Managing In The Age Of Persuasion:

Media Management in the Age of Lyndon B. Johnson Benjamin W. Quail, 2022-01-01 This book looks broadly at how the contentious relationships between the media and US President Lyndon B Johnson affected the national consciousness during the turbulent period of his leadership Johnson had to deal with a particularly difficult and divisive period in American history and his relationship with the press undoubtedly contributed to an atmosphere of friction within the United States A more specific purpose of this research monograph is ultimately to shine a light on the trials and tribulations that Johnson faced as a president dealing with new forms of communication in the 1960s It aims to show the difficulties that he had in adapting a very personal style of leadership which had served him well in the Senate in the role he undertook as leader of a nation Further to this it builds on this foundation to argue that Johnson developed a reactive passive stance to dealing with the media one that ultimately contributed to a loss in popularity and status as leader a blow he never recovered from during his time in office

Humanistic Management in Latin America Consuelo

García-de-la-Torre, Osmar Arandia, Mario Vázquez-Maguirre, 2021-05-10 Humanistic management has been part of a growing conversation about a different approach to management that contributes to dignity in the workplace and better organisations overall. The theoretical concepts have mostly derived from developed countries. This book seeks to redress the balance and looks at the development and application of the concepts, approaches and models of inequality, corruption, poverty and uncertainty in the context of Latin America. The book provides a comprehensive overview of what is happening in Latin America in terms of Humanistic Management and the promotion of the Sustainable Development Goals. The first section describes the development of Humanistic Management by reviewing two different schools that have strongly influenced the discipline: the Montreal School and the Saint Gallen School. Humanistic Management is then presented as a model that can be used by scholars and practitioners in Latin America. The third part aims to explore how Humanistic Management has been and could be implemented across different organizations and business sectors in Latin America. Part four examines the implications of Humanistic Management for external stakeholders such as customers and consumers, suppliers, community, government and universities. Finally, the conclusion provides new approaches to Humanistic Management for Latin America. Humanistic Management in Latin America will serve as a key reference and resource for teachers, researchers, students, experts and policy makers who want to acquire a broad understanding of social responsibility and business across the world.
