In Other Words: Literature by Latinas of the United States Roberta Fernàndez, 1994-01-01 Roberta Fernàndez has gathered the best and most representative examples of fiction poetry drama and essay currently being written by Latina writers of the United States The work is arranged by genre and topics are as varied as the voices and styles of the writers the challenge of living in two cultures experiencing marginality as a result of class ethnicity and or gender Latina feminism the celebration of one s culture and its people Most of the pieces are in English and some are presented bilingually in English and Spanish A preface and an introduction by the editor and a foreword by the noted critic of Latin American literature Jean Franco serve to contextualize the writers and their work a primary and secondary bibliography serves as an appendix Myths of Oppression Inci Bilgin Tekin, 2012-02-01 Inci Bilgin Tekin's study offers a comparative perspective on two very challenging contemporary female playwrights Liz Lochhead and Cherrie Moraga and their Scottish and Chicane adaptations of myths such as the Greek Medea and Oedipus or the Mayan Popul Vuh which address ethnic racial gender and hierarchical oppression Her book incorporates postcolonial and feminist readings of Lochhead's and Moraga's plays while it also explores different mythologies on the background Bilgin Tekin not only introduces an original point of view on Liz Lochhead's and Cherrie Moraga's plays as adaptations or rewrites but also calls attention to the non canonized Scottish Aztec and Mayan mythologies Following an innovative approach she discusses the question in which ways Lochhead's and Moraga's adaptations of myths are challenges to the canon and further suggests a feminist version of Augusto Boal's Theatre of the Oppressed The study appeals to readers of mythology drama and comparative literature Those interested in postcolonial and feminist theories will also gain valuable new insights Remapping the Humanities Mary Garrett, Heidi Gottfried, Sandra F. VanBurkleo, 2008 An innovative collection demonstrating the rich potential for interdisciplinary learning found within the network of university based humanities centers Remapping the Humanities celebrates the tenth anniversary of the Wayne State University Humanities Center by bringing together essays that illustrate the richness of public conversations developed in interdisciplinary humanities centers The contributors to this collection represent more than a dozen disciplines including philosophy English political science history law comparative literature and Spanish and taken together their essays illustrate an ongoing remapping of the intellectual landscape as scholars from across university departments engage one another in unpredictable ways This volume is divided into four thematic sections Identity and Community Remembering and Forgetting Nationalism and Globalism and Toward Post Modernity Yet the essays deliberately represent a range of theoretical perspectives that interact synergistically such as feminism and postcolonial studies or literary criticism and art history They also tackle topics as varied as the formation of the modern family in France and the inculcation of civic virtue in American cities and they draw freely from different sources of evidence like newspaper accounts popular literature paintings and diaries Remapping the Humanities includes unique touches such as a portfolio of full color images and an audio CD of Celtic inspired jazz In addition a preface by Walter Edwards academic director of the Humanities Center at Wayne State University gives some background on this institution and the work being done there The importance of Remapping the Humanities ultimately lies in its refusal to say that learning has ended and the example it provides of the value of calculated ferment and intellectual instability Educators involved with or wanting to learn more about interdisciplinary research will appreciate this unique collection Neglected Social Theorists of Color Corey Tillman, David R. Dickens, C.C. Herbison, 2022-10-12 Neglected Social Theorists of Color Deconstructing the Margins provides a novel contribution to the ongoing debates concerning the canon in contemporary sociological theory In particular the editors argue that many scholars whose work may hold significant potential for contributions to contemporary debates in social theory go unrecognized Still others while not completely ignored have fallen victim to a cultural and political climate not receptive to their work Feminist scholars have been in the forefront of these debates arguing that many insightful social theorists have been marginalized because of their gender More recently studies of individual theorists of color have appeared but these have been limited to African American scholars such as W E B Du Bois In the present text the editors extend this approach to include a broad diversity of theorists of color including those of African American Afro Caribbean Latinx Asian American and Native American backgrounds In addition the editors also include the work of authors who come from academic fields outside of sociology and others who are journalists activists or independent writers The work has a unique format where the authors of each chapter provide a theoretical analysis of their subject and a discussion of the contemporary significance of their work lending to a rich discussion of underappreciated sociological scholars
