House and Home Iris Levin, 2015-11-19 How do migrants feel at home in their houses Literature on the migrant house and its role in the migrant experience of home building is inadequate This book offers a theoretical framework based on the notion of home building and the concepts of home and house embedded within it. It presents innovative research on four groups of migrants who have settled in two metropolitan cities in two periods: migrants from Italy migrated in the 1950s and 1960s and from mainland China migrated in the 1990s and 2000s in Melbourne, Australia; and migrants from Morocco migrated in the 1950s and 1960s and from the former Soviet Union migrated in the 1990s and 2000s in Tel Aviv, Israel. The analysis draws on qualitative data gathered from forty-six in-depth interviews with migrants in their home environments, including extensive visual data. Levin argues that the physical form of the house is meaningful in a range of diverse ways during the process of home building and that each migrant group constructs a distinct form of home building in their homes, according to their specific circumstances of migration, namely the origin country, country of destination, and period of migration, as well as the historical economic and social contexts around migration.

How to Start a Home-Based Personal Chef Business, The Digital War Winston Ma, 2020-12-15. What new directions in China's digital economy mean for us all: China is the largest homogenous digital market on Earth, unified by language, culture, and mobile payments. Not only a consumer market of unrivaled size, it's also a vast and hyperactive innovation ecosystem for new technologies. And as China's digital economy moves from a consumer-focused phase to an enterprise-oriented one, Chinese companies are rushing to capitalize on ways the newer wave of tech—the Internet of Things, AI, blockchain, cloud computing, and data analytics—can unlock value for their businesses from non-traditional angles. In The Digital War, Winston Ma, investment professional, capital markets attorney, adjunct professor of digital economy, and bestselling author, details the profound global implications of this new direction, including how Chinese apps for services such as food delivery expand so quickly they surpass their U.S. models within a couple of years and how the sheer scale and pace of Chinese innovation might lead to an AI arms race in which China and the U.S. vie aggressively for leadership. How China's younger netizens participate in their evolving digital economy as consumers, creators, and entrepreneurs. Why Online Office (OMO) Online merge with Offline integration is viewed as the natural next step on from the O2O (Online to Offline) model used in the rest of the world. The ways in which traditional Chinese industries such as retail, banking, and insurance are innovating to stay in the game.

What emerging markets can learn from China as they leapfrog past the personal computer age altogether diving straight into the mobile first economy Anyone interested in what s next for Chinese digital powerhouses investors governments entrepreneurs international business players will find this an essential guide to what lies ahead as China s flexes new digital muscles to create new forms of value and challenge established tech giants across the world Sustainable, Smart and Solidary Seoul Tony Robinson,Minsun Ji,2022-09-30 This book showcases how innovative state policy in Korea transformed Seoul from one of the world s most impoverished polluted and congested cities into a global leader in green urban planning smart city innovations and social economy initiatives that have dramatically improved the local quality of life Today Seoul s urban planning innovations are increasingly touted as replicable best practices for export to cities across the globe This book describes how innovative state policy has made Seoul a world leader in sustainable smart and solidary urban initiatives Beginning in the 1960s Seoul led the fastest urbanization and modernization project in world history becoming a colossal 26 million person metropolitan region and one of the largest footprints of humanity on earth transforming the nation from one of the world s poorest to having the 10th largest GDP in 2020 Today Seoul has become one of the most productive and innovative urban agglomerations on earth Seoul s residents enjoy the world s highest penetration of high speed internet a model mass transit system and advanced smart city technologies The vast city has become increasingly green and sustainable while also recycling about 90% of all waste Seoul has become a leader in social economy innovations like cooperative villages mutual benefit societies and social investment funds that advance equitable development goals amid a booming capitalist economy To broaden our imagination of what good urbanism can achieve this book reviews Seoul s recent innovations in smart sustainable and solidary urbanism including green urban planning sustainable development through recycling and reuse well managed mass transit smart city design and solidarity economy initiatives Publication ,1991
