Managing Strategy

Robert S. Kaplan, David P. Norton

Managing Strategy:

Managing Strategy David C. Asch, Cliff Bowman, 1995-12-13 This text by Cliff Bowman and David Asch is designed for courses in strategic management business strategy and business policy It will be particularly suitable for MBAs post experience students and undergraduates taking a one semester course It will also appeal to practising managers in a wide range of organisations who are interested in developing a sound understanding of strategic issues The book avoids an overly theoretical approach concentrating instead on new ideas concerning the content and process of strategy and blending this with empirical findings in the area The result is a book which focuses on implementing strategy taking a more action oriented approach Case study material arising from many years of teaching in leading management schools world wide has also been included to make this an ideal text for a variety of courses

Managing the Strategy Process Balaji S. Chakravarthy, Peter Lorange, 1991

The Strategy-focused Organization Robert S. Kaplan, David P. Norton, 2001 In today's business environment strategy has never been more important Yet research shows that most companies fail to execute strategy successfully Behind this abysmal track record lies an undeniable fact many companies continue to use management processes top down financially driven and tactical that were designed to run yesterday's organizations Now the creators of the revolutionary performance management tool called the Balanced Scorecard introduce a new approach that makes strategy a continuous process owned not just by top management but by everyone In The Strategy Focused Organization Robert Kaplan and David Norton share the results of ten years of learning and research into more than 200 companies that have implemented the Balanced Scorecard Drawing from more than twenty in depth case studies including Mobil CIGNA Nova Scotia Power and AT T Canada Kaplan and Norton illustrate how Balanced Scorecard adopters have taken their groundbreaking tool to the next level These organizations have used the scorecard to create an entirely new performance management framework that puts strategy at the center of key management processes and systems Kaplan and Norton articulate the five key principles required for building Strategy Focused Organizations 1 translate the strategy to operational terms 2 align the organization to the strategy 3 make strategy everyone's everyday job 4 make strategy a continual process and 5 mobilize change through strong effective leadership The authors provide a detailed account of how a range of organizations in the private public and nonprofit sectors have deployed these principles to achieve breakthrough sustainable performance improvements Presenting a practical proven framework steeped in rich case study experience The Strategy Focused Organization helps solve a universal management problem not just how to formulate strategy but how to make it work Building on one of the most revolutionary business ideas of our time this important book shows how today's leaders can shape their own companies to meet the challenges and reap the rewards of a new competitive era Robert S Kaplan is the Marvin Bower Professor of Leadership Development at Harvard Business School David P Norton is President of Balanced Scorecard Collaborative Inc

Impossible Jobs in Public Management Erwin C. Hargrove, John C. Glidewell, 1990 If you think your job is hopelessly difficult you may be right Particularly if your job is public administration Those who study or practice public management know full well the difficulties faced by administrators of complex bureaucratic systems What they don't know is why some jobs in the public sector are harder than others and how good managers cope with those jobs Drawing on leadership theory and social psychology Erwin Hargrove and John Glidewell provide the first systematic analysis of the factors that determine the inherent difficulty of public management jobs and of the coping strategies employed by successful managers To test their argument Hargrove and Glidewell focus on those jobs fraught with extreme difficulties impossible jobs What differentiates impossible from possible jobs are 1 the publicly perceived legitimacy of the commissioner s clientele 2 the intensity of the conflict among the agency s constituencies 3 the public s confidence in the authority of the commissioner s profession and 4 the strength of the agency s myth or long term idealistic goal Hargrove and Glidewell flesh out their analysis with six case studies that focus on the roles played by leaders of specific agencies Each essay summarizes the institutional strengths and weaknesses specifies what makes the job impossible and then compares the skills and strategies that incumbents have employed in coping with such jobs Readers will come away with a thorough understanding of the conflicting social psychological and political forces that act on commissioners in impossible jobs The Nation ,1910

Developing a sales strategy for the 'T-Mobile International' account in the Siemens Mobile Network business unit Daniel Weber,2006-10-08 Diploma Thesis from the year 2006 in the subject Business economics Information Management grade 1 7 Cologne University of Applied Sciences language English abstract This document deals with the development of a sales strategy for a key account customer conducting business across domestic boundaries The idea of key account management and the geographic distinction of it as well as the process of strategic management in this context are discussed The focus lays on the adaptation of the strategic management process to the particularities of international key account management In the course of this paper it is illustrated how key account management with the key account customer as the core element affects the strategic management process by using it with focus on a single customer instead for a whole industry For the purpose of taking key account management on an international level different levels of internationalisation are described and applied to the concept of key account management As a result of this description the expanded concept of key account management to a global level global account management is presented After describing the essentials of strategy key account management and strategic management these elements are merged and the different underlying analytical concepts are presented The main analytical concept is based on Michael E Porter s competitive strategy and the five competitive forces Following the description and the merging of the models the theoretical framework is applied to the practical case of the T Mobile International account at Siemens Mobile Networks The practical case includes the analysis of the business relationship and leads to a final strategy Keywords Global account management Key account management Strategic management Strategy development Geographical distinction
