Enwezor that demonstrates his tireless efforts to decolonize the global contemporary art world Contested Cultural Heritage Helaine Silverman, 2010-11-02 Cultural heritage is material tangible and intangible that signifies a culture's history or legacy. It has become a venue for contestation ranging in scale from protesting to violently claimed and destroyed. But who defines what is to be preserved and what is to be erased? As cultural heritage becomes increasingly significant across the world, the number of issues for critical analysis and hopefully mediation arise. The issue stems from various groups: religious, ethnic, national, political, and others come together to claim appropriate use, exclude or erase markers and manifestations of their own and others' cultural heritage as a means for asserting, defending or denying critical claims to power, land and legitimacy. Can cultural heritage be well managed and promoted while at the same time kept within parameters so as to diminish contestation? The cases herein range from Greece, Spain, Egypt, the UK, Syria, Zimbabwe, Italy, the Balkans, Benin and Central America.

Earth Matters Karen E. Milbourne, 2013-11-12 Featuring more than 100 extraordinary works of art from 1800 to the present, Earth Matters reveals how African individuals and communities have visually mediated their most poignant relationships with the land, whether it be to earth as a sacred or medicinal material, as something uncovered by mining or claimed by burial as a surface to be interpreted and turned to for inspiration or as an environment to be protected. Both internationally recognized and emerging contemporary artists are represented from the continent and diaspora, including El Anatsui, Ghada Amer, Sammy Baloji, Ingrid Mwangi, and William Kentridge. Highlights include a pair of rare Yoruba onile figures, a one-of-a-kind Punu reliquary from Gabon, and 3 bocio figures from the personal collection of legendary French dealer Jacques Kerchache. The text includes statements by contemporary African artists including Wangechi Mutu, Clive van den Berg, Allan de Souza, and George Osodi. National Museum of African Art curator Karen E. Milbourne explores how diverse African concepts of healing, the sacred, identity, memory, history, and environmental sustainability have all been formed in relation to the land in this pioneering scholarly study.
