Shearing In The Riverina New South Wales:

Shearing in the Riverina, New South Wales Rolf Boldrewood, 2021-05-18 In Shearing in the Riverina New South Wales Rolf Boldrewood immerses readers in the vibrant world of Australia's pastoral life through vivid and meticulously crafted prose. The narrative captures the essence of the shearing season, a pivotal moment in the life of sheep stations while revealing the intricate connections between labor, identity and the Australian landscape. Boldrewood's literary style is marked by rich descriptions and authentic dialogue that echoes the vernacular of the period, effectively placing the reader amid the sights, sounds and challenges faced by sheep shearers in the late 19th century. This work stands as a compelling snapshot of Australia's agrarian society, reflecting broader themes of social stratification and the human spirit amidst the rigors of pastoral life. Rolf Boldrewood, born Thomas Alexander Browne, is a key figure in Australian literature whose own experiences as a pastoralist deeply informed his writing. His intimate knowledge of rural life and the labor practices of the era imbue Shearing in the Riverina with authenticity and depth. Boldrewood's multifaceted career spanned various industries, providing him a unique lens through which to view and portray the complexities of Australian identity during a time of transformation. This riveting book is highly recommended for those interested in Australian history, literature or rural life. Boldrewood's keen observations and engaging storytelling elevate the narrative beyond mere documentation, offering universal insights into the human condition. Readers will find themselves enchanted and informed in equal measure, making this work an essential read for both scholars and casual readers alike.

Shearing in the Riverina, New South Wales Rolf Boldrewood, 2020-09-28
Shearing commences to-morrow. These apparently simple words were spoken by Hugh Gordon, the manager of Anabanco station in the district of Riverina in the colony of New South Wales, one Monday morning in the month of August. The utterance had its importance to every member of a rather extensive CORPS DRAMATIQUE awaiting the industrial drama about to be performed. A low sand hill a few years since had looked out over a sea of grey plains covered partly with grass, partly with salsiferous bushes and herbs. Two or three huts built of the trunks of the pine and roofed with the bark of the box tree and a skeleton looking cattle yard with its high gallows, a rude timber stage whereon to hang slaughtered cattle alone broke the monotony of the plain ocean. A comparatively small herd of cattle, 2000 or 3000 found more than sufficient pasturage during the short winter and spring but were always compelled to migrate to mountain pastures when the swamps which alone in those days formed the water stores of the run were dried up. But two or three or at most half a dozen stockmen were ever needed for the purpose of managing the herd, so inadequate in number and profitable occupation to this vast tract of grazing country. But a little later one of the great chiefs of the wool producing interest, a shepherd king so to speak of shrewdness, energy and capital had seen, approved and purchased the lease of this waste kingdom. Almost at once as if by magic the scene changed. Great gangs of navvies appeared wending their way across the silent plain. Dams were made, wells were dug. Tons of fencing wire were dropped on the sand by the long line of teams which seemed never tired of arriving.

Sheep by thousands and tens of thousands began to come grazing and cropping up to the lonely sandhill now swarming with blacksmiths carpenters engineers fencers shepherds bullock drivers till the place looked like a fair on the borders of Tartary Meanwhile everything was moving with calculated force and cost under the reign of law The seeming expense was merely the economic truth of doing all the necessary work at once rather than by instalments One hundred men for one day rather than one man for one hundred days Results soon began to demonstrate themselves In twelve months the dams were full the wells sending up their far fetched priceless water the wire fences erected the shepherds gone and 17 000 sheep cropping the herbage of Anabanco Tuesday was the day fixed for the actual commencement of the momentous almost solemn transaction the pastoral Hegira so to speak as the time of most station events is calculated with reference to it as happening before or after shearing But before the first shot is fired which tells of the battle begun what raids and skirmishes what reconnoitring and vedette duty must take place

Reproduction of the original In Bad Company and Other Stories by Rolf Boldrewood The Forgotten Worker John E. Martin, 2015-12-23 As New Zealand's agricultural industry developed in the twentieth century, the rural worker, shearer, labourer, musterer began to disappear from public view. In this fascinating study, John Martin uncovers the lives of these forgotten workers, describing their working lives, relationships with employers, living conditions, and expectations. Their experiences are brought to life in their own words, and a remarkable range of photographs painting a vivid portrait of a changing world. The Forgotten Worker is also an account of New Zealand's changing rural world, altered by the development of the family farm, the growth of dairying, and increased mechanisation.
