Encyclopedia Of The Global Economy A Guide For Students And Researchers David E. O'connor, 2006

Infrastructure and Trade in Asia Douglas H. Brooks, Jayant Menon, 2008-01-01 this is a timely and useful collection of regional studies Ben Shepherd Asian Pacific Economic Literature Analysis of infrastructure's role in facilitating international trade and consequently regional economic integration is still rudimentary This original book fills that knowledge gap by exploring relevant concepts measurement issues aspects of the implementation of trade related infrastructure facilities and their impacts on poverty trade investment and macroeconomic balances Continuing the series of books produced in association with the Asian Development Bank Institute this study explores the virtuous cycle of infrastructure investment trade expansion and economic growth in developing Asia Issues relating infrastructure both hard and soft to trade facilitation and trade costs are defined and examined and the role of infrastructure in regional cooperation to enhance intraregional trade is analysed Empirical estimates of trade costs in Asia suggest there is significant room for infrastructure to lower those costs further By approaching the infrastructure trade nexus at the regional level through cooperative activities this study shows it is possible to increase the range of policy options and risk management opportunities Infrastructure and Trade in Asia will be of interest to trade and infrastructure policymakers academics at graduate and above levels involved in economic development and Asian studies as well as those in the development community interested in regional cooperation and integration

Capital Mobility in Asia Juthathip

Jongwanich, 2018-02-14 Ever since the East Asian financial crisis it has been recognized that emerging market economies are vulnerable to both excessive inflows of capital and sudden outflows This book presents new research on the determinants and effects of capital flows as well as the effectiveness of capital control policies in dealing with volatile capital flows in emerging

Asian countries It examine three issues related to capital movements in Asia 1 the key factors determining such mobility 2 the impact of capital movements in a home country especially on real exchange rates and 3 the effectiveness of capital account policies New Dimensions Of Economic Globalization: Surge Of Outward Foreign Direct Investment From Asia Rajiv Kumar,Ramkishen S Rajan,Nicola Virgill,2008-05-27 The phenomenon of South South FDI flows particularly those arising from multinational companies from China and India has generated considerable interest among policymakers academics and the popular press in recent times This phenomenon raises several questions such as What is behind the rise of such intra regional investment flows What is the magnitude of such flows and can they be expected to persist accelerate over time What are the challenges faced by emerging market multinationals and the future prospects of intra Asian FDI flows This book written by top scholars from academia international organizations as well as think tanks consists of a set of papers focusing on these issues The book is unique in its coverage focusing on China India and Southeast Asia rather than limiting itself to a sub regional or country specific focus The chapters in this book highlight important policy issues but are supported with relevant data and empirics with rigorous empirical analysis being applied to important practical policy issues The book also provides pertinent overviews of recent research on the questions explored While the chapters have been crafted to be able to stand up to academic scrutiny they are also written in a manner that makes them easily accessible to all policymakers students and business financial journalists who are interested in Asia and in the emergence of South South FDI flows

Labor Market Distortions, Rural-Urban Inequality, and the Opening of the People's Republic of China Economy Thomas Hertel,2008-05 Evaluates the impact of some key factor market reforms on rural urban inequality income distribution using a household disaggregated recursive dynamic computable general equilibrium model of the People s Republic of China It also explores how these factor market reforms interact with product market reforms currently under way as part of the country s World Trade Org WTO accession process The simulation results show that reforms in the rural land rental market hukou system as well as increasing off farm labor mobility would reduce the urban rural income ratio dramatically Furthermore the combination of WTO accession factor market reforms improves both efficiency equality significantly Charts tables graphs Practices of Poverty Measurement and Poverty Profile of Nepal Devendra Chhetry,2009-03 Reviews the poverty measuring practices available measures of poverty and economic growth figures of Nepal The poverty rates for FY 1976 77 1984 85 and 1995 96 are found to be not comparable due to change in methodology over time The three poverty rates average 40% Nepal has experienced high economic growth during the 7th 1985 86 to 1989 90 and 8th 1992 93 to 1996 97 Plan periods with no strong evidences of poverty reduction This incompatible result is partially explained by comparing growth of the agricultural sector with the role of the sector in providing employment and income generation at the household level and by comparing social indicators particularly literacy rate with the growth of the nonagricultural sector Tables The Oxford Handbook of Business Groups Asli M. Infrastructure's Role in Lowering Asia's Trade Costs Douglas H. Brooks, David Hummels, 2009 Much of the analysis of infrastructure's impact on trade costs focuses on conditions in developed countries This book makes an invaluable contribution to our understanding by examining the situation in developing Asia the world's most populous and fastest growing region This study analyzes and draws policy implications from infrastructure's central role in lowering Asia's trade costs Infrastructure is shown to be a cost effective means of lowering trade costs and thereby promoting regional growth and integration This book combines thematic and country studies while breaking new ground in The East Asian High-tech Drive Yunpeng Zhu, Hal Hill, 2006-04-26 East Asia has been an area of high economic growth for several decades The East

Asian High Tech Drive argues that to maintain the growth momentum the more advanced East Asian economies need to pay particular attention to policies designed to upgrade their industrial capabilities The authors argue that effectively functioning institutions predictable commercial policies investments in human capital and infrastructure openness and macroeconomic stability are essential for growth and technological development Regarding the two lower income economies in the sample Indonesia is found to have the smallest improvement in the skill intensity of its exports while the Philippines has registered the slowest economic growth For both countries industrial upgrading issues are not as imperative as achieving or regaining rapid labour intensive growth as both recently experienced major political instabilities

Asia Rising Hal Hill, Maria Socorro Gochoco-Bautista, 2013-01-01 This book provides a coherent and current account of how India Indonesia Malaysia Thailand the Philippines and the People's Republic of China coped with the Asian financial crisis of the 1990s and the recent global economic recession and how they may address future challenges in maintaining growth in difficult times It features a valuable overview of issues from a regional perspective five chapters on general elements and obstacles in development and individual chapters on the experience of each of the six countries Every chapter is replete with relevant institutional and statistical data The volume fills a void in the literature and is highly recommended for graduate students and for economists concerned with contemporary Asia Peter Drake The University of New England and Australian Catholic University Australia To understand what makes Asia tick in the face of continuing global uncertainty and instability one has to go beyond numbers into the region's psyche and idiosyncrasies This volume provides an interestingly intrusive and refreshingly insightful analysis of a highly complex phenomenon that defies generalizations as shown by the diversity of individual country experiences Mohamed Ariff International Centre for Education in Islamic Finance INCEIF Malaysia The center of global economic activity is shifting rapidly towards Asia driven by a combination of the economic dynamism of the People's Republic of China India and other middle income Asian countries and sluggish growth in the OECD economies The rapid growth and rising global prominence have raised a range of major challenges for Asia and for the rest of the world This comprehensive forward looking book examines these issues through in depth studies of major Asian economies and an analysis of the key development policy options The contributors leading international authorities in their field explore cross cutting thematic issues with special reference to developing Asia They address a broad range of subjects including investment and productivity savings and the savings investment relationship financial development the provision of infrastructure and governance and institutions Detailed country studies focusing on the People's Republic of China India Indonesia Malaysia the Philippines and Thailand not only provide an analytical narrative for each case study but also draw attention to the similarities and diversity within the region This challenging and thought provoking book will prove an important point of reference for scholars researchers and students in the fields of economics development economics and Asian studies

Foreign Investment in Latin America and the Caribbean 2006 United Nations: Economic Commission for Latin

America and the Caribbean, 2007 This is the latest in a series of annual reports on recent trends and developments in relation to foreign direct investment FDI and investment strategies in Latin America and the Caribbean region The main message of this year's report is that active and integrated FDI attraction policies linked to national development strategies are necessary to secure quality FDI These lessons are drawn from policy practices in the more successful European and Asian countries which contrast with the more passive and disconnected FDI attraction policies evident in Latin America and the Caribbean The 2006 report also contains chapters that analyse the experiences of two relatively small investor countries in Latin America and the Caribbean the Republic of Korea and Portugal
