understanding of what is required to enhance player development Every Boy's Dream Chris Green,2009-08-03 Short listed for the Best Football Book in the 2010 British Sport Book Awards The way Britain develops its top football talent is a hot topic of debate The failure of all four of the UK's national teams to reach the 2008 European Championships and the ever increasing reliance of England's top clubs on foreign talent underlines an undisputable fact that Britain now lags well behind the world's top countries in producing the best footballers despite having the wealthiest league in the world and untold riches at the game's disposal Every Boy's Dream England's Football Future on the Line investigates why despite unprecedented expenditure on a huge overhaul of youth development in the past decade British football continues to fail to nurture top class football talent With some 10 000 boys in the system at any time and less than one per cent of those boys likely to make it as professional footballers there is a real need for a long hard look at our domestic football development system Who funds the system How are the boys recruited Who is responsible for their coaching and what qualifications do they have for the job Who looks after their welfare ensuring they are enjoying the sport and still keeping up with their schooling while under the clubs stewardship What happens when the boys don't make the cut and are released by the clubs Every Boy's Dream does not pull any punches It lays the blame at the doors of the authorities in charge of youth football But rather than just listing the faults of system which are many as the hard hitting real life examples demonstrate it provides tales of inspiration and a blueprint for the future of the national game It is the most thorough book ever written about football youth development and cracks through the age old veneer of perceived wisdom that has stifled debate on the subject

John Lawson, John Robertson, 2011-10-06 The unprecedented success of Nottingham Forest under master manager Brian Clough is one of the greatest stories in football folklore Winning the European Cup in 1979 and 1980 were the remarkable highlights of that era in the club's history And the player at the heart of those Forest glories was winger John Robertson who fashioned the goal that conquered Europe a first time and then scored the match winner as Clough's side retained the trophy His unkempt and unshaven appearance made him the most unlikely of footballers but his artistry and vision made him the creative on the field force behind a Forest side that swept all before them After retiring from playing Robertson went on to strike up a wonderfully successful managerial partnership with Martin O'Neill at Leicester Celtic and Aston Villa Yet amid his years of football fame Robertson has known moments of deep personal tragedy with the death of his daughter who had cerebral palsy at the age of 13 and the loss of his elder brother in a car crash In John Robertson Super Tramp the footballing legend reveals all in a humorous and touching memoir that switches engagingly between footballing glory and personal heartache
