Cutrer, T. Michael Parrish, 2018-03-05 On the morning of December 7 1941 after serving breakfast and turning his attention to laundry services aboard the USS West Virginia Ship's Cook Third Class Doris Dorie Miller heard the alarm calling sailors to battle stations The first of several torpedoes dropped from Japanese aircraft had struck the American battleship Miller hastily made his way to a central point and was soon called to the bridge by Lt Com Doir C Johnson to assist the mortally wounded ship's captain Mervyn Bennion Miller then joined two others in loading and firing an unmanned anti aircraft machine gun a weapon that as an African American in a segregated military Miller had not been trained to operate But he did firing the weapon on attacking Japanese aircraft until the 50 caliber gun ran out of ammunition For these actions Miller was later awarded the Navy Cross the third highest naval award for combat gallantry Historians Thomas W Cutrer and T Michael Parrish have not only painstakingly reconstructed Miller's inspiring actions on December 7 They also offer for the first time a full biography of Miller placed in the larger context of African American service in the United States military and the beginnings of the civil rights movement Like so many sailors and soldiers in World War II Doris Miller s life was cut short Just two years after the attack on Pearl Harbor Miller was aboard the USS Liscome Bay when it was sunk by a Japanese submarine But the name and symbolic image of Dorie Miller lived on As Cutrer and Parrish conclude Dorie Miller s actions at Pearl Harbor and the legend that they engendered were directly responsible for helping to roll back the navy s then to fore unrelenting policy of racial segregation and prejudice and in the chain of events helped to launch the civil rights movement of the 1960s that brought an end to the worst of America s racial intolerance The Korean War Keith D.

The U.S. Navy in the Korean War Edward Marolda, 2013-09-15 This remarkable collection of works by some of the most authoritative naval historians in the United States draws on many formerly classified sources to shed new light on the U S Navy s role in the three year struggle to preserve the independence of the Republic of Korea Several of the essays concentrate on fleet operations during the first critical year of the war and later years when United Nations forces fought a static war Others focus on the leadership of Admirals Forrest P Sherman C Turner Joy James H Doyle and Arleigh A Burke and on carrier based and ground based naval air operations as well as the contributions of African American Sailors As a whole this book documents how the Navy s domination of the seas around Korea enabled Allied forces to project combat power ashore the length and breadth of the Korean peninsula It also shows how the powerful presence of U S and Allied naval forces discouraged China and the Soviet Union from launching other military adventures in the Far East thus keeping the first limited war of the Cold War era confined to Korea But far from being an aberration unlikely to be replicated the Korean War proved to be only the first in a long line of twentieth century and early twenty first century conflicts involving U S naval forces confronting Communist and nontraditional adversaries and a full understanding of the Korean War experience as provided in this book helps define the role of sea power in today s world
